COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1943. 135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 27. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 30, 1943. No. 33.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 30, 1943.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN C. WALLACE, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father, acknowledging our need of a power that is greater than we possess we turn to Thee, the source of all power, physical and spiritual, and pray Thee to give to us that physical strength and that spiritual courage Thou knowest that we need for to-day. Convince us that we cannot plan wisely or legislate effectively without Thee.

In our world to-day we see the result of planning that left God out. We are paying the bloody penalty. By this terrible experience may we and the whole world learn that no nation can endure whose laws and practice are not based on the divine law of right and justice to all. There can be no compromise with evil, no surrender to cowardly expedience.

And so we pray that every law here enacted may be in accord with God's eternal law of right and justice, that all of us may dwell in peace and security.

For our nation, now being tested in the crucible of war, we pray. May the test purge the nation from all that is wrong and establish it firmly on truth, honor and love.

In the Name that is above every name. Amen.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in connection with three bills which I am about to present to the Chair, I should like to say a word in explanation.

Last week I suggested that the amendment proposed to the Constitution by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, for the purpose of having an annual session of the Legislature, could be avoided. I desire to explain the bills which I now propose, which will avoid, in my opinion, the necessity for that amendment to the Constitution.

In the first place, the thought back of these bills is that the meeting of the Senate and House shall be made more flexible, so that there may be no need for this amendment. Secondly, so that there may be taken care of one of the most important questions that is arising at this time.

Just at the present time we all know that the Governor of this Commonwealth is being asked by the Federal Government to provide a method for handling emergency situations during the war, and we are all reluctant, and justifiably so to giving blanket power of suspending or altering laws to any individual, irrespective of political belief. One of the important reasons why that has to be done is the difficulty of having legislative meetings and the expense in calling the Legislature together.

The purpose of these bills is to avoid that and to afford an opportunity for the Governor to do two things: one is to call a session of the legislature whenever he wants to do so, without unnecessary burdensome expense. The other is to allow the Governor in trying times, in time of economic distress, to make a budget for one year only or for two years, as he sees fit and necessary under the circumstances.

To do that it will be necessary to amend several acts of the Commonwealth. The first one is the act of 1919, which deals with the pay of Senators. This bill will eliminate any compensation for special sessions to members of the House and Senate and will provide a salary payable monthly over a two year period to each Senator and member of the House.

The amount fixed in this bill is, I should say, arbitrary and subject to discussion. In other words, I have fixed an arbitrary amount of $250 per month for each Senator and member of the House. I have eliminated in this bill any compensation for special sessions. I have provided for $125 annually for stamps.

The second bill deals with per diem employes and that is one of the things that has been causing a great deal of trouble in connection with special sessions. I have eliminated all employes except the regular officers, and added a provision that all other officers and employes necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the two branches of the Legislature shall be provided for and their duties and compensation fixed by the Senate and House of Representatives, respectively.

That means, of course, that there will have to be some other acts repealed, but I have left those acts for later discussion, if the proposition which I suggest meets with favorable approval. If it does not, there is no point in burdening the records of this Senate with additional bills.

A third, and important bill, proposes an amendment to the administrative code. At the present time the Governor is obliged under the code to receive information once every two years from the members of various departments and the budget secretary is supposed to make up and prepare figures so that they can be properly approached for the purpose of preparing a budget in the odd numbered years.

This bill provides that the Governor may submit a budget annually, rather than bi-annually. The specific provision is that the budget submitted to the General Assembly in odd-numbered years may, in the discretion of the Governor, cover either the next succeeding biennium or only the next succeeding fiscal year. In case a budget is submitted covering only the next succeeding fiscal year, a second budget covering the remaining year of the biennium shall be submitted to an Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly to be convened during January of the next even-numbered year, for the purpose of considering and acting upon such budget and for any other regularly designated purpose.

Mr. President, I submit these bills without any pride of authorship and merely in the interest of attempting to solve two problems which are very pressing and very important. It seems to me that if this suggestion is adopted, I think we will have no necessity for giving blanket authority to the Governor. The Governor under this bill can call a special session of the legislature and the cost will be minimized, and he can call it at any time after the small period of time necessary for notice provided for in the Constitution.

I should like to say one more word on this subject. The salary provisions may sound as if I am trying to increase the salaries of Senators. I am. I think, first of all, that everybody will admit that Senators have not been receiving proper compensation for the work that they are doing. On the other hand, however, we have had so many Special Sessions in the last four years that there will be very little difference between what we would receive under the terms of this bill and what we have been actually receiving during these past four years.

More important than anything else, in my opinion, is the facility of meetings which this measure provides. In other words, this Senate can convene, it can stay in session three months and can adjourn, to be called back three months later or three days later or a month later; it can stay in session for a given period of time and adjourn and the Governor can call it back in a month again at no extra cost to the Commonwealth, with the per diem employes fixed according to the necessities of each particular session, and with a working force on hand at all times to carry on the business of the Senate.

In addition to that, Mr. President, it may save the cost of a great many committees which are appointed for the purpose of making investigations during the interim between sessions, and Senate committees can remain Senate committees over a period of two years without regard of adjournment of sessions.

I suggest that this matter be treated, as I think it will and can be, as a non-partisan effort to present a solution to the problem and that a group of members on both sides of the House be appointed to give the matter consideration and consult with the Governor, both as to subsequent actions with regard to the Senate itself and, more important, to the present demand for emergency war legislation.

I think this ought to be presented on the basis that it might avoid the necessity of such legislation and therefor I now read in place and present to the Chair the following three bills.

Mr. SHAPIRO read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 454, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. KEPHART read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 457, entitled:

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 459, entitled:

An Act to amend sections seven hundred sixteen and seven hundred twenty-three, and to add clause (r) to section seven hundred thirty-one of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," making it unlawful to import into this Commonwealth any wild hare or rabbit, or to possess, release or sell any such hare or rabbit, and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

RESOLUTION

CONDEMNATION OF INHUMAN OUTRAGES

Messrs. McGINNIS and FARRELL offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 30, 1943.

Whereas, This Commonwealth was founded by William Penn in a spirit of freedom for all to worship God according to their own conscience and this is an inalienable right of people everywhere, and

Whereas, The people of Pennsylvania, in common with their fellow-Americans and all civilized humanity, view with horror the brutalities inflicted by their captors upon civilian populations of Nazi-occupied countries, and

Whereas, In complete abrogation of international law and all recognized standards of honorable conduct of warfare a policy of murder of innocent and unarmed men, women and children, and

Whereas, Millions of Greeks, Poles, Czechs, Norwegians, and other nationals have been slain and more than 2,000,000 persons have been exterminated for no other reason than that they are of the Jewish faith, now; therefore be it

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I voted for the two prior deficiency appropriation bills and I propose to vote for this one, but I would like to make one comment about deficiency appropriations, and I very carefully waited until we voted on the two proceeding deficiency bills on the Calendar, so that anything I might say would not be construed as being partisan remarks.

They tell me that from the day Abraham Lincoln bowed his head there on the wall until the present time there have been deficiency appropriations in every session of the Legislature, and there would be from now until time ceaseth to run—perhaps that is a part of government, that we must have deficiency appropriations.

I, personally, in my short term of office here in the Senate, have never become reconciled to the fact that deficiency appropriations are "must" legislation, that we must have them, and I think that it is either bad judgment on the part of the Legislature that appropriates the money, or else that it is bad judgment on the part of the departmental official who makes up the budget, or bad judgment on the part of the executive who perhaps, in his executive wisdom, cuts the budget after it has passed the Legislature.

Occasionally there may be a time when a department official or the Legislature or even the Governor can not anticipate some unforeseen incident which would arise and which would materially affect the budget of a particular department or the budgets, perhaps, of all the departments on Capitol Hill.

There may be a sudden increase in the cost of doing business during a period of government that will produce deficiency appropriations, but there have been an intermittent number of these bills appearing time after time before the Legislature and I think it is time that the Legislature took the position that they would say to department officials that these budgets must be handled on a businesslike basis, and when a department official is given "x" dollars to run his department, he is duty bound as a public official to run it on that amount of money and not feel that he can just blatantly spend as much as he pleases and then come back two years later and ask for a deficiency appropriation, without paying any attention to the money given to him, without having any interest in trying to keep his budget within the money appropriated by the various Legislatures of the various sessions, because they always know that come the cold gray dawn of January, in the odd numbered years, they can come back in here and upset the Governor's budget by asking for deficiency appropriations.

I think the Legislature ought to point out to departmental heads that just because these deficiency appropriations are passed at this time by unanimous vote, that does not mean that the members of this Senate are unanimously in favor of deficiency appropriations, but that we are going to demand that there be a stop to the slipshod methods of departments in doing things like that, and that, in the future, any department head who comes in here and asks for a deficiency appropriation is certainly going to have to justify his cause and prove the worthiness of his claim.

It is true that these three items now on the Calendar have been very carefully scrutinized by the Committee on Appropriations in the Senate and the justifiableness of the claims made passed upon by the members of that Committee, but I think the fact that approval is granted on these three items should not be taken by the various departments on the Hill as a wide open invitation to spend whatsoever they please in running their departments and then expect the Legislative Session of 1945, upon returning, to give them whatever amount they are in deficit.

Expenditures of various items are supposed to be controlled, they are supposed to be spent according to the appropriations, they are supposed to be spent in strict accordance with the appropriation, and when there is a variance there is a violation of the Appropriation Act, but it is always covered up by a deficiency bill, and I think that those who are in power in this Senate and those who are in power in this State government should very carefully warn various departmental heads that the time for such situations as this has stopped, that no longer will we just willy-nilly give them whatever they desire under the guise of a deficiency appropriation, because I am serving notice personally on departmental heads this is the last one of these deficiency appropriation bills I propose to vote for.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. REYNOLDS. RESOLUTION No. 46.

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1943.

Whereas, a state and national emergency exists in the production of food products due to the unprecedented war demands, and

Whereas, it is the patriotic duty of every citizen to give of his time and effort to produce essential vegetables from garden plots located near his home and to which no transportation facilities are required, and

Whereas, in many areas of the Commonwealth, and especially in the urban communities, large acreage is not conveniently available for such purpose, and

Whereas, in such urban communities there are many vacant lots or plots of unimproved land adjacent or near to improved residential property, and

Whereas, in many cases the municipalities are receiving no income in taxes from these vacant lots which cannot be improved due to building restrictions made necessary by the war, it is therefore

Resolved, That such vacant lots located within the Commonwealth, for which no useful purpose is intended, or against which no legal proceedings are impending, be made available for the public interest and cultivation of edible products through sequestration by the various municipalities under authority of the Commonwealth, effective upon the passage of this Resolution and continuing in effect for the duration of the war and for one planting season thereafter, and it is further

Resolved, That the execution of such sequestration shall be vested in the chief executive officer and council or board of township commissioners of any municipality in the Commonwealth, and which after the passage of a resolution conforming to this Resolution; and after a five day notice shall have been mailed to the property owner and as a result of which said property owner has not responded; shall issue a permit to any responsible citizen upon his agreement in writing to cultivate such lot or lots; however, said citizen shall forfeit his right if cultivation is delayed beyond the proper time of planting for one season. Finally it is

Resolved, That due to the urgent need, this Resolution be adopted without delay in order that the benefits of its provisions may be secured for the planting season of the year 1943.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 592 takes me back to my childhood when I worked in the coal mines at the age of eleven for thirty cents a day. Is it the intention of this Assembly to go back to those days after the efforts that have been put forth by all the humanitarian associations and organizations, church people, labor organizations, fraternal organizations, to protect the children and to keep the children in school until such time as they have an adequate education, an education that will give them the opportunity to realize their responsibilities as citizens of our country? At this late time do we want to send these children back to any place we may desire, especially those who do not like to pay high wages? Not only from a humanitarian standpoint but some of us fellows of this House here are gray haired and are pretty old and we do not get around so good when we are crossing the streets. At the last session I was just about run over down in front of the Penn-Harris Hotel by a young boy sitting in back of the wheel. I get around pretty good but I am sure that we all want to be in as much safety as possible. So I just take you back to Harrisburg and what is going on in Harrisburg now.

The newspapers of Harrisburg during the early part of March provided a grim preview of the dangers that will follow the reduction of the age limit for motor vehicle operators.

I would like the members to listen to this. You might get hit in the pants.

On March 5, 1943, Charles E. Bair, age 17, while operating the truck of Shenk and Tittle sporting goods store of Harrisburg, collided with an automobile causing his own death and injury to a school teacher who was the driver of the passenger automobile, as well as injuring several other innocent pedestrians who were walking near by. A companion of the driver, who was also a young man aged 18, was seriously injured.

On March 13 another youthful driver, age 17, operating a milk truck for the East End Dairy in Harrisburg caused the death of a 16-year old lad when he drove the truck over the curb and into a vacant lot in the up-town Harrisburg residential section.

A study of the daily newspapers reveals that this condition is being repeated throughout the state and that there is a marked increase of serious and fatal accidents resulting from the operation of truck equipment by youthful drivers.

I have here in my hand a copy of a Harrisburg paper that you could check up yourselves on the two accidents concerning which I have read to you. If anybody is interested in this bill and wants to make sure that he is not injured, the general population, he should go to a police station and get the percentage of automobile accidents caused by the younger generation, to be compared with the accidents that occurred through the older generation, who realize more fully their responsibilities.

I am sure we do not want to enact any kind of legislation that is going to cause the telephone to ring in the house some day and say, "Come down here and pick your wife up, or pick your daughter up or pick your young son up." I believe the statistics show that some forty thousand people were killed last year by automobiles. Safety agencies are trying to tear that down, and it is the responsibility of all of us to help that agency. Here is the Pennsylvania Legislature in session about to enact a law which will tear down everything they have done.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Speaker, I am not concerned about any child labor proposition on this bill, but this is very dangerous legislation. You would not think for a moment of putting a locomotive engine in the hands of a boy sixteen or seventeen years old, or a girl, and I think it would be very, very bad legislation to pass this bill, and for the safety of the general public I feel this bill should be defeated.

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, some months ago I was asked by my people back home to present this bill, inasmuch as the government has taken away our boys of the age eighteen and younger into the services, and this bill has been presented in behalf of the small grocery trucks, business trucks, flour and feed, and small delivery trucks. They asked me to introduce this bill so that in the period we are passing through a small truck could be driven by a boy of the age of sixteen years. The state permits boys of sixteen years old to have a license to drive a pleasure car, and if they are certified to drive a pleasure car then I don't see why they are not fit to drive a small delivery truck. It is a wartime measure.

The Governor in his remarks to the General Assembly said we must lower the age and raise the age to help win this war. As far as being patriotic is concerned, I want to tell the gentleman from Allegheny that I am as patriotic as any man here. I wouldn't have a child drive a truck all the time but as far as I can see this bill is in place and has its right today. I thank you.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I listened very carefully to the remarks of the gentleman, the sponsor of the bill, and as I interpret them what he said was that this is solely an emergency measure. However, upon examining the bill I find that it is not limited to the duration, but it will go on and on after the war is over. For that reason I think his reasons are not proper reasons, and as the bill has been introduced I think it should be defeated.

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman wishes to make an amendment to the bill for the duration, which I am heartily in favor of, it is o. k. with me. I thank you.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Erb, the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ERB. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the sponsor to refer to the bill on page 3, section 621. I desire to have him clarify the amendment as it reads, which is very, very confusing. The amendment states "It shall be unlawful for any person under the age of sixteen to operate a motor vehicle upon a highway as a paid employe or, for any persons under the age of eighteen years but under the age of sixteen years to operate any motor vehicle other than a commercial vehicle of the R and S class upon any highway".

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, if it is agreeable to the gentleman and to the Members of the House, I ask that this bill be passed over for amendment tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest that a motion be made to postpone.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

L. 685) entitled "An act designating certain life insurance companies as limited life insurance companies and further describing the powers thereof" by increasing the amount for which under certain conditions such companies may issue policies in the event of death from natural or accidental causes

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 685) entitled "An act designating certain life insurance companies as limited life insurance companies and further describing the powers thereof" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 Powers All limited life insurance companies are hereby specifically empowered to issue policies agreeing to pay not more than twenty dollars ($20.00) per week in the event of disablement from sickness nor more than double that amount in the event of disability from accident nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) in the event of death from natural or accidental causes notwithstanding any limitation to the contrary established by the act of Assembly pursuant to which such corporation shall have been incorporated or reincorporated or by any other act of Assembly or by the provisions of its charter

Any such company may issue policies agreeing to pay in excess of five hundred dollars ($500.00) but not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) in the event of death from natural and accidental causes provided it has

(a) In the case of stock companies a capital of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) and in addition thereto has accumulated a surplus in the sum of at least twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500.00) or

(b) In the case of mutual companies accumulated a surplus in the sum of at least fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00)

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, last night when House Bill 561, Printer's No. 157, was on second reading calendar, I called upon the sponsor of the bill for the purpose of interrogation. I was not calling upon Mr. Mintess for the purpose of embarrassing him but for purpose of getting for myself information so that I would be able to vote intelligently upon this bill.

In my legislative district there are possibly twenty thousand colored people, and this bill affects the colored people of my district asfaras their present life insurance is concerned, and their future life insurance. In my campaign for election I promised my constituents that if elected I would always look out for them asfaras their life insurance was concerned. This bill provides that certain life insurance companies in this state that are presently limited to writing policies in the amount of five hundred dollars, by an increase in their capitalizatoin from twenty-five thousand dollars to fifty thousand dollars may write policies in the amount of one thousad dollars.

In studying the records of these nine limited life insurance companies in Pennsylvania, I find that last year in the report of the Insurance Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania one of these companies had a total income of $69,858.12; the total disbursements for the year were $77,687.23 this shows that this company, one of the limited companies, expended last year the sum of $7,872.11 more than they took in. I feel that this is a very important life insurance measure. This is a day of inflation. It is true that the colored people from Pennsylvania who have long suffered on the relief rolls of this State during the depression are now in war industry, they are all making money, and these companies know it and are trying to give them policies in excess of five hundred dollars. Under the law, they are prohibited from doing so until they can get this bill through. By increasing their capital by a mere twenty-five thousand dollars —and no matter how you look at it twenty-five thousand dollars means twenty-five claims they have to pay out—if they should have a conflagration in Philadelphia or any other big city, this increase of capitalization could be wiped out and could even have the effect of putting these companies out of business.

I say to you it doesn't make any difference what your difficulties are, these people must have protection. They are getting along nicely with the five hundred dollars policy at the present time. If we allow these companies to increase their capitalization and take on additional risks, if this war should end, the people could not meet their premiums and there would be one of two things happen. First, it would mean that these people would continue paying the premium and have claims against these companies and find that the compaies could not meet the claims, and the people who have paid their premiums for the duration of the war would simply lapse their policies; they would not be worth anything.

I say to you, Members of the House, this bill is a dangerous bill. Leave well enough alone. Let us keep these companies now approved by the Insurance Department solvent, and able to meet their claims. If we give them this additional privilege it might mean that one of these companies would fail. If one policy holder in Pennsylvania is hurt we should not pass this bill. So, I ask the Members of the House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. MINTESS. Mr. Speaker, the Insurance Commissioner of Pennsylvania has approved this bill. I think he knows more about insurance than I do or any other Member of this House.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of the House to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a continuation of our work in 1939 when the same companies came before us and instead of giving them a one thousand dollar limitation at that time, it was tried for a couple of years, and they put it at five hundred dollars. Only four companies will write one thousand dollar policies. Only four of these companies have gone over the two hundred and fifty dollar mark. Those companies which can write the one thousand dollar policies are well equipped to do it. The bill is agreeable to the Insurance Commissioner, and it gives those who are worthy of one thousand policies a chance to them. Today they must go to outside companies. We should allow these Pennsylvania companies to have the right to issue these one thousand dollar policies. I say to you again, Members of the House, there are only about four companies whose capital stock is almost large enough to write these policies. There will be no danger, and it is only giving the colored people who are deserving of getting the one thousand dollar policies a chance to get them from Pennsylvania companies. I ask the Members to vote aye on this bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am somewhat confused on this bill. The bill turns out to be some kind of a bill for colored people. I thought it was an insurance bill.

I would like to hear from some one who can answer the question as to why statements have been made that this bill is to assure the colored people of getting one thousand dollars worth of insurance, and why they cannot get it now.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, these limited life insurance companies have made a specialty of taking negro risks, they are equipped to handle them and they have handled them for a great number of years. They know their risks and they know how to handle their business. The large companies, I understand, do not write negro risks, for some reason or other. We cannot force them to do so, but these companies have specialized in handling these negro risks and they are capable of handling them rightly and justly to the colored people.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to get that information, I did not know it. That is just the reason, we should vote against this bill. I don't believe any class of people ought to be given any particular privilege to get insurance in any particular company. If this is designed so that your large companies can continue their practice of excluding the colored people, then I think that is a reason why this bill ought to be defeated, and I hope the House will vote "no" on the bill.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 250, as follows:

An Act to amend paragraph (a) of section one of the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 160) entitled "An act creating a commission to be known as the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission defining in part the powers and duties of such commission abolishing The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania terminating the terms of the members thereof and transferring to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the records employes property and equipment of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to appear in and complete all pending proceedings legal or otherwise instituted before by or against The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing that all certificates of public convenience contracts orders and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania" by providing that members of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission upon the expiration of their terms may not hold over until their respective successors are duly appointed and qualified

Section 1 Paragraph (a) of section one of the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 160) entitled "An act creating a commission to be known as the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission defining in part the powers and duties of such commission abolishing The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania terminating the terms of the members thereof and transferring to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the records employes property and equipment of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to appear in and complete all pending proceedings legal or otherwise instituted before by or against The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing that all certificates of public convenience contracts orders and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 (a) A commission to be known as the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission is hereby created The commission shall consist of five members who shall be appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate The commissioners first appointed under this act shall continue in office for terms of two four six eight and ten years respectively from the effective date of this act [and until their respective successors shall be duly appointed and shall be qualified] but their successors shall each be appointed for a term of ten years No commissioner upon the expiration of his term as aforesaid shall continue to hold office until his successor shall be duly appointed or shall be qualified Each commissioner at the time of his appointment and qualification shall be a resident of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and shall have been a qualified elector therein for a period of at least one year next preceding his appointment and shall also be not less than thirty years of age

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, in as much as the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Rose, yesterday evidenced some interest and considerable knowledge of Senate Bill 250, the bill affecting the Public Utility Commissioners, I ask leave to interrogate the gentleman in connection with this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman whether in his opinion under this bill members of the Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania are public officers within the meaning of Article III, Section 13 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I do not have a copy of the Constitution in front of me. I will inquire in return of the gentleman if that is the section controlling or governing gubernatorial powers?

Mr. BENTLEY. No. I shall read the section to the gentleman. Article III, Section 13 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides as follows:

> No law shall extend the time of any public officer or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. No, Mr. Speaker, I do not believe a member of the Public Utility Commission is a public officer within the meaning of that provision.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would next ask the gentleman whether in his opinion under Senate Bill 250, the terms of the act will apply prospectively to future members of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, or do they affect the present incumbents of the Public Utility Commission?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the proposed amendment applies only to the original members of the Commission. The term until their successors are appointed and qualified does not apply in my opinion to anyone but original members.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman if in his opinion Senate Bill 250 abolishes the office of a member or members of the Commission or effects a reorganization of the Public Utility Commission.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would further ask the gentleman if in his opinion it is the purpose of Article III, Section 13, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which I have just read and which I will repeat, "No law shall extend the term of any public officer or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment"—if it is the purpose of that section of the Constitution to eliminate political or partisan questions as to such officers after such appointment or election?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the answer to that in my opinion is, yes.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I might tell the gentleman from Cambria that is the opinion of the Supreme Court. By this short interrogation I believe we have laid the foundation for a view by the House of a very important matter in connection with the constitutionality of Senate Bill 250, the Public Utility Commission bill now before the House. The gentleman has answered a number of questions, all of which have been prepared after examination of the decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. As the House will recall, the gentleman said at first that in his opinion members of the Public Utility Commission were not public officers within the meaning of Article III, Section 13 of the Constitution, the basic law of the Commonwealth which provides that no officer shall have his term of office increased or his salary or emoluments diminished after his appointment or election.

I am quite positive in pointing out to the House that the gentleman's answer was not in accordance with the law in that respect. "Public officers" is a well defined term in the law. The Supreme Court has passed upon the question many, many times as to what constitutes public officers. They have held that a Clerk of the Orphans Court is a public officer within the meaning of Article III. That is the case in Selzer vs. Fertig. They have held in the case of Commonwealth vs. Clarke that members of the Civil Service Commission, a city Civil Service Commission, if the Speaker please, are public officers. They have repeated time and time again on far inferior officers than a member of the Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania, that such officers are public officers within the constitutional meaning of the words. I think I can safely say to the House that the answer to the first question must be that members of the Public Utility Commission, perhaps the most important administrative body in this Commonwealth, dealing with untold wealth, with untold sums of money involved in rates and other utility matters, are certainly public officers within the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

I will repeat then, Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of the House once again, Article III, Section 13 of the Constitution, because it is a most important section. It provides: "No law passed by this Legislature shall extend the term of any public officer or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment."

Now, what is the situation in the present case? In 1937 when the present Utility Commission was appointed, a number of appointments were made under the terms of the act, a number of members were created. They were to serve for various terms, five of them—one of them was given a two-year term, one of them was given a four-year term, another a six-year term, another an eight-year term, and another a ten-year period. The present incumbent whose term expires on April 1 was appointed for the period of six years. He was appointed under the provisions of the act by the Governor by and with the consent of two-thirds of the Senate. He thereupon became a public officer, and that cannot be questioned, the esteemed gentleman from Cambria to the contrary notwithstanding. He was appointed for a term of office of six years, and under the act then in force, for six years and until a successor is appointed and duly qualified.

Another part of that clause is the important section now before the House for its consideration. There are no Pennsylvania cases defining what constitutes "term of office" for a member of a commission or anybody appointed for a period of years and until a successor is appointed and qualified. The precise situation, however, Mr. Speaker, has arisen in the state of Missouri. The Supreme Court of Missouri has passed upon it, and with the indulgence of the House I propose to quote to the House some part of the decision in the Missouri case. It arose in the matter of State ex rel Stevenson versus Smith, reported in Volume 87 of the Missouri reports, page 158. In that case, Mr. Speaker, an Assessor of Taxes, certainly a far less important position, one in which it might be questioned whether he was a public officer of the standard or type of a member of the Public Utility Commission in this state—in that case, an official was appointed for a period of years and until his successor was qualified and appointed. The state constitution of Missouri has a clause strikingly similar to Article III, Section 13 of our Constitution. It provides that the compensation or fees of no state, county or municipal officer shall be increased or decreased during his term of office. He was dismissed at the end of his fixed term, and he brought an action for the fees due him for the period between the end of his fixed term and the end of his complete term, which was until such time as his successor was qualified and appointed.

Mr. Speaker, that situation squarely presents the matter now before us, and in addition listen to what the Supreme Court of Missouri had to say in that situation. I am quoting from the language of Mr. Justice Black:

> When an officer, especially a public officer thus holds his office for a defined period and until his successor is appointed and qualified, a failure to appoint a successor at the end of the defined period does not work a vacancy. The incumbent holds until a successor is elected or appointed and qualified, and it is then and not until then that his term expires. For his acts during his time he thus holds over without any new appointment, he and his sureties are liable under his official bond, given at the date of his qualification. It is true that the law by which the relator was appointed fixed the term of his office at four years and contemplates that at the expiration of his term a new appointment will be made, but the same law also contemplates that the appointing power may not be properly exercised, and to prevent a vacancy the incumbent is made to hold over until such appointment is made. The term lasts for the period of the specified term and for the time which he held over.

That establishes beyond a doubt that the term of office of the present incumbents of the Public Utility Commission is the fixed term which they are given and in addition the remainder of that term, the period between that time and until such time as his successor is appointed and qualified.

Now, what is the effect then of Article III, Section 13 upon a public officer, who finds that his term of office is to be cut short by legislative action—and that is precisely what Senate Bill 250 is doing today. Our Supreme Court has ruled on that very matter. They have held in several instances that this Legislature has no power to so violate the Constitution, the fundamental basic law of this Commonwealth, and it is upon that ground that I point out to this House that Senate Bill 250 is unconstitutional.

In the case of Commonwealth ex rel Kelly vs. Clark reported at 327 Pa., page 181, Mr. Justice Drew wrote the opinion of the court. In that case a Civil Service Commission for the City of Philadelphia had been abolished by an act of the Legislature. New appointees were placed in the offices, and the question of the right to that office was tested by a writ of quo warranto. Mr. Justice Drew, after discussing the case at some length and deciding that the appointees had no right to that office under another section of the Constitution, Article III, Section 4, decided that they had no right to that office under Article III, Section 13, the section which I have read to the House. This is his language and it is decisive in the matter. Mr. Justice Drew said: "These acts," and he was referring to acts of the Legislature, "are also violative of Article III, Section 13, and here again the abolition of an office is not prohibited," and let me say at this time that that ties in with one of the questions that I asked the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Rose. I asked him if Senate Bill 250 abolished or effected a complete reorganization of the Public Utility Commission, and you will recall his answer was "No, it did not," and in that I agree with him. The bill on its face shows that it does not attempt to abolish any office or effect any reorganization of the Public Utility Commission.

Continuing from the report: "Here again, if the abolition of the office is not prohibited, clearly forbidden, however, is the diminution of an incument's salary or emoluments during the time that the office continues. This Constitutional provision applies as well to statutory offices as to constitutional offices."

I think, Mr. Speaker, that Mr. Rose and I are in entire agreement that the Pubic Utility Commissioners are statutory officers. Citing Commonwealth vs. Moffatt 232 Pa., and Commonwealth vs Moore 266 Pa.

Continuing from the learned Chief Justice's opinion: "Since the effect of the act" and he is referring to an act of the Legislature, "would be to deprive the former commissioners of all compensation for the balance of the terms for which they were appointed, without abolishing the office, the constitutional restraint is a complete bar."

That, Mr. Speaker, is a complete answer to the question of whether or not Senate Bill 250 is constitutional. It must be obvious to any Member of this House that a public officers' term is being cut short, that his term of office is diminished, the office is not abolished. There would have been a way to do it under Article III, Section 13, but that was not done. His term of office was diminished, and by so diminishing it the salary and emoluments of the incumbent were also diminished, and that is in direct violation of the constitution.

I might also quote, Mr. Speaker, from another case decided by our Supreme Court, and that is the case of Suerman vs Hadley, reported in 327 Pa. p. 190. In that case an act of this Legislature abolished the office of a Real Estate Assessor in the city of Philadelphia. Again the validity of the act was questioned, there were several of them, on constitutional grounds, and the matter came before the Supreme Court. The opinion in this case was written by the then Mr. Chief Justice Kephart. This is what he had to say as to the methods by which incumbents in office may be removed before their term of office is up, and thus diminishing the salary and emoluments. Mr. Chief Justice Kephart said:

> "The cases relating to the removal of appointed officers other than as provided by Article VI, section 4," and by so excluding Article VI, Section 4, he could have meant only in reference to Article III, Section 13, "Those cases fall under several general heads. First, where the legislature in its act of creation attaches to an office a condition of tenure or the right of removal."

Now what was the condition of tenure which was attached to the office of a member of the Pubic Utility Commission when it was created? That is found in the Public Utility Act, if you please. It was there provided that a member of the Public Utility Commission the Public Utility Code provided that a member should hold office during his good behavior. That is the only condition attached to the office other than the limitation of time, of course. It was provided, Mr. Speaker, that if he were to be dismissed—

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for just one single question to save some time?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny yield for one question?

Mr. BENTLEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has referred to the language of Chief Justice Kephart, referring to the removal from office under Section VI, Article 4, which he says could only have meant Article III, Section 13. I just want to call the attention of the gentleman to the fact that Article VI, Section 4 deals only with impeachment. That is not what Mr. Justice Kephart meant. I think it would save time, Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Allegheny would bear that in mind.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the gentleman from Cambria has not saved any time. As a matter of fact Article VI, Section 4, contains some of these provisions. In answer to the gentleman from Cambria, I will read Article VI, Section 4:

> "All officers shall hold their office on the condition that they behave themselves well while in office, and shall be removed upon conviction of misbehavior in office or any infamous crime."

I don't know whether the gentleman stopped there and did not read any further. I assume that referred to impeachment. The section with which the Chief Justice was dealing in his opinion follows immediately after, and I will read it:

> "Appointed officers other than judges of the courts of record and the Superintendent of Public Instruction may be removed at the pleasure of the power by which they shall have been appointed."

Now, Mr. Speaker, that is the section to which the Chief Justice was referring, and which he specifically excepted in the language which I was reading at the time the gentleman, I know with the best of intentions, interrupted me.

I will continue, Mr. Speaker.

> "Cases relating to the removing of appointed officers other than as provided by Article VI, Section 4, fall under several general heads. First, when the Legislature in its act of creation attaches to that office a condition of tenure or the right of removal."

As I pointed out, that is not applicable to the present case. The only condition there was good behavior while in office, and the act, the Public Utility Code setting up the office specifically provided a means whereby a member of the Public Utility Commission could be removed if he did not well behave himself. That section is still in the act. It provides that the Governor may, with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate, bring charges and a public hearing held.

Continuing reading from the opinion of Mr. Chief Justice Kephart,

> "Second, where the Legislature sets up a new, comprehensive system of operation of one of its agencies, or a Department of such agencies, differing materially from the system and abolishing the office existing under the old system."

Mr. Rose and I are in agreement that the Senate bill does not contemplate and does not admit of that.

Mr. Speaker, continuing with the opinion:

> "Where in any such reorganization or change any part of the old legislation is retained in the new, unless changes created by the new system are of such nature and substance in part as to uphold the intent of eliminating existing officers, the old appointees will continue in office in obedience to the Constitutional amendment."

I realize that the members of the House are somewhat restless with a legal debate of this sort, but after all we are here making laws, and if we can not make Constitutional laws we should make none at all. I think it has been demonstrated that the present bill under the decision of the Supreme Court, under the Constitution of the state, is a direct violation of our basic, fundamental law, and for that reason, Mr. Speaker, I ask the members of the House to remember their oath to obey the Constitution, given on the first day here, and vote down a piece of legislation which is so clearly unconstitutional.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the remarks of the gentlman, I would like first of all to ask him one question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BENTLEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Allegheny give me a citation of even one case where it has been held that a Public Utility Commissioner is a public officer.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I said during the course of my remarks that it has been held on many occasions that a far lesser officer than a Public Utility Commissioner was held to be a public officer. I think I can put my hands almost immediately on a great number of cases in which it has been held that, as I say, far lesser officials than Public Utility Commissioners are public officers, and I think that perhaps one of my colleagues who has the books before him can pick them out, and I shall be glad to state them for the information of the House. In direct answer to the gentleman's question, I don't believe there are any decisions by the Supreme Court in which it has been directly held that members of the Public Utility Commission are public officers but, as I say, from the implication of previous decisions, I do not believe it can be questioned, that they most certainly are.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. I thank the gentleman.

I think, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has the correct answer, that there is no opinion holding that a member of the Public Utility Commission is a public officer within the meaning of the Constitutional provision which he has quoted. The gentleman has gone further in his answer and indicated the theory on which he is basing his contention, namely that lesser officers than the Public Utility Commissioners have been held to be public officers. With that statement I hold no question at all. Certainly they have, but the degree of the importance of the office is not the test to determine whether an official is a public officer within the meaning of the Constitution. The test question which the Supreme Court has applied in the several instances is that the nature of the office must determine, and they have held in the case of Commonwealth vs. Benn, 234 Pa., page 421, that the appointment to the Public Utility Commission is not a constitutional appointment. They have held directly that it is a legislative function, and therefore a legislative office. They have held it is not administrative, they have held it is not judicial but that it is peculiarly legislative, and is completely within the province of the legislature. They have stated that the appointive power of the legislature must be followed. They have said in these cases, and I also cite the case of Commonwealth vs. Stewart, 286 Pa., page 511. They have held that the spirit of the legislation in the removal must be obeyed, and they have declared that this is an exception to the rule against delegation of legislative authority. Therefore, under the decisions, I think, Mr. Speaker, that these Public Service Commissioners have the same status as any other legislative body which we might make, and usually we make them from our own ranks. That is the answer to the gentleman completely, I think, Mr. Speaker. He has based his entire argument on the fact that he is a constitutional officer, and the Supreme Court has expressly held that he is not. Therefore, I may point out to the gentleman that we could not only do away with the Governor's appointive power, we could do away with the Senate's approval and consent provision, we could in fact, if we cared to, provide that this delegation of legislative function be handled by a majority of both the House and Senate or by a majority of either the House or Senate, and we have merely for convenience designated one method. Since we have that power we can exercise that appointive power any way we see fit. I say the argument of the gentleman does not apply and the bill is most certainly not unconstitutional and I, therefore, ask the Members of the House to support this bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to go over the points involved in the discussion, as I see the House is restless. Maybe when we get to questions that involve constitutional law we get restless.

I would like to say to my good friend, Mr. Rose, that we do not have to guess as to whether the Public Utility Commissioners are public officers. We simply need to read the case of Commonwealth vs. Moffatt, reported in 238 Pa., 255, which says: "Public officers within this section,"—and that is the section of the Constitution—"is one chosen for a definite tenure as provided by law, whose duties are for the benefit of the public for a stipulated consideration."

Now, if Public Utility Commissioners do not have duties for the benefit of the public what kind of officers are they? There seems to me to be enough law to convince us all that they are public officers.

I believe that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bentley, was showing to us, and I think he did it very clearly, that once a public officer is created, whether he be created by legislative power or by constitutional power, unless the body that creates that power retains within itself the provision to take that power away, the term of office of this officer then is clothed with the Constitutional protection of Article III, Section 13, and other than the abolishment of the office or the removal of the office he cannot have his term decreased by having his salary or emoluments diminished.

I think that is the whole test in this case, and may I say to the gentleman that the Benn case does not decide this case, because the Benn case simply says this, that where the Commonwealth, the Legislature, gave to the Governor the agency of appointing and retained for itself the power of confirmation, it could use that power and not the Governor.

In other words, I think the interpretation of the Benn case by the Chief Justice of our Supreme Court is perhaps a better interpretation than any of us can make. The Chief Justice in the case cited by Mr. Bentley says this:

> "The Benn case held, as the General Assembly was the appointive power of the Public Service Commission, it could delegate a share of this power to another office, reserving the removal power to itself."

This is not a removal power as would be contemplated under Article VI, Section 4 of the Constitution. This is a diminution of term in office, which is wholly separate and apart from the question of removal. Therefore, I say that this is a serious question; it is a question that we should not treat lightly, because Article III,, Section 13 was placed in our Constitution for a very definite purpose, and we are faced today with that purpose, and the question is shall we treat it lightly or shall we consider it further.

I said it was not my intention to go over the argument of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bentley. I think the House is indebted to him, even if the bill passes, for his very fine research into this very complicated and delicate constitutional field. I simply arose so that I might try to enlighten my very good friend, because I know he takes it in the spirit in which I give it, that we are dealing with a question which is of special concern to all the people of the Commonwealth. For that reason, we should not come to the point in our thinking, and we should not utilize our constitutional power in order to see that one position taken by either party that concerns one individual is either sustained or rejected. We should use our constitutional power only when we are satisfied that it is for the best interests of all the people of the Commonwealth.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, I would reply first that a general statement of such a case is not to control and be the last source of information, when the Supreme Court has in a definite case dealing with Public Utility Commissioners declared that it is the exception to the rule. He and I may have different opinions on that question. I recognize his right to vote in the negative, and of course expect in return the recognition of my right to vote in the affirmative.

In the closing sentence of his remarks he hit on the actual test for us to decide here today, and that is whether or not we are acting for the best interests of the people. Mr. Speaker, I say that I am convinced in this bill we are acting for the best interests of the people, and for that reason I am supporting the bill. If there were any large doubts in my mind as to the constitutionality of this question, I would be the first to vote "no", but I am clearly satisfied that it is constitutional and that we are acting in the best interests of the people, and therefore I expect to vote in the affirmative.

I say lastly that if the Supreme Court does not go along with me; they can attach no stigma to my efforts because I have acted in good faith and I am now acting in good faith in supporting this bill. I, therefore, ask the support of the membership for the bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, let us get down to the meat of this situation. Let us call a spade a spade. I have listened very attentively to the discussion on the constitutionality of this particular bill, and I know a lot of you men over on the other side and a lot of men on this side just don't know very much about the constitutionality of these things. For that reason I would like to interrogate the Majority Whip.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Rose, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he remembers in the Governor's address to the House of Representatives a statement to the effect that there would be no politics and no "must" legislation during this session?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. No politics and no what?

Mr. LOVETT. No "must" legislation.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Yes, I recall that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. That is all.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleading in the interest possibly of the Governor of the state of Pennsylvania when I get up to make this speech opposing this bill. I feel when the Governor made that statement in his speech to the House of Representatives that he was sincere. I took him as being sincere in his statement. I feel that if you men in this House pass this piece of legislation you are going to place on the Governor's desk a piece of legislation concerning which I can now read his veto message to you, if he really and truly meant what he said when he addressed the House of Representatives.

His veto message would probably read: "I am sorry, gentlemen, but I must veto this bill due to the fact that I in my address to the Members of the House said that I did not want any politics during this session of the Legislature. Therefore, this piece of legislation is purely and simply political, and I, therefore, veto this bill."

I know that you gentlemen over there do not want to put your Governor on the spot. Let us be fair and frank in this thing—this bill is purely political. I say to you that if you pick up the appointments you will find in most all cases the man who is appointed serves until his successor is appointed.

In this particular case you are setting that aside, and for no other reason than that you want to give the Governor the right to appoint after this session has adjourned someone to take this man's position for the duration between the sessions of the Legislature. We just went through four years of where Mr. Adams served without appointment all during the administration of Mr. James. I don't think you men want to have the same situation thrown back in your faces, and I am a little afraid that the Governor may forget his speech in the opening session and maybe go so far as to appoint the man whose name he recalled from the Committee. So, gentlemen, in all fairness I ask you to defeat this bill and protect the interests of the people and protect the interests of democracy.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, it is still early—it is only five minutes to four, and I think we can still go on until midnight.

Last night I was amused during the interrogation when the Majority Whip, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Rose, in referring to some of the questions and arguments stated that he had heard the same arguments over in the Senate and referred to the fact that when you reread a book it loses its interest. May I say to you, gentlemen, and to that gentleman also, that quite frequently when a book is reread you will find things in it which you didn't find the first time, and it will not only prove interesting but educational and enlightening. May I suggest to the gentleman that he read such books as the Bible, which we all know has been read and reread numerous times and which has always proved interesting, enlightening and educational.

A few moments ago we heard the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, pose the question, if a member of the Public Utility Commission is not a public officer what else can he be? Now, if I were voting for the bill, my answer to him would be, he can only be a utility representative on the Public Utility Commission.

Let us be fair about it, and, as Mr. Lovett of Westmoreland said, let us call a spade a spade. This bill in the Senate was introduced by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor, and the record shows, and it is admitted by the Senator from Dauphin that this is an anti-Beamish bill. It is aimed solely and directly at one commissioner whose term of office expires April 1, 1943. It is purely political. Finally we see here on the floor of this House a bill supported by the Republican party which does not have draped around it the American flag, and we can speak openly and frankly and admit that this is purely political.

Why the necessity for this bill? Mr. Beamish's term of office expires April 1st and let me say at this point that I am not taking sides either for or against Mr. Beamish. I do not know him personally, and I do not think in all my experience here that I have ever said two words to the gentleman. I doubt even whether I could recognize him personally if it were not for the fact that he wears a certain type of monocle with a ribbon attached to it. If he didn't have that on I wouldn't know the gentleman, so that nobody could accuse me of taking the side of Mr. Beamish.

I am only talking upon the merits and the necessity for this type of legislation. The Governor submitted to the Senate the name of Dr. Parker. Dr. Parker could not stand up in the eye of public scrutiny. That name was withdrawn. That was done over two weeks ago. The Governor has had ample time and opportunity to present the name of another candidate. He has not done so. Why? The only answer to that question is that the Republican organization has no man honest enough and efficient enough to submit to the eye of public scrutiny, and I say to you gentlemen sitting on the other side of this House, if I were a member of your party, if I sat on the other side of the House, I certainly would not be a party to this type of legislation. I say to you that it is a sad commentary on the political history of the Republican party in Pennsylvania when it cannot submit a proper officer to the Public Utility Commission, any person who can stand up to public scrutiny, any person who is fit and proper to hold such office.

The purpose of this bill obviously is to get around such public scrutiny so that the Governor can appoint a man at the expiration of the term of Mr. Beamish, and after this Legislature goes home, to an office of high importance to the people of Pennsylvania, and without the approval of the Senate and without the aid and benefit of public scrutiny. I say to you, gentlemen, if this bill passes and becomes legislation those who vote for the bill should feel ashamed.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Skale.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SKALE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETHERICK. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, vote on the Earle ripper bill in 1937?

Mr. SKALE. With the majority, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the years and nays were taken and were as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce for the information of the Republican members that there will be a caucus immediately after today's session.

RESOLUTION

THANKS EXTENDED

Mr. JAMES offered a privileged resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 30, 1943.

The shades of night had fallen last Tuesday night ere the first of the loyal sons of Saint Patrick found their way into the banquet hall of the Penn-Harris Hotel to take part in the Biennial Dinner of Legislative Irishmen.

The morning mists were languidly rising from the lazy Susquehanna and the milkman had begun his morning deliveries ere the last of them had departed.

It was a great party. Irish and near-Irish and non-Irish were there to celebrate the achievements of the patron Saint of the Emerald Isle and the champion snake charmer of all time.

The spirits of those departed real-Irishmen who founded the Order were hovering ghost-like in the clouds of smoke above the table tops, and they too enjoyed the show.

The descendant of a departed Irish poet who has but lately returned from foreign battlefields stilled the Irish with his stirring tales of real fighting. It was an unexpected part of the program but was timely, and thoroughly enjoyed.

The committee in charge of the arrangements labored long and well and deserve special commendation; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Irish Members of the General Assembly and their guests and associates hereby extend to the committee and to the Honorable Harry P. O'Neill its chairman, Honorable Louis H. Farrel, its vice-chairman, and to the treasurer, the Chief Clerk of this House, William E. Habbyshaw, and to Scribe John M. Cummings, the committee's executive director, its full and sincere thanks for, and appreciation of, the splendid entertainment planned and furnished, and to the secretary of the committee, Thomas J. Griffin, the General Assembly extends its special brand of Irish thanks, for it is said by all Irishmen that to him is due most of the credit for the success of the party. It was a night to be remembered when the session is adjourned and we return to the ordinary things of life; and be it further

Resolved, That the names of all those who made up the committee are hereby placed in nomination for reappointment in 1945.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, if I heard correctly the concluding paragraph of the resolution just adopted, it made mention of the fact that all the present members of the House who are Members of the Committee should be reappointed on the Committee in 1945. I was just wondering whether the sponsor of the resolution took up the constitutional question as to the successors in office qualifying or not qualifying, when he wrote the resolution.

Mr. JAMES. I think we did consider the constitutional question, Mr. Speaker. I am still unaware whether the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, was interrogating me or not and I hesitated to arise and take this microphone without the formality of "Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?"

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. JAMES. Don't bother; don't bother.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I was wondering whether the gentleman was not going to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, we did look into the question of the constitutionality of that provision of the resolution before we included it. We found it entirely unconstitutional and following the usual procedure of this House we included it.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D.D., offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, Thou hast honored us by calling us Thy sons. May we honor Thee by lives consecrated to Thy service. We are debtors to Thee beyond our ability to pay. We have sinned and done evil in Thy sight. Thou hast shown us the way—the only way—that sin can be forgiven and evil overcome and the debt cancelled. Help us as a nation and as individuals to take that way.

Our professions are valueless in Thy sight unless they are backed up by good intentions and honest performance. Give us pure hearts and we shall see God.

We should thank Thee for every opportunity that comes to us to do good. The genuineness of our thanks will be revealed by the way we meet these opportunities.

By being faithful to the best interest of the State the members of this Body will be accepting the opportunities Thou art giving them. We pray that clear thinking and courageous doing may be theirs, to the end that only good come to all, and thus God be glorified.

In the name of Him Who proclaimed Himself the Servant of all. Amen.

HOUSE MESSAGE

APPRECIATION EXTENDED TO OFFICERS AT MIDDLETOWN AIR DEPOT

He also presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1943.

Whereas, The Committees on Aeronautics of the Senate and of the House of Representatives, on the invitation of Colonel Lundberg, the Commanding Officer of the United States Army Air Depot at Middletown, were given the opportunity to see and experience at first hand the up-to-the-minute equipment and facilities of that great air supply station, and to gain valuable information on the problems and methods of aviation; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly hereby express its appreciation of cooperation of the Commanding Officer, the officers and personnel of the Middletown Air Depot with this body in dealing with the problems of a most vital field of legislation; and to thank Colonel Lundberg, Captain Kulze and Lieutenant King for their hospitality in entertaining the committees of the two houses, and their helpfulness in acting as guides and commentators on the tour of inspection; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to Colonel Lundberg, Captain Kulze and Lieutenant King.

W. STUART HELM
BRUNO KOWALSKI

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

EXTENDING APPRECIATION AND THANKS TO COMMITTEE ON THE BIENNIAL DINNER OF LEGISLATIVE IRISHMEN.

He also presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Rules.

In the House of Representatives, March 30, 1943.

The shades of night had fallen last Tuesday night ere the first of the loyal sons of Saint Patrick found their way into the Banquet hall of the Penn Harris Hotel to take part in the Biennial Dinner of Legislative Irishmen.

The morning mists were languidly rising from the lazy Susquehanna and the milkman had begun his morning deliveries ere the last of them had departed.

It was a great party. Irish and near-Irish and non-Irish were there to celebrate the achievements of the patron Saint of the Emerald Isle and the champion snake charmer of all time.

The spirits of those departed real-Irishmen who founded the Order were hovering ghost-like in the clouds of smoke above the table tops, and they too enjoyed the show.

The descendant of a departed Irish poet who has but lately returned from foreign battlefields stilled the Irish with his stirring tales of real fighting. It was an unexpected part of the program but was timely, and thoroughly enjoyed.

The committee in charge of the arrangements labored long and well and deserve special commendation; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Irish Members of the General Assembly and their guests and associates hereby extend to the committee and to the Honorable Harry P. O'Neill its chairman, Honorable Louis H. Farrell, its vice-chairman, and to the treasurer, the Chief Clerk of this House, William E. Habbyshaw, and to Scribe John M. Cummings, the committee's executive director, its full and sincere thanks for, and appreciation of, the splendid entertainment planned and furnished, and to the secretary of the committee, Thomas J. Griffin, the General Assembly extends its special brand of Irish thanks, for it is said by all Irishmen that to him is due most of the credit for the success of the party. It was a night to be remembered when the session is adjourned and we return to the ordinary things of life; and be it further

Resolved, That the names of all those who made up the committee are hereby placed in nomination for re-appointment in 1945.

(Signed) BENJAMIN F. JAMES.

FURLOUGH NECESSARY SKILLED FARM WORKERS TO PENNSYLVANIA FARMS

He also presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

In the House of Representatives, March 16, 1943.

Whereas, Food is of major importance to the prosecution of the war on the battle front and the home front; and

Whereas, Food is essential for our Allies and our occupied territories; and

Whereas, The production of food for 1943 is gravely impaired by shortage of manpower, lack of availability of farm machinery repair parts and insufficient apportionment of fuel to the agencies from which the farmers are accustomed to procure it; and

Whereas, New machinery supplies for 1944 will greatly affect the extent to which farmers will use up their machinery this year; and

Whereas, Decreased farm production, combined with necessary shipments to our Allies and to the inhabitants of our occupied territories and with greatly increased consumption by our armored forces, will lead to domestic food shortage approaching serious proportions that may easily affect our war production centers; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania is America's ninth largest agricultural state, being first in the value of its poultry products, and fourth in dairy products, potatoes, apples and peaches; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania's farm manpower shortage is especially aggravated by the extent and State-wide distribution of its war production industries which draw from farm areas in all sections of the State; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania's producing farms which supply the cities and the military forces are all mechanized; and

Whereas, The great majority of these mechanized farms are dependent upon young, highly skilled workers who have grown up with the mechanization of the farms during the past 20 years and a large number of whom are now in military service; and

Whereas, It would require years of training to replace these young men without whom it is absolutely impossible for Pennsylvania's mechanized farms to maintain their previous production, not to speak of increasing that production; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully requests Governor Edward Martin to appeal to the President of the United States as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy, to furlough immediately to Pennsylvania farms, the necessary critical skilled farm workers to maintain previous production, and if possible increase it; and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor request the President of the United States to use his authority as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy to demand that the necessary farm machinery repair parts shall be made available immediately in necessary quantities to the farmers of the State through their accustomed dealers, and that fuel for farm machinery shall be authorized and made available at once in sufficient quantities to farmers through the agencies from which they are accustomed to procure it, without the use of involved forms; and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor shall be asked to request the President of the United States to use his authority to demand that sufficient steel shall be allocated in proper time to farm machinery manufacturers to produce the necessary machinery to replace that which will be worn out by all-out use of present machinery during 1943.

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 528

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 528, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the sixteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-one (Appropriation Acts, page 13), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one," providing for a deficiency in the appropriation made by said act to the Department of the Auditor General for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred forty-three.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Charles H. Ealy) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 527, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to aid certain school districts.

House Bill No. 528, entitled:

House Bill No. 529, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the sixteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one (Appropriation Acts page thirteen) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending

May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and forty-one" providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-three.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Charles H. Ealy) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Report in connection with the introduction of a proposed bill to amend the Municipal Authorities Act of 1935, as amended:

In the Senate, March 31, 1943.

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, on February 16, 1943, there was introduced in the Senate a resolution bearing serial number 23 (Legislative Journal, page 357), by Senator Dent, calling for the appointment of a committee of six (six members of the Senate) to be created for the purpose of interrogation and investigation of the actions of certain municipal authorities created under an Act of 1935 of this General Assembly, and its amendments, to determine whether or not the said actions have been taken in the public interest and for the welfare of rate payers of these communities and citizens of the Commonwealth, and whether this act has been used for personal and private gain to the detriment of public interest, and that this Committee make a report to the General Assembly as to whether this act should be amended or repealed.

This resolution was reported as committed by the Committee on Public Utilities March 9, 1943, and adopted March 10, 1943, and the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. G. Harold Watkins; the Senator from Lycoming, Mr. John G. Snowden; the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Paul M. Crider, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. John Fremont Cox; the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. John H. Dent; and myself, the Senator from Lancaster and Lebanon Counties, were appointed by the President Pro Tempore to function as such Committee, and this Committee subsequently designated me to act as chairman.

The Committee proceeded promptly to perform the duties for which it was appointed and, after preliminary meetings and consideration of the statements made on the floor of the Senate by the Senator sponsoring the resolution, fixed Thursday, March 25, 1943, at 9:30 a.m., as the time for its first meeting and the Senate Caucus Room as the place.

All of the municipal authorities heretofore created in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, were requested to appear at this hearing, either in the person of their own officers or by counsel, as well as the county commissioners of Westmoreland County. All of the parties requested to attend the hearing, not otherwise unavoidably detained, voluntarily appeared and made appropriate and detailed statements covering the activities of the authorities which they represented and the municipalities interested in the negotiations with and operations of these authorities.

It was very definitely pointed out to all parties present that the invitation to these parties to be present was by no means to be construed as an antecedent conclusion of any impropriety or irregularity in the operation of the authorities invited but merely for the purpose of obtaining requisite information on the part of the Committee as an initial step in the interrogation and investigation delegated to the Committee to carry out.

Statements of the county commissioners of Westmoreland County, the authorities of Westmoreland County, and others were heard and stenographically reported over the period from 9:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., with the exception of the period from 12:30 p.m. to two o'clock p.m., during which time the Committee recessed for an executive session. Since then the Committee has had additional executive sessions, and this statement is intended to be a preliminary report and recommendation of the Committee in accordance with the purpose and intent of the resolution creating it.

Your Committee feels that it is unable to draw any unbiased conclusions and recommendations for the amendment or repeal of the Act of 1935 and its amendments from the statements it has thus far heard. Others interested in municipal authorities in Westmoreland County and in municipal authorities in the State of Pennsylvania generally have requested to be heard and your Committee feels that it would be manifestly unfair to report any final conclusions and recommendations to the Senate creating it without affording all parties having an interest and apprising to the Committee of their right to be heard on the subject, the opportunity of so appearing for such purpose.

Your Committee feels that to conduct this interrogation and investigation with the thoroughness and fairness indicated by the importance of the matters involved an additional period of time is necessary, and this period will extend considerably beyond the contemplated term of the current session of the General Assembly.

Your Committee, however, senses that the primary purpose motivating the adoption of the resolution creating it is so that recommendations could be made to this General Assembly in sufficient time before its adjournment to render needed legislation possible.

To this end your Committee is prepared now to say that the information already obtained is sufficient to warrant certain recommendations which can now be made and carried out in the interest of the rate payers and citizens of the communities in which municipal authorities operate, and therefore makes this, its preliminary or ad interim recommendation, with the suggestion that the same receive prompt and favorable action on the part of the General Assembly now in session, viz:

1. That this Committee be continued for such term and time as may be necessary in order to adequately carry out the full and final purpose for which it was created and to enable it to hear all parties in interest on the subject who may claim the privilege and obtain the permission of the Committee to be heard.

2. That a reasonable appropriation be provided in order that the Committee may carry out the purpose for which it was created, without being prevented from functioning most efficiently for lack of the necessary means of doing so.

3. That an Act of Assembly be introduced and passed by this General Assembly for submission to the Governor of Pennsylvania, temporary in character until this Committee shall have made its final report and recommendations, effective say until the thirtieth day of May, 1945, providing for such amendments to the present Act of 1935 as the Committee is now satisfied should receive consideration, pending such final report and recommendation, viz:

(a) That no authority shall acquire any property during the pendency of these temporary amendments without requisite approval of the Public Utility Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; particularly in respect to the valuation and worth of the property to be acquired and the price proposed to be paid; and

(b) That the securities of any authority shall be sold only at public sale to the highest responsible bidder after public notice by advertisement.

In conclusion, your Committee wishes to be thoroughly understood as being unanimously of the opinion that municipal authorities as created by the General Assembly have a very definite place in the life and progress of the communities and municipalities in which they operate. These operations should not be so restricted by Act of Assembly as to render municipal authorities impotent or to restrict them from operating and prospering in the normal manner intended by the Legislature creating these artificial forms of civic administration of utilities. They should be helped and not hindered. One of the way in which this help can be made available to them by legislation is to regulate these municipal authorities in such a way, not burdensome, as to relieve them from the tinge of inference and suspicion from which they have heretofore suffered and to assist them in operating in such a manner as to bring them above these inferences and suspicions and to render their securities of the triple A character and rating to which they are justly entitled if operated and operated and financed in accordance with the spirit and intention of the Act of Assembly under which they were created.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARENCE D. BECKER
JOHN H. DENT
JOHN G. SNOWDEN
G. HAROLD WATKINS
PAUL M. CRIDER
JOHN FREMONT COX

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. HENRY I. WILSON. I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Delaware tell me for what reason this bill concerning abatements is being sent back to committee?

Mr. HEYBURN. It is being sent back to committee for further study, Mr. President. I cannot say just what that further study will produce.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, we are having amendments prepared for this bill. There have been some objections raised by some members of the Senate, where you would cut this down to three instead of five. I do not think we should make an abatement act a party issue. I know that in 1941 we had an abatement act and quite a number of gentlemen in this room were against it and we voted on that measure not as a party measure but each voted as an individual, and I think this abatement act should be treated in the same manner.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, this strictly is not a party measure and if the gentleman from Allegheny has in mind any amendments I suggest that he present them to the committee which will be in charge of this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this a very serious bill and if we do not do something about it this week you are going to find that county treasurers are going to advertise the sale of a lot of properties that might be picked up by persons in a position to take advantage of this act. You are going to add costs on to those who can not pay their taxes, through the extra cost of alvertising for sale properties of people who are delinquent in their taxes. Many delinquent taxpayers are waiting for this piece of legislation to pass. Many county treasurers are waiting for action on this bill.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, if there was ever a bill on this floor that should not be kicked around, this is one. Most of the counties, thousands of taxpayers and county treasurers want to know this week whether this bill is going to be passed or killed. It is uncertain, what is going to be done with it, when it is kicked around as it has been. If this bill is to be amended, it can be amended on this floor and I think we ought to be fair to our county treasurers and taxpayers and let them know this week definitely whether this bill is going to be passed or killed.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred.)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be verified.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. DENMAN and LOVETT.

RESOLUTION No. 47.

In the House of Representatives, March 30, 1943.

Twelve per cent of the weight of a fish can be turned into juice and that juice is sufficient to sustain human life for weeks.

This fact is the reason for the equipment of life boats and life rafts with fishing tackle to be used by our service men who find themselves adrift upon the ocean.

After thousands of men had lost their lives at sea as a result of thirst, it remained for Pennsylvania's ex-Governor Gifford Pinchot to tell the army, the navy and the merchant marine about fish and fishing tackle.

Again our former Governor has come forward in an emergency and this time his contribution may result in the saving of many lives; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby extends to the Honorable Gifford Pinchot its most sincere congratulations upon the part he has taken in the present emergency toward saving the lives of not only our men in service, but the lives of countless number of persons who may hereafter be cast adrift upon the ocean without food or drink; and be it further

Resolved, That as evidence of our recognition of his great service to mankind, the Chief Clerk of this House is directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Honorable Gifford Pinchot.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. DALRYMPLE.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 48.

In the House of Representatives, March 30, 1943.

The launching on December 5, 1943, of the "U. S. S. Michigan," later remained, and acquiring fame as the "Wolverine," marked the birth of the modern ironclad ship of war.

After an eventful career during which it trained hundreds of reserves for the United States Navy, many of whom served as officers and sailors in the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and World War I, the "Wolverine" was placed on exhibition at Erie, where, its condition becomnig dangerous, it was closed to visitors in 1938, and has been allowed to sink into the mud of Misery Bay.

There is still three thousand dollars worth of iron in the ship, which was hauled by oxen one hundred years ago from Pittsburgh to Erie. It is a most fitting tribute to the ancient vessel and its traditions of service that it should at last itself go forth into battle in the new form of modern implements of war; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania memorialize the President and Congress of the United States to permit the salvaging of the metal that once was the proud ship "Wolverine" and which now is rusting away in the waters of Lake Erie, and converting it into much needed scrap for the manufacture of munitions and implements of war; and

Resolved, That copies of this resolution, certified by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the presiding officers of the two houses of Congress, and to each Senator and Congressman from this Commonwealth.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

By Messrs. COOPER and McCLESTER.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 49.

In the House of Representatives, March 30, 1943.

Whereas, Since the beginning of our Commonwealth, Pennsylvania has kept, preserved and protected the Sabbath as a day of rest and worship, and its General Assembly enacted laws for the same nearly 150 years ago; and

Whereas, It is the earnest and fervent desire of this House to thank our Maker for the spiritual and temporal blessings which have for so many years been bestowed upon our Commonwealth and our Nation; and

Whereas, It is our hope and prayer during this great crisis to invoke divine favor upon all our people and forces at home and abroad so that we may make those costly sacrifices necessary to win this war and secure a righteous peace; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of this Commonwealth commends to the people of Pennsylvania as a factor for victory and an enduring peace, to turn once again to their churches and synagogues, Houses of God, to their Bibles and Torahs, Books of God, and to their observance of the Sabbath, God's Day, as a day of worship for each man according to the dictates of his own conscience, and a day of rest, except in cases of necessity, charity, or mercy; and be it further

Resolved, That His Excellency, the Governor of this Commonwealth issue a proclamation to be read in all places of worship, commending to all citizens and people of Pennsylvania the observance of the Sabbath.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MODELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MODELL. I desire to know from the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether I am correct in understanding the bill to have as its purpose only the substitution of the word "State" for "Motor" with reference to the Commonwealth police?

Mr. HARE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MODELL. I desire further to know from the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether there are on the calendar eleven other bills which do the same thing—introduced by the same gentleman.

Mr. HARE. A slight correction, Mr. Speaker, nine bills—no, eleven bills. The gentleman is right.

Mr. MODELL. And am I correct, Mr. Speaker, in further understanding that these bills were necessitated by the introduction and passage of House Bill 170 now enacted into law?

Mr. HARE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MODELL. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as I will not be in the House tomorrow when these bills come up for third reading I desire to make a statement at this time with regard to this particular bill. Some weeks ago House Bill 170 came before this House and had as its only purpose a change of name for the Commonwealth police. There seemed to be at that time no real reason for the change other than perhaps it would be more euphonious or perhaps, as stated by the sponsor, more correct in definition.

Over the objection of the Members on this side of the House that bill passed through this House and through the Senate and was signed by the Governor and enacted into law. At that time it may be recalled we requested the sponsor to inform us how much the passage of this bill would mean in dollars and cents to the state. We received no satisfactory answer, but we did warn the Members of the other side of the House that they would run into certain necessary expenses incidental to the bill, and that more expenses might be incurred later, but still the bill went through. This ill-advised step by the Members on the other side of the House has now come back to haunt them in the passage, or the necessity for the passage of these eleven new bills and possibly others at some future time—only time will tell. These bills run from two to fourteen pages in length and are a definite additional expense on the people of this Commonwealth.

It is no excuse, Mr. Speaker, to say that in 1937 when this House was dominated by the Democratic party they did the same thing. In my humble opinion at that time they had more cause to change the name, but there, even if I am wrong and if the party was wrong in 1937, certainly there was no reason for the mistake to be made again by this present administration. They had an opportunity at that time to realize the expenses involved.

This side of the House has no alternative but to go along on these bills, and we will go along on them because the laws established on the books of this state must be corrected, but we wish to say to you, Mr. Speaker, and to the Members on the other side of the House and to the public at large, and for the record that we definitely oppose the type of legislation of House Bill 170; that we protest the introduction of such bills, and we say that such additional useless and needless costs saddled upon the government should not have happened in the first place. We trust, although we are going along on these bills, that this same boner will not be pulled again by the present administration.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I listened with a great deal of interest to the remarks of the gentleman from the other side, and having had occasion last evening to read the Legislative Journal of 1937 on this particular phase, I might say that the gentleman's remarks are almost identical with the remarks of the Republicans in 1937 on this same measure.

I went to the Attorney General. I am sorry that the House had to have eleven bills on the calendar, but they found rather as the gentleman said, the erroneous precedent set by the Democratic party in 1937, which forced us to introduce eleven separate bills. We on this side of the House are just as much interested in economy as the gentlemen on the other side, and I apologize to the House for the fact that we had to have eleven bills but it has been, as the gentleman has said, due to the wrong that was done in 1937.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I am not going to take up very much time in what I have to say regarding this bill, but after listening to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Modell, and the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare, I believe that what they had to say bears out the old adage, two wrongs do not make one right.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his question of information.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, is House Bill 816, reported from the Committee, now on file?

The SPEAKER. House Bill 816, Printer's No. 174.

Mr. O'CONNOR. We are dealing now with the Printer's No. 174, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. That is right. The bill was reported from Committee as committed.

Mr. PAUL L. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I doubt whether it is necessary to indulge in any prolonged discussion of these amendments, but I do feel since a lot of amendments are in the air, it might be well to say that these amendments are clarifying; they are the result of the study and the judgment of the Committee on Education and of the sub-committees that constructed this bill, and of the sponsors of House Bill 816. The Education committee and the sponsors ask that the particular amendments which I have offered be adopted by the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

The amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, were read as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 3, 4 and 5, by striking out the following: "who are paid in the lower" in line 3, all of line 4, and the words "families a decent standard of living" in line 5, and inserting in lieu thereof: "to maintain the highest standard of war time working efficiency and to guarantee the public schools' maximum contribution to victory in this war for national survival."

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 7 and 8, by striking out the words "the following amounts during" and inserting in lieu thereof: "six hundred dollars ($600.00) for."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 2 to 29, by striking out the following: "To" in line 2, and all of lines 3 to 29, both inclusive.

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, lines 1 to 29, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 1, page 4, lines 1 to 5, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof: "and the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for the period following the first Monday of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-four and ending on the first Monday of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-five."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LEVY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CORDIER. I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether or not I am correct in my interpretation of these amendments, that they provide for a $600 increase for each teacher for the school years of 1943 and 1944, a $500 increase for each teacher in the Commonwealth for the years 1944 and 1945?

Mr. LEVY. That is substantially correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CORDIER. I desire to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether or not he is in possession of the information as to the number of teachers in the Commonwealth.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman concerning the number of teachers in the Commonwealth, I would say that I am well acquainted with the number.

Mr. CORDIER. Will the gentleman state the number for the information of the House.

Mr. LEVY. The number of teachers in the state of Pennsylvania, Mr. Speaker, is sixty-one thousand two hundred seventy.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in my interpretation of the gentleman's amendment, that this will mean an $1100 increase for each teacher in the Commonwealth over the period between the school years of 1943-1944 and 1944-1945?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Lackawanna, I would say this is an $1100 increase for two entire school periods and four school years.

Mr. CORDIER. Will the gentleman state to the House. Mr. Speaker, the approximate cost of this increase?

Mr. LEVY. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that this bill would cost approximately sixty-five million dollars.

Mr. CORDIER. That is close enough, Mr. Speaker, but my figures say sixty-eight million two hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. LEVY. All right, it is a question of difference, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CORDIER. I desire to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether or not he is in possession of the total amount of appropriations that the state gave for school appropriations for the school years 1941 and 1943.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman kindly repeat his question.

Mr. CORDIER. I desire to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, as to the total amount of the school appropriation given by the Commonwealth for the year 1941 and the year 1943.

Mr. LEVY. If I recall correctly, Mr. Speaker, I believe there is approximately a total of one hundred million dollars.

Mr. CORDIER. That is approximate, Mr. Speaker, according to the budget figures it was $71,223,000. I desire to ask the gentleman from what source he expects to get the sixty-eight million dollars?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Lackawanna, I am ready and willing to disclose the basis and source from which I would recommend to the Governor in his budget, which has already been compiled and prepared, how he would raise the necessary sixty-five or sixty-eight million dollars, but I would ask the gentleman if he is through with his questioning to yield on my answer until I debate my own amendments. It will be at that time, Mr. Speaker, that I will divulge exactly where the Commonwealth has the money now, and how they can spend this kind of money for the teachers of the Commonwealth.

Mr. CORDIER. I desire to ask the gentleman whether or not he will not answer now whether or not these funds shall come within the budget of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Lackawanna I would say that I am prepared to give him the source from which this money will come without the raising of additional taxes and without the placing of additional burdens on the people of the Commonwealth.

Mr. CORDIER. I thank the gentleman.

House Bill 816 was an honest attempt on the part of those of us in the House who were interested in the question of public education and increases in salaries for teachers of the Commonwealth in keeping not only the pledges made by both parties, but in keeping within reasonable bounds, and taking into consideration the needs of the teachers, the budgetary requirements of this administration and the ability of the Commonwealth to pay these increases without any new taxation.

We have put in many many weeks, those of us who are interested in this question, studying this matter and we have brought on the floor of this House now in amended form what we believe to be the bill that should be passed by this session of the legislature to insure these increases without the necessity of any new taxes. With all due deference to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I believe that his amendments will occasion new taxation in this Commonwealth to meet the requirements of his amendment. Accordingly, Mr. Speaker, I ask the House to vote down the gentleman's amendments.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I regret very much that the gentleman from Lackawanna continued his remarks after the questioning, because I am afraid the gentleman from Lackawanna placed himself in the same position as the Republican membership of the Committee on Education, when on consideration of amendments to House Bill 816, they waved their hands, indicating that this was all that could be expended, that this was all the Governor would decide to spend and this was the final policy promulgated by the Republican Steering Committee. Mr. Speaker, I say again I regret—

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Somerset will state his question of information.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, as a very young Member of the House, I was always under the impression that what went on in Committee was Committee work, and the gentleman seems to be discussing Committee action on the floor of the House.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the Members of the House the Chair will read Rule 90:

> "A member shall not relate in debate what was done or said in committee except such as is contained in the written report or is authorized by the committee."

The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I only want to say to the gentleman from Somerset that when I make references to the Committee on Education I am abiding by the rule of the House. I do not intend to disclose the debate in committee on House Bill 816, but I certainly can inform the membership of the House that the same policy that pervaded the Committee in its deliberations is being expressed by the gentleman from Lackawanna when he says to the membership of the House "These amendments are offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia and I ask the House to vote them down."

I only ask the indulgence of the Members of the House to give us an opportunity to really study these amendments. I know in the usual procedure in the House amendments are read by the Clerk, rapidly of course, and haven't been given time to be digested by the Members, but in my humble opinion, Mr. Speaker, I feel that House Bill 816 is of such great importance to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in this present national emergency that I would that they indulge me while I read the amendments, considering each in its turn.

As I said before the gentleman from Lackawanna I regret, has asked the Republican membership of the House to turn down these amendments without due consideration. If the gentleman from Lackawanna will recall on Monday night when he asked that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of certain amendments I asked him, and later asked the Chairman of the Committee whether they would give all persons the opportunity to offer amendments in the Committee.

I say to you this afternoon that the opportunity was offered, and my only objection to the offer and to the acceptance was that it was offered in the same manner that the amendments on the floor are offered this afternoon. I know the gentleman from Lackawanna agrees with me personally and I know the gentleman from Lackawanna stands for each and every amendment that I have offered personally, but I know also that there are certain ties of political partisanship, and I wish that the gentleman from Lackawanna would refrain from his political partisanship and give me sufficient time to bring before the House the merits of my amendments.

In the first place, before attacking the adequacy of House Bill 816 for the benefit of the teachers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, permit me to say that I am in direct disagreement with the original introduction of the bill, especially in line two on page one to line five on page one, where the sponsors have said this is an increased cost of living during the present emergency to enable the lower bracket school teachers to come within that subsistence cost of living. I have offered the following amendment in the hope that the membership of the House would see in it the full import of the war emergency, and I have asked this afternoon that they duly consider in the place of what the sponsors have put in the bill in the first part of the session the following words:

> "An increase to be given to maintain the highest standard of war time working efficiency and to guarantee the public schools maximum contribution to victory in this war for national survival."

The language is very clear. Is the Republican party in Pennsylvania going to say to the teachers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania what they said to them in October 1942 when each and every Republican Member of this House ran for election, when the present Governor was a candidate for election, and when he said and when they said in their Republican platform: "To compensate for the rising cost of living in war time we favor increased teachers' salaries in order to maintain high efficiency in the public schools of Pennsylvania."

I charge this afternoon, Mr. Speaker, that the sponsors of this bill did not carry out their party pledge. They did not say in this bill anything about maintaining the high efficiency in the public schools in wartime. They only speak of the standards and costs of living to the lower bracket school teachers. I say to you that I am conferring that opportunity on the Members of the majority this afternoon when I ask them to include in House Bill 816 the proper wording to conform with their campaign pledge of 1942.

The gentleman from Lackawanna in opposing the amendments offered made reference to the high cost of living. I say to the gentleman and to the Republican Members of the House that the schools of Pennsylvania in war times cannot and must not be compromised. To maintain the high efficiency of the schools of Pennsylvania while the young men of the United States are dying, to uphold the teachings in the schools of Pennsylvania, I say to you no cost is too big, but, Mr. Speaker, the gentlemen of the majority want to remind themselves of one thing, House Bill 816 is not a creation of the Governor's budget. The Governor of Pennsylvania said in his budget only two months ago to this Assembly: "I have no money for the school teachers of Pennsylvania." I say to you gentlemen that the creation of House Bill 816 has only come about because pressure was brought by the school teachers of Pennsylvania, by the electorate of Pennsylvania on the Committee on Education, and it was only then that the Committee on Education was heard by the Governor, and he decided, "Yes, we must give something to the school teachers."

My argument is that "something" is not enough. If the Education Committee tomorrow were the Committee on Expenditures in the National House of Representatives, and if one machine gun would cost a thousand dollars more and would display more efficiency to bring this terrible war to an end one hour sooner, these same men would probably vote that thousand dollars more.

It is my purpose this afternoon, to have the men on the majority side of the House realize that the making of an efficient machine gun is not any more important—important though it is, than maintaining the efficiency of the education of the soldiers of tomorrow. I say to the Republican Membership of the House, they should include in this bill the words "to maintain the war time efficiency in the schools of Pennsyvania." That is what they said in 1942. I say to them that is what they should repeat in 1943 after they were elected.

Now, Mr. Speaker, concerning the adequacy of the bill, let me point out to the membership of the House that House Bill 816 is only "something". It is not sufficient; and there is not a Republican Member of this House who dare rise to his feet and say that this bill is adequate. The leaders of the Republican party in the House admit that the bill is not adequate, but they say the Governor did not include it in his budget and they say if the Governor decides to put something in the budget that is the limit he will go for.

I wonder if the Republican majority in Pennsylvania is willing to place upon the Governor the responsibility of giving an adequate contribution to the school of Pennsylvania. I, wonder! My amendments relate to the adequacy of the bill, gentleman, and provide that the bill should not be a hollow shell. I say that House Bill 816 is a mockery; that House Bill 816 is a fraud on the people of Pennsylvania. What do they say in the bill? They say "we are giving you a war time emergency cost of living raise; we are giving you a cost of living raise over a period of two years; you are to get $600, $500, $400 and $300." Until when? Until when, gentlemen? Until the month of June, 1944. If the present emergency still exists in June, 1944 and the teachers of Pennsylvania are still forced to face the high cost of living in Pennsylvania where can they go? To the Assembly; to the Legislature of Pennsylvania? Where is the Legislature of Pennsylvania going to be in June, 1944? They are going to be out of session. Oh, I know the gentlemen on the other side don't want to listen to that. I know the gentlemen on the other side want to keep this bill down away from the light, but I say to you, Members of the House, after June, 1944 House Bill 816 puts the teacher where he or she was at the beginning of the present session of the Legislature. I challenge any member of the Republican party to disprove that statement.

Now, what do I say? I say we should include an amendment to provide for June, 1944 to June, 1945, sufficient time to enable the next Legislature in its wisdom to fix the present cost of living at that time. Now, what is so absurd about that? The gentleman from Lackawanna says "That's all right, I guess, but where are you going to get the money?" I will tell you where you are going to get the money. I will tell the Republican party of Pennsylvania you cannot serve the corporations of Pennsylvania and serve the school teachers. You cannot serve the corporations of Pennsylvania and pit them against the people of Pennsylvania.

Why does not the Governor have enough money for teachers? Because he says "I am going to abolish the bank share stock tax; I am going to abolish another tax." What does it amount to? I want the Republican leadership to listen to this closely; he says in his budget he is going to save the corporations fifty million dollars. Now, gentlemen, I would ask you this afternoon, which is it to be, fifty million dollars for the corporations of America in war time or fifty million dollars to the school teachers of Pennsylvania in order to save democracy?

The fight for democracy, gentlemen, is just as important at home as is the fight for democracy on the other side of the Atlantic. I say to you gentlemen for that reason alone House Bill 816 is not the proper legislation for the Republican party and their promise to the schools of Pennsylvania. To the gentleman from Lackawanna I would say, Your fight is in the front office. Say to the Governor of Pennsylvania, "Let us stop here; we have enough money for the school teachers of Pennsylvania if we do not abolish the tax on corporations."

I say to you gentlemen, if the tax to be abolished by the present administration were for the poor people of Pennsylvania then I would say there might be some doubt as to whether or not increased school aid could be had, but, gentlemen, even if the tax were upon the backs of the poor and even if the Governor would do as he said and go to the people and ask the people, I am sure the people of Pennsylvania would answer unmistakably that they would rather be taxed than to have their schools disappear from Pennsylvania.

But, gentlemen, we are faced with no alternative; this tax is upon the backs of corporations, people today who are making billions of dollars in Pennsylvania, and we are going to say to them "We are going to relieve you from the payment of taxes in order to steal from the school children of Pennsylvania their proper institutions."

The amendments I have to offer are only surrounded by one issue, are we to give the school districts of Pennsylvania what the Republican party promised in its campaign pledge or are we again to give them a legislative doublecross. The tax question and the reduction of taxes on corporations is intermingled with the school children of Pennsylvania and I say to the sponsors of this bill, send this bill back to committee. Go in and see the man in the front office who made the pledge and ask him if he is going to do as he says. Then come back to the House with a real bill, a bill giving the teachers of Pennsylvania something more to look forward to than starvation, worry and a great deal of aggravation. I thank you.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I want to congratulate the gentleman from Philadelphia. Before we went into session today, in discussing what possibly might happen on the floor, the gentleman said it would take him about fifteen minutes to complete his debate. I congratulate him, he was only two minutes over it.

I think the gentleman from Philadelphia has rendered one of the greatest disservices to the teachers of Pennsylvania that possibly could be rendered on the floor of this House, and that is by the injection of petty partisan politics into this measure. This measure was not conceived in politics; its movement through the House was not conceived in politics; it is here for consideration in its present form by every Member of this House regardless of his party affiliation.

I have had thousands of communications from all over the state, and I have had no complaints as to the inadequacy of House Bill 816 except in one particular, and that is in the brackets between fifteen hundred dollars and twenty-five hundred dollars, and that question will be decided by this House later this afternoon.

As to the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia which says "to maintain the highest standard of war time working efficiency and to guarantee the public schools maximum contribution to victory in this war for national survival" I think that is an insult to the teaching profession of Pennsylvania. They do not have to be reminded to maintain a high standard of efficiency in the war effort. They are doing it, and they have been doing it in many many ways, and we should not remind them to do it again. As for the teachers of the Commonwealth being satisfied, as I said, I have had many, many communications. I want to read just one communication; it comes from the Brentwood Teachers Association, reading as follows:

> "Brentwood Teachers Association wishes to extend to you our deepest appreciation for your efforts in behalf of the teachers and the schools of Pennsylvania we sincerely hope that your proposed legislation particularly Bill 816 will be enacted into law and that you will continue your strong support for public education in Pennsylvania. Secretary Jean M. Bracken."

Most of these teachers are satisfied to a great degree with the contents of House Bill 816. They believe it is a good bill. They believe it is a sensible bill, taking into consideration the needs of these teachers, taking into consideration the budgetary requirements of this administration, taking into consideration the ability of the Commonwealth to pay without the imposition of any new taxation. The teachers of the Commonwealth need to be congratulated for the manner in which they brought their appeal to this House on this legislation. They have been kind and considerate and have compromised on many things, realizing the problems that many Members of this administration had in getting this bill in shape, and I am quite certain that when this bill passes this Legislature and is signed by the Governor there will be no complaints from the teachers of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer especially one question raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, and that is that I am personally opposed to his amendments.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, a few questions.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LEVY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, in the gentleman's preamble to his main speech he mentioned something about the amount of money his amendments call for. Will the gentleman again state what that amount is?

Mr. LEVY. I said approximately sixty-five million dollars, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Well, that is within two million dollars, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. I should say to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, that even if my amendment would cost eighty million dollars I still know where to get the money without taxation.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I thank the gentleman for the added amount. I didn't think of that myself; he didn't have to answer that part. I would like the gentleman to tell the House again what number of years he included in the sixty-five million dollars, that is, school years?

Mr. LEVY. In my amendments, Mr. Speaker, I made provision that the school teachers throughout the Commonwealth should receive six hundred dollars from the time of the enactment of this bill until June, 1944, and five hundred dollars from June, 1944, until June, 1945, until the next Legislation considers the crisis.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. How many school years, would that be?

Mr. LEVY. That would be, I believe, 1942, 1943, and 1944 up to—

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. That would be three school years?

Mr. LEVY. Or practically up to the middle of the 1945 school year.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. That would be three school years, would it not?

Mr. LEVY. I believe it would.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. If I mistake not, Mr. Speaker, I believe the record shows that the gentleman mentioned that it would be four school years, and I wanted to correct that error, if I am not in error, and show the gentleman that if it is three school years and his amount is 65 million dollars, that would be just about 22 million dollars per year increase in the school budget for the public schools beyond the present amount, which of course is some 80 million dollars this biennium, and approximately 71 million plus,—I think the emergencies run almost 80 million dollars for the public schools.

I believe if you consider that, you will find that the amount of added money in the gentleman's amendment would mean a considerable amount of money which we have had no promise to get.

Mr. Speaker, might I ask the gentleman another question?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman want me to answer the first question—well, go ahead.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman have any opportunity this week to ascertain the contents of the amendments that Mr. Wagner presented just a little while ago?

Mr. LEVY. I certainly did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has exclaimed about the high standards in his amendment and objected to the standard that we set up in this bill. I just wonder who is to judge that this bill will not be at least a reasonable standard? I believe that I will put that in the form of a question for the gentleman to answer.

Mr. LEVY. I would say, Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Blair, that the ultimate judge on whether or not this bill is adequate would be the school teachers of Pennsylvania, and we as their representatives certainly feel the pulse of our constituents, made up of the school teachers back home.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman's last statement I might say that we have had a disagreement on this bill from one section of the state, if I recall, of the thirty-seven or thirty-eight hundred communications I have had, and that that has been limited to one district or the surrounding districts of that main district. Yet out of that same group we have had some very kindly written letters telling us that this bill is appreciated.

Now, Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman another question?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, might I just interrupt the gentleman from Blair in his interrogation to say that if the gentleman from Blair continues to give answers then I am going to answer his questions and answers and I will say to the gentleman from Blair that regarding the communications received from the teachers of Pennsylvania that I have only heard one communication thus far that was read this afternoon in the House and that was the communication from the teachers of Brentwood, I believe. I don't know where Brentwood is located and I further don't know how many teachers are represented in this district of Brentwood. But I say to the gentleman from Blair if he is going to sound out public sentiment that he continue to produce letters of appreciation from all the school teachers of Pennsylvania, and I might add, Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's remarks concerning Brentwood that I do not know whether the teachers of Brentwood received House Bill 816, I don't know whether they know what House Bill 816 is, I don't know whether many teachers of Pennsylvania know what is contained in House Bill 816 until we debate this bill on the floor of the House.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, may I make a statement in reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair please be reminded that he is interrogating the gentleman from Philadelphia, and the Chair requests both gentlemen to confine their remarks to the amendments to Section 1 of this bill.

Does the gentleman wish to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia further?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman one more question.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman have an opportunity to read House Bill 933, the long range equalization school program bill?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I might say that I have hastily referred to House Bill 933, although my legislative duties have not yet come to that point. I have read House Bill 933 as a Member of the Committee on Education.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Cordier.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CORDIER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lackawanna care to debate the proposals that I have made relative to supplying adequate moneys for the school teachers of Pennsylvania?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I think we have debated that, or rather the gentleman has debated it.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Lackawanna desire to debate that phase of the bill?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman may state any position he may have on this or any other phase of the bill. He has the privilege to do so. If I disagree I shall certainly say so.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I want to remind the gentlemen of the House that the gentleman from Lackawanna in his debate has not covered that phase of the bill. I would like to ask the gentleman from Lackawanna, if all the teachers of Pennsylvania have so resoundingly come out in approval of the bill, and if he thinks House Bill 816 is an answer to the Republican platform of 1942, then why have twenty-five percent of the teaching profession of Pennsylvania left the school system of Pennsylvania to date?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 816 is an honest attempt to keep the teachers in the system and to maintain a good standard of education in the Commonwealth, and it is the first honest attempt of its kind in many, many years.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker then I would inquire of the gentleman from Lackawanna whether in his opinion, his honest, sincere opinion, knowing something about the make-up of the school system in the Commonwealth, whether he thinks House Bill 816 without amendment will stop the departure of twenty-five per cent of the school teachers every three months from the schools of Pennsylvania.

Mr. CORDIER. I cannot answer that Mr. Speaker. The gentleman said without amendments, which amendments?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, without amendments offered by myself and other amendments making the bill more practical than is the original bill.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 816 in its amended form presently, and perhaps with one more amendment to be offered, in my opinion will very definitely go very far in keeping the teachers in Pennsylvania in their jobs.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman ready and willing then to debate on behalf of the Republican membership of the House the charge that they cannot give adequate relief to the teachers because they are going to give adequate relief to the corporations of Pennsylvania.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, that is a fraud and a fallacy, and it is a red herring drawn across this particular bill, and perhaps as shall be proven later the gentleman will have convicted himself as a fraud and a fallacy in his debate on this bill. There is actually no necessity for debating that question at this time. If the gentleman wishes to make a statement, as he has already done on this bill, if he has any further remarks to make, any red herrings that he desires to draw across this bill, he may so do. I will sit quiet and listen to him very courteously but if he says something to which I disagree I will be on my feet to answer him.

The SPEAKER. Has the gentleman finished with his interrogation?

Mr. CORDIER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Then, Mr. Speaker, I assume from the last statement the gentleman made that he is in agreement that if corporations were to sacrifice a little tax reduction that is about to be made on behalf of the administration, then there would be sufficient and adequate moneys to take care of the inadequate school teacher system in Pennsylvania.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LEVY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, was the gentleman a Member of this House in 1937?

Mr. LEVY. I was, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HARE. In my conversation with the gentleman from Philadelphia we were in agreement that there was to be no politics injected into this matter, is that right?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Somerset, if we are to debate a bill that is sponsored by the Republican party, as an answer to the campaign pledge, which campaign was strictly politics, and not mention politics, then I don't understand how we can debate it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would again admonish both Members to remember that we are on the question: Will the House agree to the amendment to Section 1?

Mr. HARE. I appreciate that, Mr. Speaker, but I would also like to remind the House that considerable latitude was allowed the gentleman on the other side when he made rather serious accusations against the membership on this side of the House, and I refuse to stand here charged with fraud, when the man on the other side stands convicted by his own words as the biggest and most insistent fraud according to the record made this afternoon, and I will read now from the record of the House Journal of 1937—

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman had better read it.

Mr. HARE. I am going to, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Go ahead, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I hesitate to speak, but the words I must use because of the attack made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy—and I know in my heart that he does not speak for all the membership on the other side, but the charge he made is a most serious one. He says we are guilty of fraud on this side and he charged the Republican party with such.

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Levy cannot rise and point to one page in Pennsylvania's history where the Democratic party as such has ever given the school teachers, when they were in control of all branches of Government in this State, an increase in salary. In 1941 we granted an increase with the majority on their side of the House, and we on this side went along with it whole heartedly. Our Governor found the money to pay the bill, but in 1937, when our three branches of government were practically in control of the now minority group, they passed the Horting Bill, the chain store tax, and the gentleman from Philadelphia has stated that some of our acts have come back to haunt us. Well, that bill has made a pretty sick ghost on the floor of this House, and with the permission of the House I would like to turn to the now yellowing pages of the 1937 Journal, when those two illustrious gentlemen, Mr. Herbert Cohen, the then Majority Floor Leader, and Mr. Turner, the Republican floor leader, was discussing the measure for their respective parties.

Mr. Turner arose to amend the bill offered by the majority side. I am quoting from the Legislative Journal as follows:

> Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.
> The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?
> Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.
> Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to question the gentleman from Delaware as to the effect of his amendment. Would the amendment that the gentleman has offered make the appropriation for the increase of salaries to teachers of the fourth class school district a general fund obligation?
> Mr. TURNER. It would, Mr. Speaker.
> Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would the amendment that the gentleman has offered make that general fund obligation an obligation of the Commonwealth irrespective of whether or not there had been sufficient tax moneys collected for this particular function of the Commonwealth?
> Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that an appropriation can make funds available unless there have been sufficient taxes levied and collected, but I think what you mean to say is, would the general fund be liable for this money that is appropriated to fourth class school districts. That is correct, it would.
> Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would not the contemplated amendment of the gentleman make that an obligation of the general fund irrespective of whether or not we pass additional tax legislation to provide funds necessary for this particular function?
> Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that has been the experience in the past. You have a deficiency appropriation bill or did you have, and it was passed by the House, to provide for $6,900,000 for the public schools for moneys mainly expended under the Edmonds Act.
> Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, well then the amendment would destroy any connection with this appropriation to teachers of the fourth class school districts, any connection of that appropriation with the act to raise those funds, would it not?
> Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. I believe and I think that most of you will agree with me that it is a very dangerous principle to make school appropriations dependent upon some special fund, which may fail. We had one sample of that a few years ago.
> Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the act referred to in section three of House Bill No. 1978 is not passed, or if the act is declared unconstitutional upon final passage, would there not then be a deficit in the general fund to the amount that is appropriated by this act?
> Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that depends to a great extent on the gentleman's interpretation of a deficit. I think that I recall that he and I had some debate not long ago, and under the figures which the Governor has produced there is to be a three million dollar surplus at the end of the biennium. I think that is more than they anticipated to secure under the chain store tax.
> Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman have any further suggestion as to how these moneys could be raised without the particular tax referred to in section three of this bill?
> Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that we are dealing with that problem at all. I think that is begging the issue. Whatever we have determined we have to have, you have already put in bills and I presume will put in others when you find out just how much you need to balance the budget. I might say, if I may, Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from York that since the beginning of this session it has been the opinion of the Republican members of this House, as evidenced by bills which they introduced, that teachers in the fourth class school districts should have a greater amount of pay. I recall very particularly that the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Stewart, at the very beginning of this session, in fact before the session opened, showed me a bill for that purpose. Now, if we believe that the teachers are underpaid, and if the Governor now states that he believes that the teachers in the fourth class school districts should have more money, then I do not believe we ought to tie it in with any particular tax.

Mr. Speaker, I delete a portion of the record here for the purpose of not expending any more money on the printing bill of the State that has already been incurred.

Further down in the record Mr. Turner says:

> "It is all right to stand here on the floor of the House and pass a bill which you think is of doubtful constitutionality, and say to the teachers of Pennsylvania, 'Well, we are all for those poor teachers down in the fourth class school districts, we think they are underpaid, it is a shame to the Commonwealth' and then to say, 'We will give you this bill, but if this act should be declared unconstitutional you will have to go without that increased pay until some later date.' I have never believed that the schools and these appropriations should ever be tied up with any special fund because of the dangers created there where the tax may fail, where reduced taxes may come at a time when the schools have increased their expenditures, expecting that they will receive a normal amount of tax, and thereby the schools and the school teachers in Pennsylvania suffer. I think it is absolutely false economy, I think it is absolutely false budgeting and I think you are only kidding yourselves when you start on that sort of a program. I believe if you pass the > chain store tax, and you think that is a proper tax and it should become a part of the tax raising measures in Pennsylvania, to provide enough money for all of the purposes of Pennsylvania, or if it fails, then we will have to take care of it in some other way, as we have heretofore done and as we are doing during this session for our deficiency appropriations.

> "It seems very strange to me that every time we offer some suggestion from this side of the House that it immediately meets with opposition on the other side of the House. If we today say that we think there should be no appropriation made from those special funds to the schools, then you oppose it. If tomorrow we say there should be an appropriation from a special fund, then you argue it on the other side. I think this is one of the instances where we ought to get down to logical common sense, where there should not be any question as to whether the amendment comes from a Republican or not. The pure question here is, do you believe that the school districts in the fourth class districts ought to have more money? If they ought to have more money then we will have to find enough money to balance the budget."

On the question of the passage of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Delaware, which would have taken the money from the general fund and assured the teachers of Pennsylvania a pay raise which was so facetiously planned, the gentleman from Philadelphia, voted "no" in a clear voice, and thus by his own act pledged himself to unconstitutional legislation and tore from teachers the little red apple that was handed out to them.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia well understands the problem of state administration. We on this side recognize our responsibility, and I want to assure the gentleman from Philadelphia and the gentlemen on the other side that when this act becomes law the money will be found. All the legislation we pledged ourselves to we intend to keep.

Nine weeks have gone into the preparation of this bill. We agree that it is stop-gap legislation. It is not good legislation but it is an emergency act, and we intend to meet the problem fairly and squarely. It is all well and good in the larger cities where they are drawing pay in the three thousand dollar brackets, to speak about how they shall get by at the end of the month in meeting their victory taxes and in meeting any additional worthy taxes that we must face today, but I can easily see that in offering these amendments that would give an increase of eleven hundred dollars in two years to every school teacher in Pennsylvania, a one hundred per cent increase, which is quite an increase to those teachers earning one thousand dollars a year but with reference to the teachers making six or seven thousand dollars a year the gentleman from Philadelphia would pile eleven hundred dollars upon him. The gentleman misinterprets the meaning of the bill. This is a cost of living bill. Down in the rural county where I come from the teachers have often been getting up at four o'clock in the morning and driving twenty-five miles up the mountain to the little red school house. Yes, we still have them in Pennsylvania. She is not only the care taker of the children but she is the custodian and the janitor. She chops wood and carries coal and washes the windows. For years the state of Pennsylvania has utilized the rural districts of the state in the matter of salaries. For years that gray haired old teacher in that one room building has been receiving a paltry eighty-three dollars and fifty cents a month. That is the average salary in those little rural fourth class districts, eighty-three dollars and fifty cents. Those are the districts that I am interested in. The gentleman from Philadelphia has cried out to the people of Pennsylvania! Let us look at the matter as it now stands. Sirloin steak in Philadelphia is under a ceiling price and it is under the same ceiling price for us in the rural sections, and they are required to pay as much for those foods as the highest paid teachers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I have spent ten years of my life in public education. I feel if there is one field in which I am a little trained it may be that field. I do not propose to set myself up as a tax expert or a budget expert, but I learned something a long time ago, in which Mr. Levy a few days ago found some humor. In my younger days my father taught me to cut the suit to fit the cloth. If I cannot afford to buy a one hundred dollar suit as the gentleman from Philadelphia might, then I'll buy a fifty dollar suit, if it is within the range of my material means.

By this bill we hope to give those in Pennsylvania who need it most a cost of living increase. We have attempted to do that honestly, and I resent very much being charged with fraud on the floor of this House. Gentlemen of the House, I ask you to consider carefully our amendments. I have read the amendments of the gentleman from Philadelphia very carefully, I assure him. I feel that they would destroy the purpose of our bill and I ask the membership of the House to vote it down.

I, too, have received many communications. He says he does not know whether the teachers know the contents of the bill or not. I want to assure the Members and to assure him that the teachers of this Commonwealth do know the contents of the bill. They have been following the public press avidly, and last Saturday in Pittsburgh, in discussing the various portions of the bill I want to say that it was unanimously indorsed by the Western Pennsylvania Convention District, and of the 683 teachers in my county, 584 of them have written, praising the membership of the Legislature for at last recognizing the needs for those who really need help. Don't forget, gentlemen, it takes the same qualifications in Pennsylvania by law, fixed by you, to teach school in that little red schoolhouse as it does in the finest marble school building in Philadelphia. The requirements are the same, gentlemen, but the disparity has been great. This bill does not cure all ills, nor do we propose to have it do so, but we on this side are supporting what we think is sound legislation and good legislation.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to interrogate anybody, nor do I care to waste a minute on technicalities. I am interested pretty much, though, in seeing that the teachers in Pennsylvania receive a salary commensurate with the position they hold. Who is this teacher, and what is the responsibility of a teacher? The teacher is bringing up and training our America of tomorrow; the people who will be taking our places in this House in the future. Naturally, having that kind of responsibility, in my opinion we should have the best teachers that are at hand, and to get the best teachers you must pay a decent wage.

Mr. Hare of Somerset County stated in his remarks that the teachers get eighty-three dollars. I didn't know it was that low for teaching school, cutting their own wood, building their own fire and cleaning windows. Well, I am a graduate of the college of hard knocks. I have been battling all my life to live as near as possible in keeping with the American way. That has been my life, and I really for the life of me cannot understand why or how this teacher can get along on that salary, but the insult to intelligence is the fact that the rich, big state of Pennsylvania is the employer, and that same state pays its Governor eighteen thousand dollars a year. And what does he do outside of saying "no" and "yes" to his secretary?

We pay our Cabinet Members ten thousand dollars a year, there's some of them I understand get twelve thousand dollars. I believe in the American way. We have spent some time over on our side this afternoon, and I believe the sponsor of the bill stated that the bill had been under consideration since the beginning of this session. And then we come in here in the face of the high cost of living, in the face of the fact that the workers, especially in the war production plants, are receiving the highest wages they ever received, and we quibble about paying teachers, who are going to educate our children, a reasonable wage. I do not agree that any of the bills are sufficient. I think that the teachers should be paid the highest possible salary. Why? Who pays this bill? Is this coming out of your pocket or my pocket? Yes, it is coming out of all our pockets. And what kind of American citizens are we that we are not willing to pay our employees a proper wage, a wage that will keep the best teachers on the job.

I understand that some of the teachers have left to go into war plants where they can make three or four times as much as they were making as teachers. Who is going to take that teacher's place? A first class teacher, or an inferior teacher? Just so you have somebody up there directing the children in their abc's. We will pay the bill later on if we make the mistake of having the wrong teacher in charge of our children. So I say to you that we should not waste our time on this. I know that we want the teachers to have a higher wage. I know that the teachers want us to do something about it. Let us do it and do it in the American way.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that the question of the school teacher and the school children is a political question. I think possibly a misinterpretation has been placed upon this whole problem by getting around to the point where we use the words "politics" and "school teachers." I think the two words cannot agree in the same sentence.

I think the point that was meant to be conveyed was that there was a lack of execution of statesmanship by the majority party in failing utterly to make provisions for increases to the school teachers in compliance with pledges made by the Governor in the campaign. If that can be taken as a sufficient answer to the charge that politics are being drawn across the trail as a red herring, I should like to let it rest at that, but, Mr. Speaker, we have had injected into the situation another matter. The policy of the Democratic party in relation to school teachers has been put at issue, and I should like to confine myself to that and to that only.

When the gentleman from Somerset states that the history of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania has been never to give the school teachers an increase, might I inform the gentleman from Somerset that in the past 58 years, I believe, that the Democrats have been in control of both Houses on both sides of the Legislature and a Democratic Governor for two of those years, the years of 1937 and 1938.

I also would remind the gentleman that in those days the other side of the House vigorously protested and fought against the imposition of any taxes, special emergency taxes to take care of people who are in my estimation more deserving of attention in time and trouble than even the school teachers, and they are the poor people of Pennsylvania, those who through no fault of their own were compelled to come to their government for aid in the form of relief. That, Mr. Speaker, was the paramount issue of the few years preceding 1937, and in 1937 had run almost to its apex in the amount of money that had to be raised for relief.

At that time the teachers would have come with ill grace asking for more money until such time as we had found the money to permit the people to eat and to feed their children so as to be able to walk to school to be taught by our school teachers.

The Democratic Party met that challenge despite vigorous opposition on the other side, and the veterans in the House here will remember those battles. But, Mr. Speaker, we did something for the school teachers the only time we had a chance to do it, and in 1937, if the older Members will remember, this House was resolved into a committee of the whole. We spent five or six hours in the committee of the whole, and the question of teachers' tenure, the magna charta for the teachers of Pennsylvania, was ably debated on both sides, by Herbert Cohen of York on the Democratic side and the veteran from Indiana County, Mr. Stewart on the Republican side. The final conclusion was that the teachers did get their tenure act, but since then, Mr. Speaker, the problem has been one for the other side. They have been and still are in control of the state government. It was they who made the free, voluntary pledge and promise in 1942; it was they through their Governor who said in his budget that there was nothing for teachers. It was the Democratic party here on the floor, in the person of myself several weeks ago who stated that the teachers should be taken care of, that the politicians had been taken care of and it was about time that the non-political workers should be taken care of, and it was at that point that the Governor found a way to get some money.

We still do not know how he is going to get it, because he did not take us into his confidence, but the gentleman from Somerset somehow let the cat out of the bag when he said, "If it is not enough, don't you worry, we are going to get it."

And if we are not in session, Mr. Speaker, where are we going to get it? Is the Governor to be given carte blanche to get the money where he wants to—from the Motor License Fund, the Liquor Control Fund or some other source? Will he have the opportunity to do that? If it is O. K. with the majority and with the sponsors of this bill, it may be advisable to give the Governor that power, if the emergency comes to give those people more money and we are not here to give it to them. But it is the job of the minority party at this time to take the time to study and safe guard the sixty thousand non-political public servants. This is the time to do it while we are in session. Now is the time to demand fair treatment for them.

I agree that the gentleman from Somerset and his colleagues who worked on this bill worked hard. I know they worked very hard. I have stayed over on Wednesday night and Thursday on many occasions and found them performing their duties after everybody else had gone home; found these gentlemen at ten or eleven o'clock at night dragging their weary bodies about their tasks in connection with this legislation, and I want to congratulate them for their work. I think they deserve all of our thanks but I think the trouble is that when they got to a certain point the door was slammed in their faces, and Mr. Speaker, I think that we should all get together and put our shoulders against that door and try to open it again.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, in fairness to yourself and to the Members of the House, the latitude extended to the speaker has been very well taken, but I think we are getting away from the amendments that are before the House. I wish the Chair would rule on that and get over with this debate. Only the amendments are before the House, not what went on in 1937 or any political issue. We back here appreciate the debate and enjoy it, but I think it ought to be limited to the amendments that are before the House.

The SPEAKER. The suggestion of the gentleman from Allegheny is well taken. The Chair will insist that further debate be confined to the amendments to section one.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to take up any more time. I only want to say to the gentleman from Somerset that if he raises the issue of red herring, that is a complete departure from the bill at hand—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of order.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not debating the amendments to this bill.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The Chair insists that all debate be limited to the amendments to section one.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I will debate the amendments. I want the membership of the House to know that the proposal and the offer of amendments is not a red herring. If it is, then the answer by the gentleman from Somerset is a shark. I want the gentleman—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will yield. The gentleman from Philadelphia well knows the rules of this House, and the Chair would again caution him to confine his remarks to the question before the House.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I would say to Members of the House that I have offered reasonable amendments. I have offered amendments that should be inserted in the bill in conformity with the Republican party's pledge, the Governor's pledge, and the pledge of each and every Republican Member of the House. If you refuse to insert these amendments you say to the teachers of Pennsylvania, "We didn't mean what we said." The Members of the Republican majority have not yet answered the question, "Are you going to serve the corporations of Pennsylvania or the teachers of Pennsylvania?"

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Cordier.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CORDIER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests that the interrogations be limited to the amendments to section 1.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, section 1, page three, lines ten to seventeen of the bill, that part written in italics as the bill is in our calendar, provides that any teacher who has received an increase in salary in excess of this bonus that he is to receive, that bonus is to be subtracted from the increase that he would receive. Has that been taken care of in the amendment that has been offered?

Mr. CORDIER. The amendment offered by the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, makes it discretionary with the boards so to do.

Mr. O'CONNOR. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

The amendments offered by Messrs. Modell and Cullen were read as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 3, by inserting after the word "teachers" the following: "and other school district employes."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 2, by inserting after the word "forty-four" the following: "and for the same period of time, the salaries of all other regular employes of each school district of the Commonwealth are hereby increased by an amount equal to fifteen per centum of the amount received at the time of the effective date of this act."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. MODELL. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Cullen who is my colleague representing the same district as I in Philadelphia and I have offered these amendments to this House, because in reading the present bill we find that a group of people who should have been taken care of have been neglected.

Certainly we are in full sympathy with any legislation that will give the teachers of this Commonwealth an increase in pay to compensate them for the rising cost of living, but we are also quiet concerned, Mr. Speaker, when we find that those other employees in the school system are given no consideration whatsoever in this bill, because we feel that this is the bill that should contain a provision which protects them. Certainly those employees such as clerks, janitors, and all the other employees of the school system who make up that school system have the same rising costs to face today; they have the same fixed salary as the teachers; they are not protected in any manner whatsoever.

Mr. Cullen and I tried to get the facts in this case so that we could present to this House those figures to be worked upon. We called the Department of Public Instruction and learned that there is no department in this state which has the statistical figures as to the employees other than professional employes, the teachers. So we did the best we could under the circumstances and obtained the information from the Secretary of the Philadelphia School Board and from the Pittsburgh School Board, and our figures it is true, are very general therefore. In Philadelphia we learned—

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the House be in order. These amendments are very important to me, and I noticed that the House was very orderly during the debate on the other amendments. I think we should be given the same courtesy during the debate on these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland desires the House to be in order so as to be able to hear the debate of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Modell. The Chair agrees that the House should be in order. We owe that courtesy to every Member who takes the floor. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MODELL. Mr. Speaker, I am not so much concerned that the Members of this House listen to me personally, but I do feel that the amendments offered here are most important to a large group of people in this state who are represented by every Member of this House. In Philadelphia I have learned that there are possibly two thousand non-professional employes, and in Pittsburgh approximately twelve hundred such employees. I have learned further than an increase as asked for in this amendment of fifteen per cent over their present wages would approximate six hundred thousand dollars a year in Philadelphia and between three hundred thousand and three hundred fifty thousand dollars a year in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Cullen and I, estimating on those figures, believe that the cost should not be more than between nine and ten million dollars for the biennium to take care of these people.

Since we have gone through an extended debate on the other amendments, Mr. Speaker, I certainly feel that the Members of this House need hear no more except that these amendments are important, that they affect a great number of people and that the cost is not too severe upon this state.

Mr. PAUL L. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of the House to vote against this amendment, and I do so because I have very serious doubts of their Constitutionality. I certainly know that it is not the practice of the Commonwealth to pay the salaries or wages of janitors and other school employes. If we continue to build up the cost of this thing we will get to the point where neither Mr. Cohen nor Mr. Levy will know where the money is to be found.

Mr. CULLEN. Mr. Speaker, this is my second session down here. I have heard a good deal about the school teachers. The school teachers receive a certain portion of money. We are now speaking for an unfortunate group whom we are attempting to take care of and who do not have the organization that can high pressure you Members of the Legislature to give justice and to give them the war bonus that will at least cover the increased cost of living. I think these people that we are trying to take care of are more justified in receiving this increase than the school teachers on whom you have been spending so much time in debate here today. I am going to make my remarks short. As far as the Constitutionality of the act is concerned, we are only given a stipulated amount of money to expend, fifteen per cent. It is a war measure. If you can give a war bonus to politicians and school teachers I say to you why isn't it Constitutional to give it to other employees of the school system?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Lovett and Mr. Modell

So the question was termined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

The amendments offered by Messrs. Lee and O'Brien were read as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 22 to 29, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, lines 1 to 5, by striking out all of lines 1 to 4, both inclusive, and the following "lars ($200)" in line 5, and inserting in lieu thereof: "two thousand four hundred ninety-nine dollars ($2,499), the amount of the increase for said period shall be four hundred dollars ($400), to those who for said school year received salaries at the rate of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) and more but not in excess of three thousand four hundred ninety-nine dollars ($3,499), the amount of the increase for said period shall be three hundred dollars ($300):"

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, these amendments affect only those teachers in the group above $1600. There is a slight revision upwards in their pay in order to bring it more in line with the payments provided for those in the lower brackets.

In urging the adoption of this amendment I would like to point out that their chief virtue is in the fact that it requires very little additional money, $1,300,000.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, as my colleague from Philadelphia has pointed out, in co-sponsoring these amendments, there is no great difference between the money offered under House Bill 816 and the suggested amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee and myself. This is a sincere and conscientious effort to correct a most inequitable distribution of the moneys this bill has to distribute. I might say frankly, that originally when the gentleman from Philadelphia and I were interested in these amendments, both being members of the Education Committee, we were more or less moved by the thought of having a more equitable distribution to the city of Philadelphia, but upon delving into the matter we discovered that this helps in a small way some 17,000 teachers throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and only approximately 5000 of those 17,000 teachers come from Philadelphia.

Let me for the information of the House tell you and the members just what these proposed amendments will do. Under House Bill 816 in its present unamended form those teachers making from $1,000 to $1,099 receive $600. Those from $1100 to $1499 receive $500. Those getting from $1500 to $1999 receive $400. Those from $2000 to $2999 receive $300. Those from $3000 to $3499 receive $200. Now, Mr. Speaker, our proposed amendments change from the $1500 class all the way up to and including the $2499 class, each getting $400, and from the $2500 to the $3400 class they receive $300. As a result of these proposed amendments there would be a necessary expenditure of slightly more than $1,000,000. However, it would afford, as I say, a more equitable distribution.

Let me read into the record the cities other than Philadelphia affected by these proposed amendments: the city of Allentown, City of Altoona, Bethlehem City, Chester, Easton, Erie, Harrisburg, Hazleton, Lancaster, Lower Merion, McKeesport, New Castle, Reading, Scranton, Upper Darby, Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport and York. Let me also say as an illustration that the city of Bethlehem alone under these proposed amendments would receive an additional $25,000.

Mr. Speaker, in urging the adoption of these amendments I am not striking a political note. As a matter of fact, I want it considered strictly as a non-partisan measure, and for that reason these amendments were co-sponsored by a Republican member from Philadelphia and myself. I also would like to read into the record a letter received from the Altoona School District of Pennsylvania in response to a letter addressed to them by the Secretary of the School District from Philadelphia. That letter is as follows:

> "This will acknowledge your letter of March 24, enclosing a copy of your letter sent to the Representatives in the Legislature from Philadelphia, concerning amendments to House Bill No. 816.
> "We think your suggested amendments are a great improvement to the schedule as it is at present in Bill 816. We will contact the Members of the Legislature from this District over the weekend and ask them to support the Bill with the amendments as they will be submitted to the House on March 29."
> Yours very truly
> s/R. L. THOMPSON
> Secretary."

Mr. Speaker, I plead for the adoption of these amendments, and I ask for a roll call.

Mr. PAUL L. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, what I have to say I have to say to the majority of the Educational Committee and the sub-committee which has struggled in just the manner Mr. Cohen described to accomplish this bill. Personally it would be very gratifying to me to go along with this amendment. I know it would please a lot of people who live near me and who are good friends of mine, but I sincerely believe and the committee believes that we are dangerously imperiling this bill. I will be up again in fifteen minutes to talk about a couple of million dollars, and this will come well over one million dollars in additional costs. We have no reason to believe that any such amount of money is going to be available. I heard the gentleman state and he gave us information to the effect that the teachers in certain towns and cities of the Commonwealth are in favor of more money. There is something radically wrong when the school teachers are not in favor of more money. If there is any time the question would be put up to me how much salary I should receive, I would be in favor of getting more, but, we have to decide where we are to start and where we are to stop. I do not feel that a teacher earning over $3500 is in any particular distress, even though, like the rest of us, it is difficult to make ends meet at times. I have a letter in my hand which came in this morning from a friend of mine who says:

> "According to the Cordier-Hare Bill Number 816, there is no provision made for salary increases to educators earning at present above $3,499.
> Do you not think that it would be fairer and more equitable to provide in this measure an increase of $200 for those earning $3,000 or above, instead of restricting it to $3,499.
> The high cost of living, the war, etc. affects those earning in the higher brackets as well as those in the lower brackets.
> Thanking you for any consideration given, I remain."

A certain amount of money will have to be provided to take care of any increases and that is hard to get without additional taxation. The school teachers do not want additional taxation. There are school teachers in this House this afternoon who would raise their hands to high heaven if we would talk about additional taxes which the taxpayers would have to pay, if they were told that they would have to be levied for the specific purpose of paying higher school teachers' salaries.

We have letters from school teachers all over the state to the effect that they are against the levying of any additional taxes. I told the gentleman yesterday who just spoke that the people representing the teachers in those districts which he mentioned have made the statement that we have done a great piece of work and they are very happy about it.

I would ask for the preservation of the scale and the equity of this legislation, that we by all means maintain the bracket as it is now and vote down the amendments proposed.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out for the information of the House that under House Bill 816 those people who are now getting one thousand dollars, with this increase that they are getting, would be getting a thirty per cent increase, whereas those who are making three thousand dollars are only getting a five per cent increase. That on its face does not seem equitable at all. I would like to point out further that most of our teachers are in the upper brackets. Yes, we in the city of Philadelphia, not taking in the other twelve thousand teachers that are going to be helped by these amendments, contribute almost forty per cent into the treasury of the state throughout the state of Pennsylvania. Yet here in the division of these moneys being contributed we are receiving only five per cent. That on the face of it does not seem equitable at all. This in a small way corrects this and it is a reasonable request. There is nothing outlandish in it, and the cost will be only one million two hundred thousand dollars. It is reasonable and deserves the support of all of the Members of the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Speaker.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

(Following the verification of the affirmative roll and preceding the verification of the negative roll.)

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, how is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Campbell, recorded as voting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is recorded as voting in the negative.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I voted "aye."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, was not the affirmative roll verified?

The SPEAKER. The affirmative roll was verified.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Then, Mr. Speaker, can the name of Mr. Campbell be added at this time to the affirmative roll.

The SPEAKER. It cannot be added.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I voted "aye." I don't care what anyone else says.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to make any other decision since the affirmative roll has been verified.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Campbell stated that he voted "aye". He was under the impression, and all of us here were too, that his name was called on the affirmative roll and then also called on the negative roll.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no alternative other than to follow the rules which cover the situation. The Chair will read Rule 80, for the information of the House:

> Upon the completion of the roll call and before the result of the vote has been announced by the Speaker three members of the House may demand a verification of the roll. After the affirmative or negative roll has been declared verified it is too late to change or record a vote thereon. Any member may challenge in writing the vote or votes of members who are recorded as voting. If the vote so challenged would change the result the announcement of the vote shall be postponed by the Speaker until the allegations made shall have been investigated when, if necessary, the roll shall be corrected and the true result announced by the Speaker.

The Chair will also read a decision on the same situation from the 1941 Pennsylvania Manual, page 748:

> Vote may be corrected after verification by unanimous consent.
> 250. The roll having called and the affirmative side verified, the negative verification was being completed when a member heard her name read as having voted in the negative. She stated that she had voted in the affirmative. Under a question of parliamentary inquiry it was asked whether the member could be recorded on the affirmative roll by unanimous consent of the House. The Speaker stated that the House by unanimous consent cando what it desires. The vote was changed to the affirmative roll on the adoption of a motion by the House authorizing the change. (Legislative Journal, April 19, 1933 p. 4036.)

The Chair rules that it will require unanimous consent of the House to have the name of Mr. Campbell changed from the negative to the affirmative roll.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, apparently an error has been made. In view of the obvious injustice that it might do the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Campbell, I now ask unanimous consent of the House that the name of Mr. Campbell be added to the affirmative roll.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, it appearing that this is the first time this situation has arisen in this session, and since it may serve notice as to what may happen, and the unfortunate position we may find ourselves in at another time, I think the request for unanimous consent will accomplish the purpose and I will offer no objection to the request of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. There being no objection the name of Mr. Campbell will be stricken from the negative roll and placed on the affirmative roll.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. O'NEILL. Mr. Speaker, the amendments of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Modell, were similar to the amendments of Mr. Bradley and myself and I therefore withdraw them.

HOUSE BILL No. 816 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 816, Printer's No. 174, entitled:

An Act providing temporary increases in the salaries of certain members of the teaching and supervisory staffs of school districts; authorizing additional appropriations and temporary loans therefor; and requiring the Commonwealth to reimburse school districts for the full amount of such increases.

on page 15 of today's calendar, bill on third reading be made a special order of business on Thursday, April 1, 1943, at 2 p. m.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will return to House Bill No. 865, Printer's No. 257, on page 7 of today's calendar, bill on second reading. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 865, entitled:

An Act to amend section four hundred nine of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of November, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 15, 1933-34), entitled, as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State Government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practices in, connection with, and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others; providing for the forfeiture of certain property; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees; and imposing penalties," by providing for the surrendering by persons in military service of licenses granted to them, the renewal thereof by the board during licensee's continuance in such service, and the renewal thereof thereafter.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 8, by striking out the words "a new subsection" and inserting in lieu thereof: "two new subsections."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 409), page 4, by inserting between lines 22 and 23, the following: "(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section, any individual to whom a license shall have been issued for the retail sale of malt or brewed beverages, or the retail sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages who, while such license was in force, shall have entered the armed forces of the United States, either by induction or by enlistment, or shall have entered employment in any war industry which is recognized as an industry contributing to the conduct of the war, and, by reason thereof, shall have failed to renew such license during such service or industrial occupation, shall be permitted to file an application for renewal of said license at any renewal period within one year after his or her honorable discharge from the United States service, or after his or her honorable discharge or release from such industrial war work or, if employed in said war industry until the end of the present war, the said application may be made within one year after the termination of the present war. Upon filing of such application, the said license of such applicant shall be renewed by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, regardless of the provisions of any law limiting the number of such licenses in each municipality now in force, or which may hereafter be enacted, if such applicant qualifies in all other respects."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. IRVIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to oppose the amendments offered. As I understand it, the Liquor Control Board has already provided for those persons who are engaged in defense work, so that they can turn over the management of their plants to their wives or any person they designate while they are engaged in war work. This bill acts for the men on the fighting front and gives them the right to renew their licenses after receiving an honorable discharge from the army within one year, and I bitterly oppose any amendment to this bill for that reason. It is strictly for the men on the fighting front and for nobody else.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia that House Bill 865 is a good bill. I intend to vote for the bill on account of the boys who are serving in the armed forces, but I am also thinking of the individual or the man or woman who might have two, three or maybe four sons in the armed forces. At the time that their three or four sons left this country and went in a foreign country, their father was in a good business in the state of Pennsylvania. I do agree with him too on the question of the Liquor Control Board allowing them to appoint a manager, but if you appoint a manager for your business you are losing money. That manager who was appointed is not going out to dig up any business for the father of these boys who are in the service, which means that the father in the curtailment of the business is going to close up. When those boys come home from the Army or the Navy they are going to look probably at some of the members in the House, especially those who voted against these amendments and tell them that they thank them for being proud of them, but they are not very proud of you because you had the chance to keep their fathers in business and you turned him down. The only thing these amendments do will be to allow a man, who on account of the war, is losing business and must close up his liquor establishment. It will allow him to renew his licenses within one year after the war. Now, I agree that the bill in its present form is taking care of the soldier boys, and with these amendments in the bill it will take care of the fathers and mothers of the soldier boys who are in the same business. I ask the Members of the House to vote for the amendments to this bill.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

The second, third and fourth sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will return to House Bill No. 849, Printer's No. 256, on page 6 of today's calendar, bills on second reading. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 849, entitled:

An Act relating to child care centers; conferring certain powers and duties upon the State Council of Defense, local and district councils of defense, and political subdivisions; providing for the adoption of rules and regulations for the maintenance, operation and conduct thereof; and authorizing appropriations by political subdivisions.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that House Bill 849 has raised such comment within the Commonwealth and there has been so much correspondence to date on the measure, also that I have attempted to get in the last twenty hours some amendments prepared relative to it, and would have pressed the Legislative Reference Bureau for their preparation had it not been for the fact that earlier this afternoon the sponsor of the measure passed over the bill on second reading as he did yesterday, and in view of the fact that I haven't had time to speak to the sponsor of the measure in private, I would like him now to consent to hold the bill on the second reading calendar until Monday night in order to give us an opportunity to prepare amendments which we deem proper and at the same time give the various groups interested in the bill, an opportunity to come to the Capitol and state their reasons for their opposition. The bill, as you know, Mr. Speaker, has been on the calendar a few days, and the bill has been also on second reading for the past two days, and I would ask the sponsor of the bill to hold it over.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, last Monday night the gentleman from Philadelphia raised some objections and asked that this bill be re-committed, and so moved. That motion was lost. He has had since last Monday night to prepare his amendments. The only reason this bill was not called up in order today was that I was down donating a pint of blood. If that had not been the case I would have been here and called it up at the proper time. I cannot see the fact that it was not called up at one thirty has given any more time to the gentleman from Philadelphia to have the amendments prepared. I regret, Mr. Speaker, that I cannot go along with the gentleman's request, and I ask that it now be acted upon.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I might further say to the gentleman that I too was in the hospital this morning, and because of that I was unable to go to the Legislative Reference Bureau until just previous to the opening of the session. I would have had ample time to go to the Legislative Reference Bureau to have the amendments prepared had not the bill been put over for a later time, but it was my impression that the gentleman, the sponsor of the bill, was not prepared today, when the bill was passed over and not called up. I am only asking this courtesy for the people who are interested in this piece of legislation. Certainly the gentleman knows it is important, and certainly the gentleman knows that another day or two will not hinder the principles that the bill involves or the results therefrom. I only ask for that courtesy from the gentleman. If he does not see fit to grant the courtesy, of course, we will go ahead with it.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, in order to clarify my position I will not object to any amendments offered tomorrow if this bill passes second reading—I will not offer any objection to the introduction of them.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I thought from the gentleman's last remarks that he was agreeable to passing the bill over until tomorrow or until Monday.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is reminded that the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, stated plainly that he would not object to amendments being offered tomorrow if this bill passes second reading today. That was the gentleman's statement.

Mr. LEVY. I understand that clearly, Mr. Speaker. Are you reading the bill for agreement?

The SPEAKER. We are on section one of the bill.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in the confussion surrounding the request, may I request the Speaker to withdraw the proceedings thus far in order to give me time to offer a motion before the House?

The SPEAKER. The bill is now before the House, and it is impossible for the Speaker to accede to the gentleman's request without the permission of the House.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I think Mr. Mahany made the statement that he would like to have the bill passed on second reading, if I understood him correctly. I would like to ask, if I may at this time whether Mr. Mahany meant that on third reading he would give unanimous consent to amend this bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I believe I said that I would not object to the offering of amendments to this bill tomorrow on third reading.

Mr. SARRAF. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, feels that child care centers is a subject that is critically important to the people of Pennsylvania so that they might have the best bill possible to carry the war effort to a successful conclusion. I might say to you, Mr. Speaker, that I received just fifteen minutes ago two telegrams from organizations in Philadelphia which I would like to read into the record, requesting an opportunity to appear at a public hearing on all three bills before the House. That is Mr. Mahany's bill and the two bills that have been introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, and I at this time would like to read the following telegrams—

The SPEAKER. The Chair would remind the gentleman that we can only debate now that which pertains to section one of this bill. The Chair has no recourse but to so rule. The gentleman will have an opportunity later to debate the bill in full.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have an opportunity to make a motion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his motion.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. CHUDOFF. I move, Mr. Speaker, that House Bill 849 be recommitted to the Committee on Education for a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lehigh will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, is this motion in order when we are on section 1 of the bill?

The SPEAKER. A motion to recommit is in order under Rule 15 of the House as well as under Rule 54.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the members on this side of the House to oppose the motion to recommit.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, on the motion to recommit I would like to read the telegrams into the record.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise the gentleman that there is nothing in order except the motion to recommit.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I would like to say, Mr. Speaker, that I wanted to read my telegrams before I made the motion to recommit.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to permit the reading of the telegrams but is somewhat in doubt as to their nature. Do they pertain strictly to the recommittal of the bill?

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, these telegrams that I want to read into the record are in support of my reasons for asking to recommit the bill to the Committee on Education.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, this telegram is dated Philadelphia March 31 and reads as follows:

> "Nite For Victory Committee 4th Congressional Dist Representing thousands of people in this community. Strongly protest the enactment of HB 849 which is inadequate and does not meet the needs in time war. Urge the enactment of HB 41 and 42 which will meet minimum requirements. Urge joint open hearing of State Government Educational and Appropriation Committees. Sally Dorph Secy."

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. LEVY. Is it not the purpose, Mr. Speaker, on agreement of the majority and the minority that on Thursdays, the last day of the week for sessions that in most cases important controversial measures are not debated but rather laid over until the beginning of the week?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no knowledge of any such agreement. The gentleman from Philadelphia may interrogate the Majority and the Minority Floor Leaders of the House if he so desires.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. The Chair reminds the gentleman that we are considering a motion to recommit, and there is nothing else in order.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, are we on section 1?

The SPEAKER. We are considering Section 2. Section 1 has been agreed to.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I tried to get the Speaker's attention before section 1 was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will withdraw its decision as to section 1. The Chair hears none.

On the question recurring,

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, this is a very important piece of legislation and I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Does the gentleman feel, Mr. Speaker, that the act, section 1, is well drawn in that it gives no definition of an emergency child care center?

Mr. MAHANY. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, where in it do we get the definition of an emergency child care center?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I think that there will be no question about what the words, "emergency child care center" mean. It means just what it states, and what the context of the bill says, it provides for centers for children of certain ages to be taken care of while their parents are engaged in industry.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe in keeping with our statutory rule on construction and draftsmenship of an act of legislation that a definition should go in the title, a legal definition?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I believe I answered that question, that I didn't think so, but I thought the words themselves were self explanatory and that there would be no question about what they mean.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, in order to conserve the time in the House may I ask questions as to the various sections and then debate the entire act, rather than take the time of the House on each section?

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the gentleman may do so. The Chair hears none. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I have finished with the interrogation on section 1.

Mr. LEVY. I understood, Mr. Speaker, that the gentle-from Allegheny stated he was through with the questioning relative to section 1.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny has the floor. Does he yield?

Mr. BROWN. I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Crawford whether or not he made the statement to the gentleman from Allegheny, referring to the definition of emergency child care centers, as to whether the gentleman did not say that it was for centers for children of those working in industry.

Mr. MAHANY. I believe I so stated, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Crawford where in House Bill 849 there is reference to for children of those working in industry.

Mr. MAHANY. On page two, line seventeen, Mr. Speaker, it says "parents now or hereafter engaged in war industry."

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, that is the correct meaning of lines fifteen, seventeen and eighteen, and I agree with the gentleman, but I understand that the gentleman said in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny that it referred to parents engaged in industry. There is a distinction between war industry and industry.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I took it for granted that we were talking about war industry. It was an oversight on my part. I would add that it takes care of children of parents in war industry, as it states specifically in the act.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

Mr. BROWN. I do not desire the floor, Mr. Speaker, until we read section 2.

The SPEAKER The Chair understood the gentleman desired to debate the whole bill rather than each section.

Mr. BROWN. That is right, Mr. Speaker, and I meant that I could make my remarks. I didn't mean that I could interrogate on a section before it is called up. However, if that will save time I shall be happy to do that, if I may interrogate as to the sections before they are called up.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels certain that it would save time and unanimous consent of the House has been granted.

Mr. BROWN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker; I shall so proceed.

May I further interrogate the gentleman from Crawford Mr. Mahany?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. May I ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, what is his definition of a real guardian.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I would say it would be a guardian, either a natural one or one appointed by the court.

Mr. BROWN. Has the gentleman ever heard of the legal use of any such phrase before?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, if this wording is not suitable to the gentleman or any other member, I suggest their remedy is by amendment. I have agreed that amendments may be offered tomorrow, and if the gentleman from Allegheny feels that this wording may be clarified by an amendment he may do so tomorrow.

Mr. BROWN. Well now, Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. However, I didn't ask him whether he would allow me time to prepare an amendment. I asked him if he had ever heard a legal definition,—and here we are talking about law, of course, of the term "real guardian".

Mr. MAHANY. I might say, Mr. Speaker, I have never heard that expression used in just that way, but it doesn't cause me any trouble to interpret it, and I do not believe that the Office of Civilian Defense or any other agency set up under this act is going to get into serious litigation over this particular phrase.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, if this act were passed and it becomes law, could I take my children to my mother-in-law's home to be cared for? I have a very nice mother-in-law, Mr. Speaker, and I might have to go into industry if this debate keeps up much longer.

Mr. MAHANY. I believe there is some provision in there relative to number. I cannot take judicial notice as to the number of children Mr. Brown has, but I don't believe that under that provision of this act he could do what he contemplates. I believe that this act provides for child centers, and these will be setup under the supervision of the Office of Civilian Defense. It does not contemplate taking the children into some private home.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the reason I asked that, in further interrogation, why then do you draw the line as to parents, grandparents, brothers or sisters, uncles and aunts or real guardians? Why not include mothers-in-law, sisters-in-law and all other in-laws? What would be the objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, wants to put in an amendment taking care of his mother-in-law he may do so tomorrow.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, if one parent is working in a department store and the other parent is working in a war industry, and those parents have two or three or more children, would they be eligible for this service in an emergency child care center?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I would say that the plural "parents" would include the singular, so that either one being engaged in war industry, their children would be taken care of in these child centers.

Mr. BROWN. Is this act an all-inclusive act in that the State Council of Defense would have the entire supervision of all emergency child centers in Pennsylvania where there are children under fourteen years of age?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, it is my opinion that it would not be an exclusive act, that is, this allows the State Council of Defense to set up these centers and would not preclude some other agency from setting them up, if they were properly authorized by law to do so.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Crawford mean if they were properly authorized by the Council of Defense?

Mr. MAHANY. No, Mr. Speaker, properly authorized by law.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that the Council of Defense does make such a rule or regulation, and that any organization or group or organization that would attempt to establish or may now have established emergency child centers could be penalized under the penal provision of this act?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that this bill so states.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me why the penalty, and why the act designates certain care that would not come within the act and does not say anything about other organizations or institutions that now or that may hereafter establish such war centers for children?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the burden of proof should be on the one who makes the allegation rather than on me. However, I believe that the penalty is put in to provide for a violation of some regulation. For instance, hypothetically, relative to interference with these child welfare centers, for instance someone who might break in during a blackout or some such situation as that. That was the reason for the penalty provision.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that this House should ever have before it a bill so ambiguous and confusing as this piece of legislation that we are now endeavoring to pass on second reading. This provision providing for the classes of persons who may care for children was put in without any serious consideration. I don't know how they are going to draw a line as to who may or who may not take care of the children. In the first place I do not believe this can be constitutionally done, and yet this act attempts to do it. This is an important act. It uses language which I challenge any member to find in any laws that have ever been passed or in any legal dictionary or any other dictionary.

Now certainly, in such an important piece of legislation we ought to have first the jurisdiction properly established. We ought to have language that could be readily and easily interpreted. For that reason, Mr. Speaker, I do feel that this act should be held on the calendar until such time as a careful perusal could be made of the same so that we will not pass legislation of this kind.

I have absolutely no fault to find with the State Council of Defense, I have no fault to find with the District Councils of Defense. I am, though, leaning toward the opinion expressed by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Denman, but at this particular time I am concerned wholly and solely with the construction of this act. I think it would be bad if this House should pass it in the form it is in now. I believe, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman from Crawford will agree with me that it needs, first of all, a definition, and it needs secondly legal language instead of certain ambiguous language which can be misinterpreted, and then we need to know whether or not the institutions or persons who now care for children would become amenable to the penalty provision of this act. I challenge any member of the House on the question of construction only to show me wherein this act meets the legislative test of acts which can be plainly construed and whose intention can be plainly seen.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I heard the gentleman, in answer to Mr. Brown of Allegheny say that if one parent working in a defense industry or a war industry and another parent working in a department store—would their children come under the purview of this act, and the gentleman from Crawford said that he supposed from the wording that the singular would apply to the plural, and the children would then be permitted to come within the purview of the act. Let us assume that there is no husband, that the husband has passed away, that the wife instead of working in a war plant is driving a taxicab in one of the cities of the Commonwealth, and has a few children. Would her children come within the purview of the act?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I would think that the Office of Civilian Defense could make regulations providing for such instances if they deemed it wise to do so.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I then desire to inquire of the gentleman as to whether or not in House Bill 849 there is a provision which would exclude children of a mother placed in that predicament?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I do not think so. think the words "war industry" might apply in such a case if it were so provided by the Office of Civilian Defense.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I don't know if this act passes, upon a test of its constitutionality or upon a test of its wording, whether or not Mr. Mahany will be present when the jurists will probably ask the same question, but I would say to the gentleman from Crawford that the words "war industry" are quite clear, and I cannot imagine anyone interpreting the words "war industry" to mean driving a taxicab or working in a department store. Certainly the gentleman would want to clarify at least that particular portion of the bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman through with his interrogation and is he now going into debate on the bill?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman wants to debate this bill I think we are doing it within the rules of the House. I have asked him a question and he answered, and then I interposed an opinion on his answer. There is nothing wrong with that. If the gentleman feels that he is all bewildered about his own bill, and I believe he is, then I would say to the gentleman why not accede to the wishes of a few Members of the House, and agree that this is a very important measure, and that it be given the proper time to be properly drawn and considered?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I can assure the gentleman that I am not bewildered and I will do my best to answer the gentleman's question. If he has different opinions than I have relative to this act, I believe he has the privilege of stating his opinions, and I am not interfering with that. However, I do object to his drawing any conclusions relative to this matter.

The SPEAKER. Has the gentleman finished his interrogation?

Mr. LEVY. No, Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

Is the gentleman from Crawford in agreement with the gentleman from Allegheny that this bill is probably the first of its kind to take its place on the floor of the House of Representatives in relation to its ambiguity, and certainly its lack of coordination with the purpose of the bill?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I don't know whether Mr. Brown so stated. Perhaps he would like to clarify that.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy is getting ambiguity on top of ambiguity when he speakers of the ambiguity of this bill. That is new language, so that he is putting new language in the body of the bill and new language in the interpretation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second to the ninth sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the majority leader, the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Lehigh as to whether in his opinion the majority party feels this is an important piece of legislation?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. It does, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, may I further inquire of the gentleman from Lehigh as to whether or not he intends to go through with a bill of this nature on third reading on the last day of the legislative week?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. That is entirely up to the members of the House. I think the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, has stated his willingness to have amendments presented on third reading tomorrow, and is not raising any objection.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire further to inquire of the gentleman as to whether or not it has been a custom established in the House, especially on four-day sessions, on the part of the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader to hold up all controversial bills on the fourth legislative day and let them go into the beginning of the following week?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would not say there was a custom. I recall that it was done in the 1941 session. After all, I think we are meeting under unusual times in this particular session. If we are going to get out of here in the time we anticipate, instead of sitting here until June or July, I think we'll have to change that old custom.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that House Bill 849, important as it is, would suffer if another couple of days were required to enact it into law?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I did not understand the question.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I asked the gentleman whether he thought that one extra legislative day would make so much difference in the passage of this particular bill, important as it is.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Well, it might make a great deal of difference, Mr. Speaker. I do not see any objection to having the bill read and go on to the third reading calendar for tomorrow, if the sponsor of this bill is willing to allow amendments to be offered. I am sure that the gentleman from Philadelphia if he will sit down with the gentleman from Crawford might work out all the difficulties in the bill. If it is a matter that the gentleman from Philadelphia cannot be present tomorrow, that is a different matter.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire further to interrogate the gentleman regarding the possibility of this bill being placed in position for third reading tomorrow. The sponsor has offered to accept certain clarifying amendments, will not that make the bill go over for third reading on Monday, because it must go to the Printer?

The SPEAKER. The bill would be on final passage on Monday night if it were amended and agreed to on Thursday.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, so that there should be no misunderstanding relative to my agreement, I believe I have stated this twice, and now I am going to state it the third time, and I hope that there will be no ambiguity in it—I don't believe there was before: I said I would not object to the offering of amendments to this bill tomorrow. I did not say that I would accept the amendments. I stated that I would not object to the offering of amendments tomorrow.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I was just going to make the same statement that the sponsor of the bill has made.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, might I ask the Majority Leader then in open discussion on the floor of this House whether he would agree to hold the bill on third reading until Monday night, whether it is the custom or not?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I don't see any reason for that.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, the reason is this, two hours ago I left the floor of the House, I was called on the telephone to go back to Philadelphia tonight. If the gentleman would not make any premature remarks, I might add that I was called back to Philadelphia because my mother is not so well. Certainly I did not ask the courtesy of this bill's going over without some merit, and the bill, important as it is, not to me alone but to all the people in Pennsylvania, certainly would guide the majority leadership in acceeding to the wish to have this bill studied for a few more days.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, if this bill is important to the gentleman, I certainly do not want in any way to minimize his desire probably to get back to Philadelphia, but I am sure that on that side of the House, if he takes a stand for the party which he represents, there are many able men over there who are able to take care of his request, as far as the bill is concerned. Besides that, this bill is not being enacted into law; it is going to third reading. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Chudoff, asked to have the bill recommitted for a public heading. This bill will have to go over to the Senate and there is every opportunity, and if the Senate so desires and the membrs of the House feel that that should be done, that a public hearing be held, I am sure that it will be held. If these corrections are not inserted over here to make this a good bill in the eyes of the gentleman from Philadelphia, I am sure that he will have some Senatorial friends who will be glad to listen to him and make the corrections.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire from the gentleman as to whether or not we are a branch of this legislature, and as to whether or not we must perform our duties as members of the House and not pass poor legislation, to be corrected or amended by the higher branch of the legislature?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman that I would let that judgment be with the vote on the roll call when the bill is up for final passage.

I am only offering the suggestion to enable the gentleman to make a good bill out of what he thinks is a bad bill. I am sure that the members here will express themselves if given the opportunity to vote upon this bill as to whether they think it is good bill in their judgment.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Lehigh feel then that he does not have a good bill but he does have good votes?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I think we have both.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Lehigh.

I cannot understand the position of the Republican leadership on a bill of this kind. The sponsor of the bill says on one hand, if you want to include in the bill a definition of emergency child care centers, then you include it, that is all right with me. But then later he says, "I don't say I am going to approve of your amendments." Now, Mr. Speaker, I would ask the sponsor of the bill to get his story straight. On interrogation by the gentleman from Allegheny he apparently answered that if the gentleman felt there should be some amendments to clarify certain wordings in the bill they should be introduced, apparently inferring that we was for as clear a bill as possible. Now, I would like to know if that is the case or is not the case.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I now move you that House Bill 849, Printer's No. 256, be laid on the table.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that the motion to lay upon the table is out of order at this time.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the reason why the Chair will not accept the motion to lay on the table.

The SPEAKER. Rule 15 provides:

> No business regularly before the House shall be interrupted, except by motion—
> For adjournment.
> To lay on the table.
> For the previous question, namely, "shall the main question be now put?"
> For postponement.
> For commitment.
> For amendment.
> Which several motions shall have precedence in the foregoing order.

Mr. LEVY. What, Mr. Speaker, is now the interpretation of the rule? I understood you to say that no motion would be in order other than a motion to do among other things, to lay on the table.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has informed the gentleman from Philadelphia that a motion to lay on the table is a privileged motion. The gentleman from Philadelphia is somewhat confused as to the wording. It is a privileged motion and cannot be entertained because House Bill 849 is not before the House.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, if that is not the business before the House, then what is the business before the House? We just approved House Bill 849 on second reading.

The SPEAKER. House Bill 849, Printer's No. 256 was before the House and disposed of section by section, and the title. The bill was agreed to on second reading. That was done before the motion to lay on the table was presented.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I am in agreement with the Speaker concerning the fact that House Bill 849 was passed on second reading but the Speaker indicated to me in not entertaining my motion Rule 15, which says: "No business regularly before the House shall be interrupted except by motion for adjournment, for the previous question, namely shall the main question be now put, for postponement, for committment or amendment or amendment and to lay on the table".

Now, Mr. Speaker, certainly from the interpretation of Ruly 15, my motion to lay on the table is properly in order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inquire of the gentleman from Philadelphia what he desires to lay on the table?

Mr. LEVY. I might answer the Speaker's question by saying I am quite definitely sure I won't lay an egg.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman might get his hat and move to lay that on the table, but the Chair repeats the question, What does the gentleman wish to lay on the table?

Mr. LEVY. House Bill No. 849, Printer's No. 256.

The SPEAKER. That is not the business before the House. It has been disposed of.

Mr. LEVY. That is true, Mr. Speaker. Nevertheless the bill is on the calendar. The bill has been agreed to, the bill is around, and I ask to lay it on the table.

The SPEAKER. May the Chair repeat a few words from the Rule: "no business regularly before the House shall be interrupted". The bill is not before the House.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, does a motion to lay on the table require the bill to be before the House?

The SPEAKER. It requires that business to be before the House.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, is there any method by which we can now bring the bill before the House?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. I would like to answer the gentleman from Philadelphia by stating that he can if he cares to, ask for unanimous consent.

Mr. LEVY. If he cares to or if he dares to?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, that is for the decision of the gentleman.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, has the Chair ruled on Mr. Levy's motion to lay the bill on the table?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has ruled on that question.

Mr. CHUDOFF. What is the Chair's ruling?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to determine who wants to be recognized, but recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Chudoff.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I understood you to say that you had ruled on Mr. Levy's motion to lay House Bill 849 on the table.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has ruled on that motion.

Mr. CHUDOFF. What is the Chair's ruling on that motion, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has ruled that the motion to lay on the table is not in order.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, under the rules of the House is not a motion to lay a bill on the table always in order?

The SPEAKER. It is not.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philalelphia, Mr. Levy, once more.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, will the Speaker tell the House what is the business before the House at the present time?

The SPEAKER. The final passage calendar.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, on page six of today's calendar I move that the vote by which House Bill 849, Printer's No. 256, passed second reading be reconsidered.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, having disposed of House Bill 849 on second reading, have we taken up any other business of the House?

The SPEAKER. We have not.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Then, Mr. Speaker, the motion is out of order?

The SPEAKER. The motion is out of order. The Chair inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien, that a motion to reconsider cannot be considered at this time.

The Chair will read Decision No. 190 for the information of the House:

> On the motion to reconsider a vote by which a bill was defeated on final passage, the point of order was raised that this motion is not in order until other business has intervened.
> The Speaker decided the point of order well taken; the motion is not in order until some other business has intervened. (Legislative Journal, April 13, 1931, p. 1893).

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, if no other business had intervened then the motion to lay on the table was in order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will inform the gentleman from Philadelphia that a motion to lay on the table is a privileged motion.

Mr. O'BRIEN. On the motion to lay on the table, the Chair ruled without any help from the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Rose, although he has helped the Speaker on this last question, at least he has answered for the Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will inform the gentleman that the Chair ruled that the motion to reconsider the vote was not in order under the rules of the House.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Did you say, Mr. Speaker, that under decision 190, until some other business had intervened, this motion of mine to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed second reading is out of order?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Then, Mr. Speaker, if there has been no other business intervening is not the motion to lay on the table in order?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is trying to get it clearly into the mind of the gentleman from Philadelphia that a motion to lay on the table is a privileged motion, and can only be made when there is other business before the House.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Levy subsequent to the bill's being passed on second reading, made a motion to lay it on the table. Is that considered business since the passage of this bill on second reading?

The SPEAKER. It is not. The Chair ruled that motion out of order.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien offered a motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed second reading. The Speaker read a decision from the Manual, Decisions of the House. In that decision it said where business had intervened. Now, in the present position of the House, no business had intervened at the time Mr. O'Brien made the motion.

The SPEAKER. That is exactly what the Chair stated to the gentleman from Philadelphia. The Chair cannot entertain the motion.

Mr. LEVY. The Speaker answered the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Rose, by saying that no business had intervened. The decision cited by the Speaker in the Manual had the facts the other way, that there was intervening business. Now, that decision Mr. Speaker, does not apply, and I ask you—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. LEVY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair ruled that no business had intervened, and read the decision.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, what order of business is before the House now?

The SPEAKER. Bills on Final Passage.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I fail to find this bill on my desk, and the reason I have raised the question is because it is supposed to have been amended.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed by other members that the bill is on file.

Mr. LEONARD. Well, Mr. Speaker, I am a Democrat.

Mr. Speaker, that was no joke about the bill, the bill was not on file on my desk. This bill is just as dangerous today as it was yesterday and I would like to reiterate to those who paid attention yesterday the objections that I raised to this bill. I placed in the record evidence that it is dangerous to permit boys under eighteen years of age to operate power driven vehicles. Police records will prove that, but this bill goes much further.

I will read a section of the title:

By permitting certain minors under eighteen years of age to operate certain commercial motor vehicles as paid operators for the duration of the present war and six months thereafter.

That means this, that a ten year old boy could drive a truck or automobile. Now, I am willing and I appreciate the fact that some relief should be—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. LEONARD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, to preside.

MR. NORMAN WOOD IN THE CHAIR

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I am sure all of you will agree with me when I say this, let a couple of us go back to sixteen years of age, and we get the car out. When we took the car out we were aware of the fact that we were doing something contrary to the law. That being the case, naturally we tried to be as careful as possible, but remove the law and put a sixteen year old boy back of the wheel again and we will ride rough shod as we always do when we know there is no danger.

If we were to pass this bill and it were to cause one accident, one death—we only killed forty some thousand people last year—all of us would have to hang our heads in shame, which we would have the right to do. I am asking the House of Representatives to consider it from the standpoint of the protection of the people and especially the old people who are not quite as alert as the younger generation when they attempt to cross a street. Of course, you will all appreciate too that there is a lot of one handed driving done by these young fellows. I am not only asking the protection of the people, the pedestrians and the people in general, and I am asking you to vote the bill down and to protect the boy himself.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. Moran, Chudoff and Pettit asked for a verification of the roll.

There being no objection the remarks of the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, will be spread upon the record.

REMARKS BY MR. TROUT

It is the function of the Western Tax Council to present the proposed XXII Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, limiting the taxing powers of the Federal Government to a 25 per cent maximum on Income, Gift and Estate taxes as a post war permanent tax program, to thoughtful citizens for their consideration, comments and cooperation.

In the following short statement, we will endeavor to give a faithful outline of the relation of the XXII Amendment to war and to peace, to restate its purpose, review its origin and call attention to the necessity of keeping the movement non-partisan. Furthermore, to recapture the spirit of the Constitution by communicatinging with the recorded vision of the founders of government.

To win the World War is the fervent prayer of every true American. A war won and peace lost is a permanent and disastrous defeat. No more effective contribution can be made to winning the post war peace than using our taxing posers for revenue purposes only.

As we stand at the crossroads of our progress, we must recognize that primary responsibility rests with those who have authority in business and in government in the direction of our destiny and in the preservation of American ideals. They are the first line of defense.

Under its operation, the XXII Amendment will:

1. Restore Sovereignty to the States and the people.
2. Prohibit the use of the taxing system for socialistic objectives.
3. Limit the power of Congress over the purse.
4. Curb Bureaucracy and halt Federal invasion of human and property rights.
5. Keep private and corporate enterprise solvent.
6. Restore the values taxed out of property by confiscatory levies now approximating in amount the present public debt.
7. Recognize the law of diminishing returns.
8. By lowering rates it will nicrease the volume and velocity of business, thereby increasing revenue to the Federal Government.
9. During a combat war, be subject to change by Congress.
10. Safeguard the working man's job.

The organization behind the XXII Amendment is the State Legislatures. They have more power than any organization in any government anywhere. It has been said that the hand of man never penned a document that had in it more power than that given to State Legislatures in the Constitution of the United States. As a jury, they are well qualified; no member of a State Legislature can be on the Federal payroll or on relief and the profit motive is removed as an influence in their deliberations.

There is complete agreement among substantial taxpayers that the present taxing system will put an end to private enterprise and will socialize government. The proposed XXII Amendment meets with unanimous approval when understood and is recognized as having the power and the only available instrumentality in government that can keep private enterprise and government solvent and restore to citizens the inalienable "Right to Own" which the XVI Amendment gives the power to annul.

The first income tax bill levied "a flat rate of 2 per cent upon gains, profits and incomes over $4000" and in the consideration of the amendment in Congress and in State Legislatures they had that rate and procedure in mind.

At that time using the taxing powers for socialistic objectives was unthinkable. The statesmen of that day apparently did not realize that they were surrendering the principles of limited government upon which this nation was founded and that they were opening the gateway to communism and the layman far removed from the scene of action did not realize that his birthright was being taken from him.

The sentiment for limiting the taxing powers of the Federal Government by constitutional restraint did not completely die down but subsided when the administration following the first World War applied the principle of reducing rates to increase revenue through an enlarged volume of business. But it flared up when the late Huey Long put forward his "Share the Wealth" program and took on serious proportions when Congress in the tax bill of 1935 applied in a modified form the Huey Long principles by using the taxing system for socialistic objectives. Its proponents vigorously advocated using the taxing powers to dismantle large property units and forbade accumulation by using graduated, discriminatory and unlimited levies. It was the first time in the history of this nation that taxes were levied by Congress for any other acknowledged purpose than raising revenue.

When we granted unlimited taxing powers to the Federal Government, the principles of using the taxing powers for socialistic objectives was brought to a climax by placing a ceiling of $25,000 upon salaries, wages and earned incomes by Executive order and upon incomes from investments in the schedules of individual income tax in the higher brackets in the present tax measure. The latter limited investment in private enterprise for profit. The advocates of the limitation of $25,000 against incomes from whatever source did not put it forward as a revenue producer but to "equalize" incomes. It is not laid to produce revenue for war purposes but a completion of the use of the taxing system for socialistic objectives adopted by Congress in 1935, advocating the use of the taxing system with its graduated levies to dismantle large property units and prohibit their accumulation. Apply this principle to the corporation incomes and it will put an end to our capitalistic system. Corporations are the fountain head of all incomes and the volume and velocity of the flow must be protected if private enterprise is to survive and business is to remain solvent. The major difference between the Huey Long program and the substitute plan Congress adopted is that he proposed to take property from one class and give to another while our present taxing system destroys values. No one gets it. It is the greatest legislative conflagration of values since governments began. It restrains creating values and prohibits the accumulation of property.

The XVI Amendment gave the Federal Government the power to take all the earnings of any citizen at the option of Congress in time of peace or war. It reads:

> "The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes from whatever source derived * * *"

It authorizes but does not compel Congress to use this power.

Our Father, whose name is to be hallowed by the sons of men because Thou art holy, give us that reverence for Thee that will keep us from using that sacred name in an unhallowed way. We pray for purity of thought and of word, in the belief that when these are right our outward acts will not be wrong.

Guide the Senate today in its distinctive duties as framer of the laws of a great commonwealth. May all enactments reflect the considered judgment of men of good intent—men of faith who are looking to the best interests of all the people.

We pray for all soldiers and sailors and airmen at home and afar off. Hold all in Thy keeping as they give their all to the winning of war. May victory be hastened.

For our President, our Governor and our Lieutenant-Governor we pray. May they be wise with the wisdom Thou givest, and zealous in its application.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, from September, 1939, until today, April 1, 1943, the Senate has expended for milk orders $2,370,800.00 out of relief funds. In addition to this amount, the State—to meet the rising cost of milk—had to supplement it with an additional outlay of $877,600.00, making a total expenditure of $3,248,400.00. This was caused by the milk trust bill passed by a Republican controlled House and Senate in 1939, and the taxpayer of Pennsylvania has been denied $1,879,900 in Federal aid.

When are the economies promised during the campaign for office to start? Would not the repeal of the Eccles Milk Trust Bill be a good start?

At the beginning of this Session I introduced Senate Bill No. 88, which has remained in the Committee of Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions.

As we sit here, doing nothing to make savings in government costs, the Treasury of this Commonwealth pays out $75,000 per month for milk. Six thousand dollars is paid for office expense each month and close to $25,000.00 is lost in Federal funds each month.

Mr. President, we the Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, have been sitting in these halls for three months and there has been spent a quarter of a million dollars that should never have been spent. There is a lot of talk about winning the war, about savings of money that could go into buying guns and ammunition for our boys at the front, but we have permitted these monies to be spent, an amount that could have purchased nine fighting planes just to satisfy a political pressure group, the Milk Trust of Pennsylvania.

This Committee meets next Tuesday and I am appealing to the Members, publicity, to report Senate Bill No. 88 to the floor of the Senate and thereby end this pork barrel legislation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Allegheny county, Mr. Holland, may I point out that any loss caused to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is due to bureaucrats in Washington, controlled by the Democrats, who desire to run this state, and just because we in Pennsylvania want to see that the children get milk every day instead of having this money spent for liquor, they think that it should be governed, so that it can be spent in some other form.

It is not the fault of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but of the bureaucrats in Washington, under the Democratic New Deal, that has caused this loss.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, in reply to the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, that the bureaucracies of Washington have control of this loss to Pennsylvania, I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that he is very careless with the truth.

Why should the Federal Government give to this State, or any other State, funds for relief so that the party of which the gentleman from Philadelphia is a member can play politics or pay off political debts?

The gentleman from Philadelphia knows as well as I do that this money is given by the Federal Government to relief recipients and if he does not look upon that relief recipient as one who is in slavery and that that person receiving that money should be permitted to spend it in an American way, a way he sees fit, I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that it is unpatriotic and unAmerican to say to those poor people on relief, those poor unfortunates, that they must spend this money as he dictates. He knows as well as I do that the Department of Public Assistance, and that all those interested in Social Welfare have said the Eccles Bill was not a good bill.

The Senator from Philadelphia also knows that much of this milk con not be used because the people on relief do not have refrigerating systems and the milk is spoiled.

Mr. President, I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, that the so-called bureaucrats at Washington had first in mind the people who were to get this relief, and not to permit his party or the party of any other member of this house, whether Democrat or Republican, to use this money to pay off political debts.

When the gentleman from Philadelphia says that people on relief are using this money to buy liquor, I say to him that he is making an accusatoin against people who can not be present in this Chamber to answer his accusations, and I say it is false, and I say to him this, as Americans, the people of America should be permitted to spend the little bit of money they get from their Government, the kind of people, most of whom have labored for years to make it the strongest and the richest government. The people on relief today are men and women who could not get a job in any way today, and who are on old age assistance due to physical deformities; they can not get a job.

Yes, and some of them I know because I represent one of the biggest and best industrial districts of Pennsylvania, some of those men are waiting for old age assistance, who have been crippled in the mills, who have been denied because laws did not exist during their manhood to get proper compensation from their employers when they were hurt in the mills.

I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, that he wants to study the report of the Department of Public Assistance and he shall find that over sixty percent of the men remaining on public assistance today are suffering from hernias from overwork, from using their bodies to take the place of machines.

I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that it is unAmerican to stand on the floor in this Chamber and accuse any of those poor people of using money for drinking, and it is unAmerican to say to them "here are your measly few dollars a week but we will tell you how to spend it."

RESOLUTION

EXTENDING CONDOLENCES TO THE FAMILY AND FRIENDS OF THE HONORABLE JOHN W. HOWELL

Mr. COLEMAN offered the following privileged resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 1, 1943.

The Honorable John W. Howell, a well-liked and respected member of this Senate from 1930 until 1938, died yesterday morning at his home in Scranton.

Born in that city, he has lived there throughout his life, built up and managed a successful real estate and insurance business, and was active in the affairs of the Republican Party in his home city and in the Commonwealth.

During his years of service in the Senate, he won the respect and confidence of his associates and reflected credit upon his constituents. It was a privilege to know him and his friendship was a thing of value.

He was suddenly stricken on Saturday night of last week, and his sudden end has been a shock to his many friends.

He leaves to survive him a wife, two daughters and two sons; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the death of the Honorable John W. Howell is a distinct loss to the community in which he lived and to the great number who delighted in his friendship, and that to his widow and children, the Senate extends its most sincere sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of this Senate is hereby requested to forward a copy of this resolution to his widow.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, the fact that death loves to remove mankind was never better exemplified than in the sudden passing of former Senator John W. Howell, at his home in Lackawanna County yesterday.

Three weeks ago John W. Howell was in the Senate chamber, making a visit to the place where he spent so many happy years, renewing acquaintances with men with whom he served as a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania from 1830 until 1938. At that particular time his chief concern was about the health of his wife, who had been bedridden for several years.

Little did former Senator Howell realize three weeks ago, as he moved in and about the Senate chamber, that within a period of a very few weeks that he too would join that innumerable caravan going whence there is no returning.

Senator Howell was a man of character. Men strive for form and wealth and badges of distinction, but those weigh little in the scale of life when man's true worth is being assayed. In all the long years of history no man is remembered for his wealth, few men are remembered for their brilliance of intellect, but myriads are remembered for their character, their unselfish devotion to their fellowmen.

When I came into the House of Representatives in 1935 John Howell was a sort of counsellor of mine. I did not have to traverse the legislative highway alone or penetrate the parliamentary wilderness unaccompanied—John Howell was always with me and his retirement from public life gave me an opportunity of sitting in this august body.

Recently I ran across two verses. The first one has no application to him, but I mention it merely to emphasize the second one. The first one runs:

I did a favor yesterday
A very kindly deed.
And then I called to all the world
To stop and look and heed.
They stopped and looked and flattered me
With words I could not trust.
And when the world had gone away
My good deed turned to dust.

That has no application to him, but the other one more nearly fits if, not actually written for him. It runs:

A very tiny courtesy
I found to do today.
'Twas quickly done
With none to see
And then I ran away.

But someone must have witnessed it,
For truly I declare
When I sped back the stony path
Roses were blooming there.

That was Senator Howell, always doing things for somebody, not in an ostentatious manner, but his unnumbered acts of love and acts of kindness have endeared him to all the hearts of all the people of our particular community.

John Howell was a great fighter of tremendous force for good in the Senate of Pennsylvania and I personally was a great admirer of Senator Howell. Nobody in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shared a greater portion of my admiration and respect than did the man whom I succeeded in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

And, while no words of mine can assuage the grief nor lessen the sorrow that must be in the hearts of the family of former Senator Howell, it ought to be a source of great comfort to his family to be able to cherish during the remaining days of their lives the memory of such a devoted husband and father, a model neighbor and a patriotic American citizen.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I move immediate adoption of the resolution just read.

Mr. EALY. I second the motion, Mr. President.

It was agreed to.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction may refuse to authorize the payment of any moneys payable to any school district by the Commonwealth for any purpose during the effective period of this act or any school year thereafter if such school district shall at any time hereafter fail or refuse to pay to the members of its teaching and supervisory staffs the temporary increases in salaries required by this act He may continue to hold such requisitions until provision has been made by the school district for the payment of such temporary increases in salaries

Section 4 In addition to the increases required by this act the board of directors (or board of public education) of each school district is hereby authorized to grant temporary or emergency increases in salaries to members of its teaching or supervisory staff for any period up to and including the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five and to discontinue such increases at the end of the period for which the same were granted any law to the contrary notwithstanding and any temporary or emergency increases heretofore granted by any school district and the discontinuance thereof at the end of the period for which granted are hereby ratified confirmed and made valid notwithstanding the fact that the same may have been done without previous authority of law

Section 5 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I hesitate somewhat to rise today but I feel that it is my duty as a Member of the Legislature in the interest of a democracy. I can go over the Legislative Journal of this House and find men's names recorded on votes in this House who have not been here possibly since the first session of the Legislature. Now, gentlemen, we hear a lot of talk about absenteeism among the laboring class of people in this country. I say it is unfair and unjust to accuse these people of absenteeism. Some of those men are working in trades and in industries where the work is hard and strenuous, and I say it is ill founded when we raise the question of absenteeism, when we as Members of the Legislature, men who are supposed to fight for the interest of our democracy, cannot find time to be in session in Harrisburg to represent the people we are supposed to represent on some very important legislation in the interest of our democracy.

You gentlemen know that time and time again I got up here in behalf of men in the working class who have been accused of being Communists and everything in this House of Representatives, down in the lower ranks of labor, and I have said to you men that that is not where we are going to lose our democracy. If we lose our democracy we are going to lose it by the intelligentsia and the men who cannot find time to stay in Harrisburg and vote on legislation. Today I am going to ask on this particular piece of legislation that no man's name be recorded on this bill who is not in the hall of the House when the roll is called.

Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to waste my time here today figuring out the men who are here and the men who are not here. I say it is the duty of the Clerks who record the voting in this House to record only the men who are here and who vote. I am not going to waste my time trying to keep track of the roll call. I say that the roll should be called slowly, the House should be in order and only the men who are in their seats and answer to their names should be recorded on this vote, and I insist that that be done.

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I have just listened to remarks of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, and I think they are both timely and proper. I join with him in his plea to the Clerks of this House and to the Members not only to do it on this bill, but let us when we come back to Harrisburg to resume our tasks next week in an endeavor to put across this war program of our Governor and of the people of this state, realize that we were elected to do this job. Those of us who have been delinquent in the past should bend every effort to have a speedy adjournment in the near future.

Mr. WRIGHT. Mr. Speaker, surely I do not have to present any formal arguments or reasons for asking your favorable vote on House Bill No. 816. You have been educated in the public schools and know the spirit of service to which the teachers of the State dedicate themselves.

During your years in the public schools you have been influenced by the interest your teachers have had in you and they have pointed out the right way for you to take in shaping your own destiny.

This bill will help to solve a very serious crisis facing our educational system. Pennsylvania's teachers, many thousands of whom are shamefully underpaid, desire an increase in salary.

They should be granted that increase by this Legislative body now in session. As to the desirability by granting the teachers more money, there should be no disagreement.

The existing teachers salary level is unjust and unworthy of the Great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of this great Nation.

There are nearly 13,000 teachers in the State whose annual compensation for their services—indispensable services—is only $1,000 to $1,100 per year. Other thousands receive only slightly higher salaries.

In face of wartime rises in living costs, it will be impossible to justify the denying of these men and women the additional raise proposed—$300 a year for the lowest paid and $100 for the highest.

You cannot fail to be sensitive to the problems of retaining an effective teaching force in the Pennsylvania schools under the existing salary levels.

Almost any sort of unskilled labor and untrained personnel under the present wage scales receive much higher pay than the school teacher who must spend several years and considerable money in preparation for his vocation.

The schools are suffering and a complete breakdown is threatened unless something is done at this time.

At a time when there is so much talk about maintaining morals, on the home front, we are permitting one of our most cherished and highly organized institutions to be seriously jeouardized by failure to provide a living wage to the personnel.

High educational standards are necessary, if we are to properly train our boys and girls for the great military, economic, social and political problems of the great tomorrow.

Good schools are vitally important in the great struggle to win the war and the peace which is to follow—

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker,—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Greene yield to the gentleman from Indiana?

Mr. WRIGHT. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Greene, Mr. Wright, is the oldest man in this House so far as years count, and I am really highly insulted at the attention he has received from the Members of this House. I think he is entitled to courteous treatment all over the House. Nobody means to be discourteous, however, they are being so unintentionally.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has endeavored to maintain order. I hope the Members of the House will give that courtesy to the gentleman from Greene.

Mr. WRIGHT. Mr. Speaker, since proper school standards depend upon the properly qualified teachers, why not keep the better type of teachers in the classroom by giving them a living wage.

Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House—In this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Public Schools belong to you. You own the grounds. You erect and equip the buildings. You feed, clothe and care for the children. You hire and pay the teachers, and why not grant them this much deserved raise and retain the most efficient.

Naturally the $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 that would be required for a decent pay raise, can't be provided out of thin air.

There are various possible methods of raising the necessary funds. An obvious one is the allocation of teachers pay available at the end of the fiscal year, May 31, especially from state liquor receipts.

An additional large amount might be found by reexamination of revenue estimates for the coming biennium.

It is well known that the estimates furnished the Legislature are conservative, and that actual receipts may run far ahead of them.

Nobody wants a budget based on inflated estimates, but it may be found possible, after a careful reappraisal, to grant an extra appropriation for teachers pay without running any risks of over estimates.

State finances are in better condition now than in many years. The teachers should be able to obtain their pay raise without resort to additional taxes. It is up to the Legislature to make sure they do.

You can help maintain the high standards of our educational system by voting yes for House Bill No. 816.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, it might be interesting to review the demand for teacher's salary legislation inasmuch as much was said yesterday by the minority, that the teachers have never received adequate compensation. As I recall the talk yesterday the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, was very vehement in advocating an increase in salary so that the teachers would be adequately paid. So, Mr. Speaker, I think it would not be out of place here perhaps for me to make some personal remarks.

I recall, Mr. Speaker, that back in 1939 I stood alone in this House in advocating an increase for teachers' salaries. Did I get any response from the Democrats or Republicans? I did not. Instead of that they had their minds bent on the notoriuos anti-home rule policemen's salary raiser. Everybody was thinking of policemen at that time. They wanted to pay the policemen anywhere from $1500 to $2000 a year. Thank God, we haven't heard anything about the policemen's salary raise since that time. Thank God, it is coming to the time when we are about to recognize that the teaching profession in Pennsylvania has been inadequately paid.

Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that some of my colleagues do not want me to speak on the teachers' salary bill. At the same time I believe I had an idea four years ago and I believe that two years ago I was among the very few who had anything to say in regard to an increase in teachers' salaries. I also introduced a bill at that time and I believe I am entitled to be heard at this time without any interference by any of my colleagues.

Two years ago I waited for several weeks for either the Democrats or Republicans to introduce a bill in behalf of the teachers of Pennsylvania. Finally I became tired of waiting and I introduced a bill myself which I am glad to say was carried out almost identically with the bill that I introduced. At that time we did not hear very much in regard to the teachers' inadequate salaries and we only gave them a very insignificant sum of a $50 increment. But, Mr. Speaker, I kept the idea alive and today I am very glad and I hope and believe that every Member of this House will vote for the Cordier-Hare bill. The idea which was planted four years ago during my first term has borne fruit, and I assure you that it pleases me as much, if not more, than any man of this House that we are about to give the teachers of Pennsylvania an adjustment of salary so that they will be able to keep up the proper standard of living.

Mr. Speaker, in closing, I wish to say that I certainly am very appreciative of the time that has been given to me, and I do not think that this is going to deter or detract in any way from the vote which will take place in a few minutes. I thank you.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, the measure before the House at the present moment is the product of a sincere effort and hard work on the part of many Members of this House representing both sides and both branches of the House, to bring about these badly needed increases to the schools teachers of this Commonwealth and to do it justly and do it honestly, keeping in mind the needs of the teachers and the ability of the Commonwealth to meet these needs without new taxation. I believe this is being accomplished in House Bill 816. I do not expect that any party will gain any political capital from the passage of this legislation. I do not believe that any Member of this General Assembly shall expect to gain any personal political capital out of the passage of this act. It is the product of a sincere effort of many Members of this House who are interested in this question to bring about these increases. The bill has been well aired; we all understand its import, and I think we are doing a good job when we pass this bill. Certainly we are raising the standards of education and we are maintaining on the job many, many good teachers to carry on the education of our youth.

It is not my intention to speak at length on this bill. I am quite certain that the vast majority of the teachers of this Commonwelath are satisfied with the bill as it is before us. At this time I merely want to rise to thank the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare, my co-sponsor, who gave an excellent presentation of the bill when it was on second reading yesterday; I desire to thank the Chairman of the Educational Committee, the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Sollenberger, and all the members of that committee on both sides of the House. I think we are doing an excellent job on this bill.

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, this is April 1; it is not a fool's day. In my legislative career it is a day in which I feel a great pride because it gives me an opportunity to see democracy really at work. What I mean by that. House Bill 816 which provides increases for the school teachers of Pennsylvania is a manifestation not only of the fine spirit but it is an evidence of a well grounded principle. I feel that I would be amiss in my appreciation of the splendid work that was done by the Committee on Education and especially by the sub-ccommittee on Education, if I did not mention it here today. I do not mean to say that House Bill 816 is the final word of the Legislature in their expression of interest and sympathy for the school teachers of Pennsylvania, but I am confirmed that it is a long step in the right direction, and I think that this Legislature is to be commended for having brought to pass this piece of legislation that recognizes a class of people who by their diligence and their fine spirit of democracy and the evidence of their willingness to take the youth of our country and train them in the ways that they should go, so that after a while they will become the men and women, the future citizens of our Commonwealth, of our state and of our natoin, well grounded in those virtues of learning and knowledge that will make them fit citizens to intelligently represent the great estate that has been committed to their hands.

Mr. Speaker, I am glad in a small way to offer my contribution in support of House Bill 816, and I would like to appeal to the gentlemen of the House to set aside any political feeling that may enter into this contest and let us by common consent agree that the virtue of this bill and the spirit of this bill is so bright and so humane that we can forget our partisanship, and as citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do something by unanimous vote that will prove that we recognize and appreciate the great value of the teaching profession of Pennsylvania and the teachers who are so sacrificial in their work, and place them upon a plane that will better their standard of living, increase their morale and widen their vision for the greater possibilities in the educational field in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Speaker, I appeal to my colleagues and to the gentlemen of this House on both side to show that we are one in spirit and common in our understanding of what really is American democracy. I thank you.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Cordier.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CORDIER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I was happy to hear the gentleman say that the passing of this bill should be accomplished without any new taxation. Will the gentleman state whether or not this bill carries with it a specific appropriation or whether the moneys will be paid out of the general fund of the Commonwealth?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that they will all be paid out of the general fund of the Commonwealth.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us whether or not the requests for appropriation by the Department of Public Instruction have already been increased or will be increased to cover this additional cost?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I am unable to answer that because I am not a member of the Ways and Means Committee which considered this legislation.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in other words I understand the Ways and Means Committee have the real problem of finding the money to do what we want them to do.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman cares to assume that he may.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that all the talk that could have been made on this bill has already gone on the record, and I believe that all the bitterness of debate prior to today was a real effort on the part of the men of both sides of the House to emphasize their position with reference to this legislation. I whole heartedly agree with the other speakers today that this is totally a non-partisan issue, or let us say, it is a bi-partisan issue, to take affirmative action for the school teachers. I do not think that we have to be admonished to forget partisanship in a matter that never bespoke or begged for partisanship in order to put it across. I must blushingly admit possibly that the great cry and the great need for this legislation made itself really felt in Harrisburg after a statement I made several weeks ago, but I can assure the Members of the House that my statement at that time was not necessarily a partisan statement but it was a statement for a group of people who have always been deserving of our sympathy and our help and who I feel are entitled to special consideration at this time.

Mr. Speaker, the Members on this side of the House never doubted for one moment that when a program finally was enacted, while they might not agree with every part of it, they would vote for an increase for the teachers from the beginning down to the very end. It is my sincere hope that the gentlemen on the other side of this building in the Senate will approach this problem in the same manner in which we have approached it and take it apart if they care to, and if they find any inequities or any qualities that they in their great wisdom correct them.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, I do not care to inject any politics in this controversy, but the gentleman from Philadelphia has indicated that sentiment was crystalized in favor of this bill after remarks were made by him, I think on March 11th. If you will look at the record you will find that on February 23rd I addressed this House on the subject of increased compensation for teachers and I appealed to the Members on both sides of the House to make a concerted effort so that the teachers might be given increased compensation. Personally I have been told that those remarks crystalized sentiment in favor of increased compensation for teachers. Personally I want no credit for it because I am happy that this bill is going to pass today however I think the record ought to be put in proper form.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, of course this is the thing that I am professionally interested in, I might say selfishly, others might say something else. I have preferred to do my part in this program, not on the floor of the House vocally but back where some work had to be done, back where there was no fanfare, where we could all work together to bring about something useful and worthwhile.

I have only one sentence that I want to leave on the record and that is this: let the record speak for itself, and let these vacant seats be mute testimony to the great interest and sacrifice of those who bled so profusely, especially through their vocal system, for the school teachers of Pennsylvania.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, when I spoke just a few minutes ago not particularly on the bill, but on the vote that was to be taken on the bill, I stated that I would leave it to the Clerks to record the men who are in their seats in this House. We realize that the Clerks have a hard time to record the votes in this House unless we get attention in the House of Representatives. I hope, Mr. Speaker, in all seriousness that no man who is not here will be recorded on this vote. I am not going to keep tally and I don't think anybody else should have to. I think we as men should be fair to one another and see that a man's name is not recorded if he is not here and that these men who are here are recorded.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. VERONA. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. There is nothing before the House except the calling of the roll.

Mr. VERONA. Yes, there is, Mr. Speaker, right here. Is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that Mr. Lovett is putting a few men on the spot by asking whether they vote or not? There are other fellows who have a little—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. VERONA. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Allegheny that the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, has made a request which is a rule of this House that only those present in the Hall of the House be recorded as voting.

Mr. VERONA. Mr. Speaker, after the vote is taken I would like to know how the gentleman from Westmoreland voted.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has that privilege.

Mr. VERONA. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The clerk will call the roll and only those answering to their names will be recorded by the Clerk. The Clerk will proceed.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. Cordier, Charles H. Brunner, Jr., and Freed asked for a verification of the roll.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, since I have a personal interest in this bill I desire to be recorded as not voting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman states that he has a personal interest and will not be recorded as voting under the provisions of the Constitution.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, a few moments ago I made a few remarks in behalf of Mr. Wright who was making some remarks on House Bill 816. After I left the microphone the Speaker made the remark that he was going to keep order. I realize and every member of the House realizes that the Speaker was going to keep order and it was meant to be no reflection on the Chair. I thought some Member on the floor might be of assistance by saying a word in Mr. Wright's behalf.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Hewitt.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 747, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (f) and to amend clause (g) of section twenty of the act, approved the thirtieth day of March, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 115), entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the first class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries, and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries; prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors; and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens, parties, bodies of electors, registration commissions, commissioners, registrars, inspectors of registration and other appointees of registration commission, election officers, municipal officers, departments and bureaus, police officers, courts, judges, prothonotaries, sheriffs, county commissioners, peace officers, county treasurers, county controllers, registrars of vital statistics, real estate brokers, rental agents, certain public service companies, persons, firms, and corporations operating vehicles for moving furniture and household goods, and boards of school directors; and imposing penalties," by changing procedure relating to registration of state and federal employes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor of this bill, I ask that it be passed over.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection this bill will be passed over. The Chair hears none.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the sponsor of the bill I feel that it is my duty to ask the gentleman from Allegheny why he wants this bill passed over. This bill and two of the other bills have been on the calendar for some days. They have to do with first class cities and there shouldn't be any reason for passing this bill over.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I wanted an explanation of the bill and I thought since the sponsor was absent it would not hurt the bill to wait until the next legislative day. Of course, if the gentleman, Mr. Watkins, wishes to explain the bill that is perfectly all right with me.

Mr. WATKINS. I am willing to do that, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Watkins, desire to explain the bill?

Mr. WATKINS. I don't care, Mr. Speaker, but the Chair has already agreed that the bill be passed over.

The SPEAKER. Unanimous consent is required to bring the bill back on the calendar.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I will then ask unanimous consent to bring the bill back on the calendar.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent? Is there objection?

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and the bill will be passed over.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 770, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 138) entitled "An act defining vocational education providing for the establishment and regulation of vocational schools and providing for State aid in the maintenance thereof and for the payment of tuition by certain school districts and reimbursement thereof by the State" by adding clause (d) providing for future rehabilitation programs in public schools

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section four of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 138) entitled "An act defining vocational education providing for the establishment and regulation of vocational schools and providing for State aid in the maintenance thereof and for the payment of tuition by certain school districts and reimbursement thereof by the State" as last amended by section three of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2548) is hereby further amended by adding after clause (c) a new clause to read as follows

Section 4 Any school district may through its board of school directors

* * * * *

(d) Contract with public or private agencies for the use of its vocational school facilities for the education and training of the wards or clients of such public or private agencies Provided That the total income to the school district from such contracts and from appropriations to the school district from Commonwealth funds for the support of vocational education shall not exceed the full and true cost of the program of vocational education of the school districts

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, I respectfully ask that this bill be passed over in its order.

Mr. RILEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire the reason for asking that this bill be passed over.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I notice that this bill refers to a rehabilitation program and this is the first time it has come to my attention. The question arose as to whether or not there might not be some overlapping of rehabilitation service in the schools. The reason I desired to have the bill held over was in order that I might have time to check it between now and Monday as to the type of rehabilitation provided for, in view of the fact that we already have rehabilitation service rendered by other departments. That is the only reason I had. I do not object to the bill except as to the possible overlapping of services.

Mr. RILEY. Mr. Speaker, I think we can assure the gentleman that there will be no overlapping. I think that can be readily cured by a brief explanation of the bill.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please state what the type of work is?

Mr. RILEY. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman's question I might state that this bill was requested by the school district of the city of Williamsport and would permit them, if enacted into law, to contract with federal, state or private agencies to teach clients or wards, if they may be so called, in other words vocational training or vocational equipment, I should say. The people who would be directly affected would be men who have been incapacitated either by reason of injury or accident in the war or by dislocation of industry because of the war. The bill would permit any school district to enter into a contract with a public or private agency, just as it is doing now. I should like to qualify that now by saying that there are some ten or twelve private agencies which are doing this same work and doing it at considerable cost to those who are involved. This would permit a vocational district to contract with any of these agencies or all of them at no cost to the school district, and to improve the facilities of the regular vocational schools, like perhaps obtaining equipment or other facilities which they do not now enjoy and which would then be used in regular vocational training.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, after listening to the interpretation of this bill I am satisfied that there would be no overlapping with other agencies of the state, and therefore I withdraw my request.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. I would like to have this bill explained, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER, Jr. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman, under the present law no appeal can be taken from the Court of Quarter Sessions of the various counties on appeals in liquor cases. No appeal can be taken in liquor cases from the Court of Quarter Sessions of that county. We have a situation in this state where the courts of some counties have ruled one way and the courts of the remaining counties have ruled the other way, and since there is no provision for an appeal to the Superior Court to have the questions ruled on by this court, we find that the Liquor Control Board is required to recognize the decisions of the respective courts in the respective counties. This will standardize the law and make it uniform by having the Superior Court rule in the matter, and the effect, of course, of the Superior Court's ruling would be statewide.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 522 was debated quite at length a couple of weeks ago when this side of the House offered amendments which were rejected almost in toto. The Democrats will, of course, vote for this bill only because in the title it says, "Relating to post war planning." We agree that there should be an act relating to post war planning. We, however, disagree with the method, the scheme, the organization and the lack of real proposals to be taken up by the commission for post war planning in Pennsylvania. We think the bill is almost all right but we think that it lacks certainty and a great deal of activity for the commission. We want the record to show that we will vote for the bill but that we think that it could be a lot better.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE

MONDAY, April 5, 1943.

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern War Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D.D., offered the following prayer:

To Thee, O God, whom we believe to be infinite eternal and unchangeable, we who are lacking in all these respects, come and pray that our limited faculties may be increased, and our brief and changeful lives become useful to Thee and beneficial to our fellow-men.

May we consider the time now being given us, and the positions we hold, as God-given opportunities for service. May we seek not our own good but the good of others. In this way contentment lies.

We again thank Thee that our lots have been cast in this favored land—a land of broad rivers, teeming plains and fertile valleys. May the voices of happy people, whose God is the Lord, be soon heard again, without the raucous voices of war or the discord of internal strife.

May those now battling for honor among nations, and for peace at home, know that God is with them and that victory is sure.

In the name of our Supreme Commander, Christ the Lord. Amen.

AIR RAID INSTRUCTIONS

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate a communication dated March 29, 1943, from the Council of Civilian Defense, which was read as follows:

CAPITOL BUILDINGS GROUP
COUNCIL OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE

March 29, 1943.

Members of State Senate and House of Representatives:

In view of the fact that it is necessary to extinguish all lights in the Capitol during a blackout on receipt of the Blue Signal (Air Raid Warning), the Capitol Buildings Group Council of Defense deems it inadvisable to attempt to evacuate the members and visitors from the House and Senate Chambers.

Therefore we designate the Chambers of the House of Representatives and also the Senate as Air Raid Shelters for use in both daytime and night air raid or blackout drills.

When the Blue Signal is sounded, the Speaker of the House and the Presiding Officer in the Senate will make the following announcements:

IN DAYTIME

"The signal you have just heard is the 'Blue Signal' indicating the probability of an air raid or an air raid drill.

The Capitol Council of Defense has designated this Chamber as our Air Raid Shelter.

Within the next few minutes, we may hear the 'Red Signal.' If the 'Red Signal' sounds, the doors of the House and Senate will be closed by the Sergeants-at-Arms and their assistants.

This signal will be followed by a second 'Blue Signal' or by a series of 'Red' and 'Blue Signals,' but no one will be allowed to leave the House or Senate until the 'All Clear Signal' has been received and announced."

AT NIGHT

"The signal which you have just heard is the 'Blue Signal' indicating the probability of an air raid or air raid drill. The Capitol Council of Defense has designated this Chamber as our Air Raid Shelter.

In the next few minutes all the lights in the Capitol will be extinguished.

All members and visitors will immediately take their seats and remain there until the 'All Clear Signal' is received and announced at which time the lights will be turned on again."

NOTE: When the necessary blackout materials are installed at the different windows, arrangements will be made whereby lights in both House and Senate will not be extinguished, but it will be necessary for the Sergeants-at-Arms to close the blackout curtains.

The PRESIDENT. Subsequently it is intended to install blackout materials, and when they have been furnished to the Senate Chamber, the lights will not be extinguished, but the blackout curtains will be closed.

If anyone wishes to learn further what the air raid precautions are, a copy of this memorandum will be found at the desk.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President and members of the Senate, this session is about nearing its end, and I would like to call to the attention of the Senate that the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions has a certain bill that I introduced on the fifteenth day of February.

During the last two or three months, we have heard a great deal about school teachers asking for more money, employes on the Hill asking for more money, and various departments asking for more money, and we have a bill in this Chamber now which if passed would increase the salaries of the members of the General Assembly.

My bill, Senate Bill No. 155, refers to old age assistance grants. We have, as most of you know, a Federal law which provides that the Federal Government shall give $20 per month to the aged of this country, providing the states will match that amount. Up until the present time this Commonwealth has not taken advantage of that Federal grant. Opportunities have gone by, which none of us will deny, but nothing has been said of those people who now depend entirely upon old age assistance. The maximum amount that they can obtain in this Commonwealth now is $30; we pay $15, and $15 is paid by the Federal Government.

Mr. President, we have now eleven states that have taken advantage of Federal grants. Only a few days ago in fact, on the tenth day of March, the state of Maryland enacted legislation raising their grant from $30 to $40 a month for the aged of their Commonwealth.

Certainly these persons must be cared for. We all agree that they never again will have the opportunity to go back to the mines or mills or elsewhere, they are dependent entirely upon this grant.

There is no malice in my heart toward anyone here nor toward any member of the Committee; I am only bringing this forth because tomorrow morning this Committee will meet for the first time during this Session and I am trusting they will consider this bill, Senate Bill No. 155, to increase grants from $30 to $40 per month. It will only cost our Commonwealth $5 more and the other $5 we shall receive by virtue of Federal grants.

Mr. President, I have no pride of authorship because my name is on the bill; it makes no difference; I am willing to have this bill co-sponsored with any other member in this Chamber; in fact, I am willing to forget about my measure and have someone else sponsor such a bill.

I am interested in the objective and I do not care what methods are used, and, therefore, I trust tomorrow morning that the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions will consider this measure, and if possible, report it out to this body for action.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. EDMONDS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I state to the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, that if he looks at the list of committee meetings for tomorrow that has been distributed in our post office boxes, he will find that the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions will meet tomorrow at twelve o'clock noon, and if there is a bill of his at that time before that Committee, I feel very sure the Committee will give him ample opportunity to expain it.

I am sorry, Mr. President, there has been a delay, but the delay has been caused in large measure by my ill health.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I intend to present to the Chair a bill, but before doing so I should like to make a brief statement. May I have the privilege of the floor?

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none. The gentleman from McKean may proceed.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I want to say to the members of the Senate that I am about to present a bill which is intended to preserve for the counties the four mills tax which they now obtain on securities.

When the state of Pennsylvania gives up its right to the four mills tax everybody on this floor knows that regardless of what anybody here thinks, the state of Pennsylvania is going out of business of collecting the four mills for itself, so that the counties will have to levy their four mills tax, probably, under the old law. There never was a more disgraceful or inefficient system of taxation than the four mills tax which the counties collect on securities, regardless of what one of the members of the Senate said to me in saying I should sing the Internationale when I spoke of it.

I want to say that there is no fairer bill on the face of this earth than the bill requiring owners of securities to pay four mills to the county and four mills to the State of Pennsylvania.

I am unable to cry when I see people with securties paying eight mills, when I know owners of homes and owners of farms and workmen who work and pay rent are paying 45 mills to 60 mills on real estate and those people with securities are only paying eight mills, and now we are to leave them off with four.

Mr. President, my bill is intended to have the State of Pennsylvania collect the four mills tax that goes to the counties and to retain one-half of one mill to cover its expense, to require the owners of these securities to file with the Commonwealth a statement showing the amount and number and the value of their securities, so that the counties may get this money.

If we do not do this there is no way on earth that the counties can collect their four mills for there is no machinery now which will enable them to get this four mills that they are entitled to under the law.

When the State went into the business of collecting four mills for itself and four mills for the counties, the counties got the jump, because security owners did not dare altogether to cheat the counties, when they were making returns to the State of Pennsylvania showing the securities they owned.

If the State of Pennsylvania collects it, the honest man will pay, as he pays now, and the cheater will have to pay because he will not dare to make a return to the State of Pennsylvania with too much larceny and too much perjury in it,

I do not know, Mr. President, whether this bill will get any place. When I look over the creeping, crawling, smelly things that have been on the Calendar of the Senate of Pennsylvania the last two or three weeks, I wonder whether any bill with any merit would want to associate with the things it will have to associate with on the Calendars we have had for the last several weeks. I still say it.

Mr. President, I want to say that I hope this bill will go to some committee that sometimes meets and to a committee that has a chairman that at least will think it over, because if we collect this four mills tax and if the cheater pays with the honest man, then we will be able, I think, after a while, to reduce the four mills that the county gets to three mills and possibly two mills.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 507, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirteen, (P. L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes," providing a method for the collection, by the State Department of Revenue, of the tax imposed by section one of said act for county and city and county purposes, and for compensation to the Commonwealth for such services; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State and county officers; prescribing penalties; and repealing sections two to sixteen, both inclusive of said act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

FELICITATIONS TO THE HONORABLE LOUIS H. FARRELL

Messrs. KEPHART, TALLMAN, GOURLEY, HALUSKA, THOMAS, BARR and CROWE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 5, 1943.

Whereas, On the early morn of April 5, 1877, there was born on a farm in the town of Bustleton, a suburban community of the great Commonwealth of Philadelphia, a young old Republican affectionately known by his friends in Philadelphia and his intimates on Capitol Hill as "Uncle Lou"; and

Whereas, Since that date, 66 years ago today, the number of nieces and nephews has increased by the hundreds to the point where he is now known as a true man of the people, by the people and for the people; and

Whereas, His opponent in the recent election can never hope to match his prowess as a family man in the true sense of the word; and

Whereas, Nothing describes this "man of the people" better than those words of Edwin Markham in his poem "The Man of the People":

"The color of the ground was in him, the red earth
The tang and odor of the primal things—
The rectitude and patients of the rocks;
The gladness of the wind that shakes the corn;
The courage of the bird that dares the sea;
The justice of the rain that loves all leaves;

> The pity of the snow that hides all sears;
> The loving-kindness of the wayside well;
> The tolerance and equity of light."

Resolved, Therefore, That we as members of this Senate bow and pay homage to our colleague and esteemed "Uncle," the Honorable Louis H. Farrell of the Eighth Senatorial District, Philadelphia, on this, the occasion of his sixty-sixth birthday.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to add his felicitations to those of the distinguished Senators whose names appear on the roll as having voted in favor of the adoption of this resolution and wishes to state that Lou Farrell is one of the youngest and ablest Senators he has ever met. He has prepared a speech for us in reply to the resolution.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I voted "aye on that resolution.

I do not know what I can say, but today does happen to be my birthday and the Philadelphia newspapers made note of it and Senator Kephart and his colleagues over there played a trick on me. I want to say I appreciated it and all the members of the Senate are invited to partake of this beautiful cake, and if they are good boys I may not only break cake with them but I may help them to bend elbows.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I am about to present a resolution and ask its immediate consideration, but as a preface I may say that this resolution simply requests the Insurance Commissioner to make a report on certain companies which are now defunct and which are in the process of liquidation, which report through his office.

RESOLUTION

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER TO SUBMIT REPORT

Messrs. WADE and EDMONDS offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 5, 1943.

Whereas, The Insurance Commissioner may suspend the business of an insurance company in Pennsylvania when he finds its assets insufficient, or for other reasons; and

Whereas, The Insurance Commissioner has power to take over the business of an insurance company when it is insolvent, or for other reasons, and act as receiver thereof, and liquidate its affairs for the protection of policyholders and creditors; and

Whereas, The law giving the Insurance Commissioner the above powers was passed on May 17th, 1921, and was amended at length on June 22nd, 1931; and

Whereas, During the past decade, a number of insurance companies were taken over by the Commissioners and have been in the process of liquidation for some time; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate call upon the Insurance Commissioner for a report and summary of his progress in liquidating each defunct insurance company; and be it further

Resolved, That the Insurance Commissioner be urged to make this data available at the earliest possible moment, preferably within the next week, so that the data will be of maximum value to the Senate.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Is this another Taylor-Wade resolution or is this just a Wade resolution?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, it is an Edmonds-Wade resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Then, Mr. President, will the gentleman from Cumberland explain the purpose of this resolution for the members of the Senate?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President. This resolution requests the Insurance Commissioner to make a report on companies that are now defunct and which are in the process of liquidation and I think this Senate should know the facts regarding those companies that are in the process of liquidation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. What will we do about it when we get the information?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, let us get the information first and then determine what we should do with it, depending on the quality and quantity of the information.

Mr. SHAPIRO. What I am trying to get the gentleman from Cumberland to state, Mr. President, for my information, is the purpose of this resolution so that I may know how to vote. If we are just asking for this information to clutter up our records that is one thing. If we are asking for information for an avowed purpose I would like to know what it is, in addition to which I do not think it wise for this body to ask for a great deal of information that may or may not be semi-private, to be printed in the journals of this body, and it strikes me there might be some information that should not be made public. I do not know, Mr. President, therefore, I should like to know what is the ultimate objective of this resolution.

Mr. WADE. The ultimate objective, Mr. President, is to get this information from the Insurance Department and I am sure other members of the Senate, as well as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, will be interested in this information.

Mr. SHAPIRO. May I suggest, Mr. President, that the Banking Department has under liquidation a great many closed banks and I have yet to see a resolution on this Senate floor asking for the Banking Department to give us all the information concerning those closed banks.

I understand the purpose of this resolution is to get information. I can see no purpose in getting this information, unless we have an objective, and I have not yet heard the objective.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, we are privileged in this Senate to have as its Presiding Officer a former Banking Commissioner and on any questions concerning closed banks we know we can go directly to him. However, we are not so privileged to have the same information concerning insurance companies.

Mr. SHAPIRO. May I say on this resolution that I am serious in the statement that it may not be wise to have all of the information in the possession of the Insurance Department concerning closed insurance companies spread on the minutes of the Journal of this body.

as we may be doing something which we may subsequently regret.

There are in government certain matters which must be kept confidential. I know in the Banking Act there is a specific provision with respect to information which it has in its possession. A report about these insurance companies may affect existing institutions. I doubt the wisdom of this resolution.

RESOLUTION LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be laid on the table.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

RESOLUTION

PROHIBITING MORE THAN TWO SUCCESSIVE TERMS AS PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

Mr. CROWE offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows; and asked its immediate adoption.

In the Senate, April 5, 1943.

Whereas, George Washington, the first President of the United States, established the tradition that a President should not serve for more than two terms, which was maintained for 140 years; and

Whereas, The great liberal, Thomas Jefferson, considered Washington's precedent of such great importance under a democratic government that he refused to be elected for a third term, and Andrew Jackson, leaving the presidency more popular than when he entered, and other presidents adhered to this tradition; and

Whereas, Any President's serving more than two terms weakens the legislative branch and creates a subservient judiciary, thereby impairing the constitutional plan and framework of the Federal Government, the three branches of which were intended to be independent; and

Whereas, The result of anyone holding the high office for more than eight years is that a powerful group of confidants, administrators and bureaucrats may grow more and more irresponsible to this country's electorate; and

Whereas, At this time when democracy is being challenged all over the world, it well behooves us to return to this tradition; and

Whereas, When the same President serves for more than a decade, many of the younger citizens, such as those who are now fighting and dying to preserve our ideals, become unfamiliar with the merits of the system and tradition under which there is periodically a change in the presidency of our country; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of this Commonwealth hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to propose an amendment to the Federal Constitution prohibiting any person thereafter from serving more than two successive terms as President of the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the presiding officers of each House of Congress and to each United States Senator and Congressman from Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution.

MOTION THAT RESOLUTION BE LAID ON TABLE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, in the Committee of Federal Relations there is a similar and much shorter resolution and in view of that fact, and also that action by resolution is not of much account anyway, I move that this resolution be amended so that it will be laid on the table.

Mr. DENT. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. There is now before the Senate a request for immediate adoption of the resolution.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I say this is a poor way of doing a good thing, perhaps, and that we had better wait for this report from this Committee.

Therefore I move that the resolution be laid on the table.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, a motion to lay on the table always takes precedence. I raise the question whether or not there need be an amendment.

RULING BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDENT. The Chair sustains the point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I was going to make a long declaration about this resolution, but I now want to make one suggestion; I suggest that we all get together and fight the enemy instead of fighting Roosevelt.

On the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

It was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is carried and the resolution is laid on the table.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. COX, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 5, 1943.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, April 12, 1943, at four o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, April 12, 1943, at nine o'clock.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 17, on third reading, entitled:

An Act creating a Municipal Employes' Retirement System for the payment of retirement allowances to officers and employes of political subdivisions, and providing for the administration of the same by a board composed of certain state officers and others appointed by the Governor; imposing certain duties on the State Employes' Retirement Board, and the actuary thereof; providing the procedure whereby political subdivisions may join such system, and imposing certain liabilities and obligations on such political subdivisions in connection therewith, and as to certain existing retirement and pension systems and upon officers and employes of such political subdivisions; providing certain exemptions from taxation, execution, attachment, levy and sale; and making an appropriation go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 18, on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to parole; abolishing the Pennsylvania Board of Parole; reestablishing the jurisdiction, powers and duties of the courts and of the Board of Pardons with respect to parole; and authorizing the employment by the Attorney General of a Supervisor of Paroles and field agents go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I should like to suggest to the members of the Senate that Senate Bill No. 18 ought to be disposed of. From the experience of the past few weeks and what I saw last week, particularly in Philadelphia, I want to suggest to the members of the Senate in all seriousness that the delay on this bill is causing a great deal of trouble in the city of Philadelphia and elsewhere. The Parole Board, the Probation Department in Philadelphia, does not know whether it is going to continue to function or how many cases it will have to function with. The State Parole Board does not know whether it is going to continue to function and the result is that in Philadelphia alone there is chaos. Mr. Hackney, of the Parole Division in Philadelphia, whom I have known a great many years, is receiving a great leal of unjustified criticism and is going to get more unless we finally and promptly dispose of this proposition. One way or another it ought to be disposed of and I hope the request that this bill go over in its order does not mean that this matter will not be disposed of today.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Delaware state whether his motion that this bill go over in its order means that it will not be acted upon today?

Mr. HEYBURN. Yes, Mr. President, it does.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Does the gentleman from Delaware know when it is proposed to act on this bill?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, this bill is too important to rush through and some members of the Senate have requested more time to study it.

The Senator from Philadelphia knows that as well as I do and I think probably there is just a little political skirmishing going on.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I ask for an answer, Mr. President. I was not skirmishing, I was making a suggestion. When the gentleman from Delaware now says that this statement of mine was political, he is just talking thin air. This bill has been studied for over a month by every member of this Senate and this bill has been on our third reading Calendar over two weeks. Half a dozen important bills have gone through this Senate in the last few weeks within two or three days. Senate Bill No. 402, on second reading today, was not in committee more than two days.

Mr. President, I say that this bill has been on the Calendar for more than three weeks and everybody has studied this bill. People have speeches prepared on this bill both for and against it.

Mr. President, the statement by the gentleman from Delaware that the remark of mine was political loses sight of the fact that the newspapers all over the State have been full of criticism against the members of this body for dilly-dallying with this important proposition. I therefore object to the bill going over in order.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I am going to move that this bill go over in its order, but first I want to say the newspapers of the Commonwealth have been criticizing absenteeism in this body and I regret to say this very much, but one of the worst offenders here is the Senator from Philadelphia, as the record will show.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 18 go over in its order.

Mr. WADE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, a charge has been made that I am an offender on the ground of absenteeism. I might suggest to the gentleman on the other side that it would not have made much difference if all of us were absent, from the character of legislation that has been on the Calendar thus far, and nobody knows that better than the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn.

The only important legislation that has come up has been postponed time and time again. The gentleman from Delaware has moved time and time again that Senate Bill No. 177 go over in its order, that Senate Bill No. 18 go over in its order, that Senate Bill No. 311 go over in its order, the only three important pieces of legislation that have been on our Calendar have gone over in order time and time again, for only one reason—and I make this as a specific charge—they did not have enough votes to pass them.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I introduced Senate Bill No. 18 and I feel that it is very good legislation, irrespective of what the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, feels about this bill. I believe after I have talked on this matter, as well as other Senators, that the bill will go through, whether it be a Republican or a Democratic measure.

From the very outset, starting back in 1939, and probably I will say in 1941, this was considered a non-partisan measure and passed the Senate. Nine Democrats voted against the bill, seven voted for it.

In 1942, when Governor James asked to postpone the effective date on this particular bill there were many who voted for and many who voted against, and today this is a non-partisan bill and if any particular person seeks to inject politics into this bill, for the purpose of diverting attention from the real issues of the bill, let him be honest, and when this bill comes up for third reading and final passage I will try to convince this Senate that it is an honest-to-goodness bill and not prompted by any party, whether it be Republican or Democratic, and I hope that it will go through for the benefit of the people of the State of Pennsylvania, the prisoners, the convicts, the parolees and otherwise. Thank you.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 60, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections two thousand six hundred twenty and two thousand six hundred twenty-five of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 71, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section four, article two of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, providing for annual sessions of the General Assembly, salary of members and an annual budget.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this Senate Bill of mine, No. 71, has been an active member of the Amalgamated Order of Acrobats, and has gone over and over and over several times.

Now, however, it is up for final passage and I would like to make two or three little remarks. In the first place, Mr. President, you can vote easily for this joint resolution because this is its first session and if you want to change your minds you can vote against it at the next session.

In the second place, New York and New Jersey have annual sessions and, as you may have noticed, they have both shut up shop and gone home for the season, because they have annual sessions.

The third argument is that if you have read the budget of Governor Martin you will find down at the bottom of page five this statement, where he speaks of one of the greatest uncertainties being expected revenues, and that is because they have written the budget for two years.

Mr. President, one reason that this joint resolution had to go over in order was because of my acquaintance with Mr. Abbott Low Moffat, Chairman, Ways and Means Committee, of the Assembly of the State of New York. I wrote to him and asked him if he would kindly write me a letter which would pass this bill, which he has done. I can not read it all as it is too long, but I will read two paragraphs:

"Furthermore, in projecting budgets for a two year period, both the Executive and the Legislature are at a particular handicap in estimating revenues and in estimating the actual needs of the state. As a result, I am sure that if we had a biennial session both branches of the State government would tend to make larger allowances for possible contingencies. When such contingencies failed to arise but the money was available, the inevitable result would be the unnecessary expenditure of moneys.

"Perhaps more fundamental yet is my profound belief in the importance of the legislative branch of government in American democracy. From time to time, Legislatures fall into disrepute and certainly most Legislators are permanent butts for the carcicaturist. Nevertheless, it is through the Legislature that representative democracy functions and, for all their shortcomings, Legislatures are ultimately the guardians of our rights."

Mr. President, that quotation is from a letter from the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the General Assembly of the State of New York, and, as I have said before, they have finished their business. They have a budget of just under $400,000,000, which is the same as we have for two years—that is just a matter of interest.

I hope, therefore, that each Senator who is doubtful will vote "aye," because at the next session he can vote "no" if he wishes.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am not opposed to this measure, in fact I propose to vote for it, but the title of the bill reads "A Joint Resolution Proposing an Amendment to Section four, article two of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, providing for annual sessions of the General Assembly, salary of members and annual budget."

Mr. President, the wording of this bill does not correspond with the title because I have found no place in the bill providing for an annual budget.

I am wondering if that is a mistake or if an amendment might be in order.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 71, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the gentleman will read the first five lines of his bill, page 2, he will find that the budget is provided for.

Mr. WOODWARD. Thank you.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia press his request that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. WOODWARD. Under all the circumstances I do, yes, Mr. President.

It was agreed to.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 99, on third reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section one of article Fourteen, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by making sheriffs eligible to succeed themselves go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

And said bill having been read at length the thir time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. I understand, of course, Mr. Presiden that no amount of talk would change a vote on this bil However, I just want to remind you that when th Auditor General's office was set up, it was set up fo the specific purpose of being the auditor for all the various departments of the State Government, and the onl thing that the Auditor General spends the money appropriated to him by the Legislature is for the purpose o administering his own official duties. The law now covering this situation is that no Auditor General may succeed himself. I think that is ample protection for th people of Pennsylvania in the matter of moneys bein spent by the Auditor General.

However, we all know that since the present Audito General was a candidate for Governor, it has been popular pastime to take pot shots at him ever since th General Assembly convened in January. This is nothing more or less than a piece of special legislation aime at a person and not the office. This is nothing but underhanded manner of criticising the Auditor Genera If his expenditures have not been right, and if th moneys have not been honestly spent, then the Committee on Appropriations should not have approved an given to the Senate a bill to make up a deficiency appropriation.

You men on the other side can pass this bill—you hav the votes—but I say that it is a mean advantage th you are taking of an individual who tried in an Amer can way to become Governor of the State of Pennsy vania.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am not taking "pot shot" at Auditor General Ross. I am supporting th bill because I think that everybody that handles publ money ought to be audited, and this is not a new thin When Mr. Lewis was Auditor General, the Governor di this very thing and his books were all thrown open to

C.P.A.; I do not know whether it has been done with other Auditors General or not.

I am willing to stand here and say I think the very best Auditor General we ever had was a Democrat, Warren H. Roberts; I think his report was the best Auditor General's report ever submitted.

As far as I am concerned, this is not a partisan measure, in fact, I regret that it seems to be aimed at a Democratic Auditor General, which is not my intention at all.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not think the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward, is being very consistent. I remember two years ago, when the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward, returned from the Bahamas, after being there February and March—Mr. Ross at that time was State Treasurer—and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward, would not write a check to Mr. Ross to give that money back, due to the fact that Mr. Ross was a Democrat.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the present Auditor General's accounts were audited last year by certified public accountants appointed by the Governor. Previous Auditor General's accounts, when it has been necessary, when they wanted to, were always audited without any objection by the Governor, by the employment of certified public accountants.

It seems a strange piece of legislation that you have Auditor's accounts audited. In other words you are appointing a watchman to watch the watchman, and it strikes me that that kind of legislation seems to be peculiar to Pennsylvania, as I do not know of any other state where the Auditor is audited by legislative enactment.

I want to take advantage of this opportunity to say that I listened to the Governor of Pennsylvania when he retired as Governor, right before he retired, make certain what I think were specific charges against Mr. Ross. I made up my mind then—and now say publicly—if any of the charges were proven, I would have been very willing to vote to unseat Mr. Ross, but instead of finding anything done about this matter, I find that the matter is laid on our table and on our desks, like a lot of other things that lie around here without action. This is an important action; it is an important charge, and nothing has been done. On the contrary, Mr. President, find a statement made by the Governor that Mr. Ross would come in and ask for more money, to which he was not entitled, because he had illegally spent a great deal of money, and that was followed by a deficiency bill put in on behalf of Mr. Ross for $180,000 deficiency and we passed only last week a deficiency approriation or $175,000.

It strikes me that is quite an inconsistent procedure. You do not hand a man $175,000 if he has been guilty of misappropriating a great deal of money during his erm; you do not make charges against a public official and then forget all about them, because that destroys he confidence of the public in public officials, and in iew of that fact I can only view this bill as a bill to udit the accounts of Mr. Ross because he happens to be Mr. Ross and because he happens to be a Democrat.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in my opinion the bill we assed last week for a deficiency appropriation for Mr. oss was not a deficiency appropriation, it was a figure hat the House and Senate passed two years ago, and we all know that the Governor has the power to cut appropriations but not to raise them, and due to the fact that the House and the Senate had cut the appropriation to the Department of Commerce some, Governor James at that time—I do not like to use the word spiteful—but just to get even with the Democratic House, I would presume that was his point, he cut the appropriation in the amount of $179,000.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I am afraid my colleagues are unnecessarily alarmed over this bill. This bill merely provides that the Governor may appoint auditors necessary to make an audit.

There is no attempt here particularly to get at Mr. Ross. It is true an appropriation was given him and if it is determined that Mr. Ross has not judiciously expended some of this money he can be audited, but I do not say he has.

I do say, however, that an audit, even if it is made, would never hurt an honest man. I cannot see any reason for all this confusion about this bill now before us.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

UNANIMOUS CONSENT REQUESTED TO OFFER AMENDMENTS

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to ffer amendments to Senate Bill No. 311.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. COX. Mr. Persident, I would appreciate it if the entleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, would with-raw his request for unanimous consent to introduce mendments, and permit this bill to go over in its order ntil tomorrow, as I also would like to introduce some nendments to this bill and I certainly do not want them conflict with the intentions of the gentleman from umberland.

Therefore, if the gentleman from Cumberland will be urteous enough to do that I will be very happy to onfer with him after today's session and compare our rospective amendments.

Mr. WADE. May I suggest, Mr. President, that this ll go over in its order for the time being, until later in e day, during which time the Senator from Allegheny, r. Cox, and myself, will compare our amendments.

Mr. COX. The only difficulty with the suggestion of e gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. President, is the ct that we have a very heavy Calendar today and there e a lot of bills that I am sure the gentleman from umberland is as much interested in as I am, and we n not very well compare these very voluminous amend-ents which I have, and from all indications the amend-ents of the gentleman from Cumberland are very vol-ninous, and at the same time pay attention to the lendar.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in view of the fact that I have not been able to get a copy of Senate Bill No. 407 before today, which I should like to read, I now request that it go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I object. Copies of the bill are in the files and on our desks and have been there.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I know the bill is in the file on our desks, but I suggest to the gentleman from Cumberland that this bill was introduced on March 29, it came out of committee March 31, and since that time I have not been able to get a copy of the bill.

Mr. President, when I came here last week I asked for but could not obtain a copy of this bill, or any of the bills numbered following No. 404 and therefore in view of that fact I should like to read this bill before I try to vote on it; since I have not had a chance of reading the bill, I am asking that it go over in its order. If the gentleman from Cumberland objects, that is all there is to it.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia has spent considerable time today in criticizing this body for not taking prompt action on bills, mentioning for one Senate Bill No. 177, which has been before us for some time and also another bill, No. 311, and also a third bill—I do not recall the number.

Now, Mr. President, we have before us a bill that has been recently introduced, the Committee gave it prompt and careful consideration, and the bill merely makes it possible for fraternal associations, whose by-laws and the State law of Pennsylvania require to hold conventions at least every four years—this bill would enable the Insurance Commissioner to suspend that requirement, which under present conditions should be suspended because of travel conditions and so forth and because the Federal Government has requested that unnecessary travel be restricted.

I hold in my hand a copy of this bill which I received last week, and I should be very glad to hand this over to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro. I assure him that there is nothing malicious in this bill whatsoever.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I am not interested in any controversy between the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, but since I have been a member of this Senate I have tried conscientiously to read and study every piece of legislation on which I have to vote.

Last Thursday before leaving for home, I secured copies of all the bills that were then printed, which were available for study. I have here a Calendar of last week, marked by one of the employes of the Senate who secured the bills for me, and opposite Bill No. 407 is marked the word "out".

I do not think that any member of this Senate should rely, on final passage of any piece of legislation, on the interpretation of that legislation by the sponsor—and I mean that as no reflection to the geneltman from Cumberland, Senator Wade—but it might be that other members of the Senate disagree with the object Senator Wade is trying to accomplish in this particular bill.

On my own behalf and also on behalf of other members of the Senate who would like to read this bill, I also ask that it go over in order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 177, which has been referred to as an example, was introduced on February 22, 1943. Certainly I object to a bill of its importance and which has been on our Calendar for so long and which has been amended and re-amended so many times, I object to it going over in order.

When it comes to Senate Bill No. 407 and when I have every bill up until today—I have read every bill up to No. 406—and bill No. 407 comes on the Calendar, which was introduced Wednesday, and this gentleman wants me to vote, I shall be glad to vote on this bill but I will be obliged to vote "present".

I never heard of a reasonable request of that character being refused and a comparison between this bill and Senate Bill No. 177 is odious.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I again ask that this bill go over in order.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 407, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 422, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the sixteenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred seven (P. L. 92), entitled as amended "An act defining the duty of coroners, where death is sudden or violent, or is of a suspicious nature and character, and of police, and health authorities, in this Commonwealth, in reference to the disposition of bodies of persons whose cause of death may be the subject of inquiry by the coroner, but where it appears the cause of death is not surrounded by suspicious circumstances," by providing that investigations of deaths caused by accidents shall be made by the coroner of the county in which the accident causing death occurred

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 473, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-seventh day of February one thousand eight hundred seventy-two (P. L. 179) entitled "An act to provide for the more economical collecting of state county poor and military taxes in the county of Huntingdon"

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

O God, Thou unseen yet ever present source of all life; we worship Thee as "our Father which art in heaven." We seek Thee that we might know Thy thoughts, share Thy work and establish the order of Thy will in our hearts and relationships.

Thou who dost direct "the stars in their courses" dost also seek to direct the ways of men into an ever increasing experience of full ness of life. Thou takest note of the falling of a sparrow but also of the struggles of all men. Thou givest meaning to the crystal and the cell and unity to all Thy works but Thou art also the reconciling and redeeming power through which man may be delivered from sin and ignorance and enter into newness of life.

Thou dost honor man through Thy call of comradeship in service. May we ever be conscious of Thy call and responsive to the leadership of Thy Spirit.

Bless we pray Thee these Representatives called to service for the welfare of the people of this great Commonwealth. Give them spiritual discernment in all the performance of their duties. Help them to remember that all life is rooted in moral and spiritual reality, and all authority has its ultimate source in Thee. RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. SARGE. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 53.

In the House of Representatives, April 1, 1943.

Each Easter Season in this enlightened country thousands of live chicks and ducklings and young rabbits are sold for temporary Easter pets for children who know nothing about, and care less for, their proper feeding and care.

Most of these unfortunate chicks and ducklings and rabbits die within a few weeks of starvation or misuses or plain cruelty.

Each one of these chicks or ducklings or rabbits, if properly cared for would have grown to maturity and in time would have assisted in reducing the food scarcity existing in the nation.

The sale of these live fowl and animals has become more than a matter of cruelty and now takes its place as a means of hindering and interfering with the prosecution of the war effort by wasting needed food and increasing the scarcity of meat.

It is now a matter more for the attention and action of the State Council of Defense than one for local societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the attention of the State Council of Defense is hereby called to the situation created by the sale of chicks, ducklings and young rabbits during the Easter Season and the Council is hereby respectfully requested to request all merchants, farmers, and dealers in poultry and other live stock to immediately discontinue the practice of selling such chicks, ducklings and rabbits and to publicize its actions in order that the public might be informed of its contribution to the scarcity of food in the purchase of such live stock; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House shall transmit a copy of this resolution to the Chairman of the State Council of Defense.

Referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

By Messrs. IRVIN and O'BRIEN. (Not printed).

In the House of Representatives, April 1, 1943.

The Honorable Samuel J. Perry, a former Member of this House from the 19th District of Philadelphia County, died on Monday, March 29th, at the age of seventy-one years.

He was a Member of this House during an uninterrupted period of twenty-two years, and since his retirement in 1932, he has been employed in the office of the Sheriff of Philadelphia County.

He was a member of the Republican Executive Committee of Philadelphia, president of the First Independent Club of the 25th Ward, and the founder of the Westmoreland Republican Club.

As a Member of this House he was in constant attendance during its sessions, and displayed keen interest in matters affecting the welfare of his constituents; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives marks with sorrow the passing of one who devoted so much of his life in attending to the duties of his office as a Member of the General Assembly and extends to the surviving members of his family its most sincere sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House shall forward a copy of this resolution to those who survive him.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Whereas, Pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution of March 5, 1941, adopted by the Senate on March 5, 1941, and concurred in by the House on March 17, 1941, a Commission was appointed by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania known as the "Thomas Jefferson Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania" for the purpose of evolving plans in collaboration with the Thomas Jefferson Bicentennial Commission established by U. S. Congress in order that same may be submitted to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania preparatory to the celebration of the Bicentennial of the birth of Thomas Jefferson on April 13, 1943;

Whereas, The Thomas Jefferson Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania evolved elaborate plans long before the entry of the United States into the present global war calling for a grandiose celebration throughout the entire breadth and length of our Commonwealth; and

Whereas, Our present war-efforts call for an avoidance of any and all detractions from our total war-efforts needed for the attainment of victory and thus preclude local celebrations in each one of the thirty-six districts originally designated by the Thomas Jefferson Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania as well as the execution of the maximum program, the blueprint whereof was submitted to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania on March 11, 1942, and

Whereas, The Thomas Jefferson Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania decided to recommend to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania to limit the celebration of the Bicentennial of the birth of Thomas Jefferson to (1) a Joint Commemorative Session of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania on Wednesday, April 14, 1943, at 12 P. M. noon, Eastern War Time, to receive appropriate messages from His Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania and many other dignitaries, (2) for the issuance of Commemorative Certificates for distribution among the members of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania and collaborators of the Commission, (3) to distribute 21 prizes in War Bonds totalling $700.00 for the best essay to be entitled "The Spiritual Legacy of Thomas Jefferson" in a state-wide contest, to be conducted autonomously in each one of the seven districts designated by the Commission and (4) to ask His Excellency, the Governor of Pennsylvania to issue an appropriate Proclamation in Commemoration of the Birth of Thomas Jefferson and his immortal contributions to the American ideology of Government, Now Be It Therefore Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate and the House of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hold a Joint Session on Wednesday, April 14, 1943, at 12 o'clock P. M. noon, Eastern War Time, to hear the commemorative messages of His Excellency Edward Martin, Governor of Pennsylvania, His Excellency Colgate Darden, Governor of Virginia, Dr. Robert L. The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. GILLAN offered the following amendment:

Amend sec. 1, page 1, line 6, by inserting after the word "firemen" the following: "athletic association, improvement association, playground association, band, orchestra, musical organization."

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. AUKER offered the following amendment:

Amend sec. 1, page 2, lines 13 to 16, both inclusive, by by striking out the words "No or-" in line 13, and all of lines 14, 15 and 16.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TIEMANN. Mr. Speaker, in order that the Members of the House may know what we are thinking of in this amendment I would like the privilege of speaking and explaining the purpose of the bill along with what this amendment will do. The purpose of this bill is to grant permission to church and other organizations such as volunteer firemen, war veterans posts, unions or any charitable institutions the privelege of playing bingo, after they petition and secure permission from the quarter session court of the county where such organization is located. It specifically states that none of the proceeds received can be given to any individual or promoter for the conduct of such games, and provides penalties for any violation.

I might further state that no organization licensed to sell liquor or malt and brewed beverages shall be granted a permit hereunder to conduct bingo games on the licensed premises. This does not restrict the organization but it does restrict the premises. This bill has been amended numerous times to help adjust conditions existing in other sections of the state.

The amendment with respect to liquor was placed in the bill because a number of Members of this House have informed me that with such a clause in the bill they would favor the final passage of this bill. Believing that it would do no harm to any organization even those who hold a liquor license, I agreed to the insertion of the amendment. When an organization plays bingo they do not confine it to their own members, but desire the public at large to participate in such games. I went to the Legislative Reference Bureau this afternoon to check up further and only a few minutes ago I received a telephone call advising me that an act is already on the books known as Act 1834, P. L. 117 which prohibits all kinds of games being played when there is a liquor license held. Apparently it makes little difference either way with this clause in this bill or out of the bill, with the exception that with it in the bill I have the support of an additional twenty Members of this House.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am sure I have no special objection to the bill providing there is no discrimination set up in the bill, but I cannot for the life of me see why certain gentlemen in this House want to discriminate against fraternal organizatoins simply because they have a liquor or a beer license. I represent the American Legion in the state of Pennsylvania who have many Legion halls. Also there are veterans' organizations throughout the state that have their own homes. Quite a few of them have licenses in those places. We would have no other place to play bingo if this bill were passed in its present form. I am assuming that this is also true of very many other fraternal organizations all over the state. Most certainly the argument is very poor to say that this clause was included in it at the interest of possibly five or ten or twelve members of the House who said that they would vote for the bill if this clause were in it. The bill is either good or bad on its merits. This bill with this clause in it is bad on its merits. I seriously question the constitutionality of this act with this clause in it, because it very definitely is discrimination against all organizations just because they have a license. It sets up a special class of legislation to my mind, and it is very much of a question as I say whether the act is constitutional with this clause in it. All that we ask in behalf of the fraternal organizations, in behalf of the veterans' organizations throughout the state is to be given the same privilege as the rest of the people and the rest of the organizations have throughout the state, and I respectfully ask every Member of the House to vote for this amendment.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Committee on Law and Order I wish to explain why this bill was brought out on the floor of the House. This bill is a home rule bill which will allow every community to settle the question of playing bingo as they see fit in that particular community. I have been on this Law and Order Committee for many years, and every session there are a number of bills brought into this Commttiee and on the floor of this House which have local significance. For instance, a bill that will be suitable for Philadelphia will not be suitable probably for the country districts. This allows them to take their troubles to the local courts instead of to this House. It does not belong here. It belongs in some tribunal at home.

The reason this bill is drawn as it is is because many people said they favored the bill provided there were no Sunday or liquor rackets connected with it, and that is the reason the original bill was amended.

I have not received one letter from any dry organization, from any church organization, from any Sunday organization, from any organization whatever against this bill. All of the reports I have received are that the bill was good, provided there were no Sunday or liquor rackets connected with it. I have only received one letter that said anything against the bill, and that seemed to be from a sailor boy according to the literature, his name was not signed to it, but he was saying if I could once see them playing bingo in Philadelphia I would know what kind of a racket it was. But outside of that there has not been one letter in opposition to this bill. I have received probably one hundred letters against Sunday desecration but this bill seems to be a good bill. I believe it is a good bill and the reason I am opposed to this amendment, I am afraid it will hurt the bill and will drive from it a lot of support that would be for it. If this amendment is allowed to go in the bill it is questionable whether a number of men will not vote against the passage of the bill.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I arise at this time to heartily concur in the amendment of the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, in support of this amendment, inasmuch as from what I have seen throughout my own community and other communities, throughout the state, there would be no provision for holding your bingo games for those charitable organizations, if this amendment were not put into this bill. Again may I say that many organizations who today are deriving funds from such games which will be legalized upon the passage of this bill are doing many more charitable things than will be accomplished without this amendment being put into effect into this measure. I say to the Members of the House it is very necessary to adopt the amendment offered by the gentleman from Blair for the simple reason that the provisions of the act will be defeated by withholding permission to hold bingo games in such places that have licenses to sell malt or brewed beverages.

I again ask the Members on both sides of the House to support this amendment in order to maintain the benefits of this measure before us.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. GILLAN offered the following amendment:

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 24, by striking out the word "town" and inserting in lieu thereof "incorporated towns."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third, fourth, fifth and sixth sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 488, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Secretary of Highways, at the request of and under agreement with, the Public Roads Administration of the United States, to lay out, establish, construct and maintain flight strips and roads to the sites of war activities or to replace roads or streets which have been closed by defense or military activities and to condemn property for such purposes; authorizing a width of two hundred feet for such roads in certain cases, and making appropriations.

And said bill having been read at length the second time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McMILLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand under the terms of this bill federal funds will be accepted by the Department of Highways for the purpose of building these roads to war industry plants and for building flight strips for aeroplane use?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, yes, presumably that is so. It will permit the Department of Highways to contract with the Federal Roads administration for the building and development of roads, access roads into defense areas, especially plants which are built off the main highways and where a large military area has been taken. Many of our highways have been cut off by the right-of-way of the Federal Government. This bill would permit the Federal Government to replace routes of travel around those areas taken by them and paid for them out of Federal funds.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me if he knows how much money shall be appropriated or put aside from the Motor License Fund for the construction of any such roads?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is the understanding that the Federal Government is to reimburse the State Department of Highways one hundred percent for any work they do for the Federal Government.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is there any present knowledge of approximately how much money will be used?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I think that is unknown due to the fact that we do not know yet just how many roads are going to be built, access roads into those areas.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know what will happen to these roads and flight strips after the emergency passes?

Mr. McMILLEN. Of course, any roads that are of a state nature or any roads that are replaced would naturally fall back to state ownership. For instance, if a state road is cut off, and the routes of travel that are already maintained by the state were cut off, naturally any road that would be provided in lieu of it would be a state proposition.

Mr. COHEN. I understand further that these roads are to be built around defense plants and also around government reservations?

Mr. McMILLEN. Only to the extent that they provide routes of travel for the ordinary truck traffic that is now traveling that way.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, then to be perfectly clear these roads that will be paid for one hundred percent with Federal funds will eventually become a part of the state or local district system of highways, is that correct?

Mr. McMILLEN. Yes, that is my interpretation.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman familiar with House Bill 56 on page one of today's calendar, the first bill on the calendar which provides for the taking over of highways by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or by the boroughs, townships or counties in which such roads are located?

Mr. McMILLEN. No. Mr. Speaker, I am not exactly familiar with that.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if I read the bill correctly House Bill 56 provides that all these roads after the emergency passes will be taken over by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for inclusion in its regular state highway system or by local political subdivisions. Will the gentlemon say that that is a fair statement of House Bill 56?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry I cannot answer the gentleman from Philadelphia on that. I am not familiar with it.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, that is all. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Ewing?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EWING. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I assume that the gentleman as usual has carefully followed the interrogation, and I desire to ask him whether that is a fair statement of the purpose of House Bill 56, whether it would permit after the emergency is over these roads which are to be built one hundred percent with Federal funds to become a part of the state highway system and the highway system under the supervision of township and borough officials?

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 56 allows the townships and unincorporated boroughs, or any borough, township or city to take over and maintain at the present time and after the war is over.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand correctly that the townships, boroughs, or political subdivision that take over these roads will not have to pay for the cost of the building of these roads?

Mr. EWING. That is correct.

Mr. COHEN. I desire to thank the gentleman from Allegheny.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed Calendar, by Mr. Lloyd H. Wood.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 634, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections seven hundred three, seven hundred four and nine hundred and three of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. Amend sec. 2 (sec. 903) page 7, lines 1 to 26, both inclusive by striking out all of said lines.

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 903), page 8, lines 1 to 29, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 903), page 9, lines 1 to 27, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

(13) Truck, tractor and semi-trailer combined. Maximum Gross Weight—45,000 lbs. Maximum Gross Weight on any Axle—20,000 lbs.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire, if it is possible to avoid it at this time, to enter into a lengthy debate on the merits of this bill. I merely want to say at this time that the sponsors of this bill have had under consideration for the past week or ten days the advisability of agreeing to this amendment, and we have concluded that it has practically no advantages to offer to the sponsors of the bill or the trucking industry. We have practically everything that this would guarantee to us under executive order at the present time, and I ask the Members of the House to vote down this amendment.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood, to say that they had everything they wanted under an executive order?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman understood me to say that, he misapprehended the intended import of my remarks. I did not say any such thing. I said we had under executive order, which of course is the equivalent of saying that during the duration under executive order the trucking industry enjoys practically all of the advantages that are offered under this bill. Therefore, if we agree to go along on the duration proposition we will get just exactly nothing.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, under this executive order does it apply to all trucks or just the trucks that are hauling war materials?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, trucks that are hauling war materials.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, therefore, those that are not hauling war materials would not be able unless this amendment to this bill were adopted to increase their loads.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Of course, Mr. Speaker, we do not have a classification hard and fast for the purpose of hauling war materials. Practically all of the larger trucks at one time or another are hauling war materials.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, but there are some trucks that are not hauling war materials, is that not right?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, should not those trucks have the same advantages that the other trucks are having?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, that is what we propose to give them under this bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, will not this amendment then for the duration put them on the same basis as the other trucks hauling war materials?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Well that is almost a distinction without a difference. There would be no occasion for the smaller trucks to want this advantage exclusively for hauling war materials. However, the larger trucks, and I dare say—I could not say this as a hard and fast proposition—but I know that it is practically true that all these larger trucks at one time or another have hauled and will continue to haul war materials.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, then it is purely a matter of wanting some legislation rather than the right to do what you are now doing that this bill is needed at all, is that right?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Well, Mr. Speaker, I see that the gentleman from Allegheny is going to insist upon a debate so that I might just as well go into the merits of this bill now.

Mr. BROWN. I yield to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, we have surrounding the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania about six or seven states, practically all of which enjoy a maximum load of several thousand pounds in excess of the reasonable request that is set forth in this bill. To be specific, I will give you those weights in the respective states: In the state of New York the maximum load is sixty-one thousand five hundred pounds. In Ohio it is fifty-seven thousand seven hundred fifty pounds. In West Virginia it is seventy-two thousand pounds. In the state of Maryland it is fifty thousand eight hundred pounds. In the state of New Jersey it is sixty thousand pounds. The state of Delaware now provides for three thousand pounds more than we enjoy at the present time under existing law, namely, thirty-nine thousand pounds, and a limit of forty-two thousand pounds. Therefore, out of six states that surround Pennylvania, the state of Delaware is the only one that will have a maximum load that will be less than the proposed forty-five thousand pounds that are included in this bill.

As far as road construction is concerned, the durability of the highways, I do not desire to go into that any further than to say that the roads of Pennsylvania are as substantial, if not more substantially constructed than they are in the surrounding states. Pennsylvania is in the middle of all these states as a bottleneck. That is to say, take as an illustration, we have in Pennsylvania the canning industries. If a canner in Pennsylvania desires to send a truckload across the state to the Philadelphia market, it takes three trips to haul as much as a truck hauling a pay load from a canning industry in one of these surrounding states down within the Philadelphia market area. On the other hand, if we have someone in the Philadelphia market engaged in the clothing industry and they desire to have their goods transported to the New York market, the same situation prevails. That is to say, that it would require three truckloads from Philadelphia, whereas someone across the line in New Jersey can haul in two truckloads the equivalent.

I don't know how much further Mr. Brown wishes me to go but I will let it suffice for the moment to say that we have made a reasonable request here in the large tractor job. We request only six thousand pounds in addition to a law that is twenty-three years old. That goes clear back to the time when we had solid tires on the trucks. I think this is a very reasonable request and one with which the Members of the House can certainly well afford to go along.

I want to conclude by saying that I am not in the trucking business, I am not associated pecuniarily or connected by affinity or consanguinity with anybody that is in the trucking business. I voted for this bill a few years ago because I thought it was for the best interests of the people of Pennsylvania, and that is why I am for this bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us whether or not in these other states there are rebates that go back to the political subdivisions from the licensee?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I am not posing as an authority on the setup in these other states. I cannot understand what bearing that question would have on the existing fact that they haul seventy-two thousand pounds in West Virginia, as opposed to thirty-nine thousand pounds in Pennsylvania. The fact that somebody gets his truck fleeced certainly would not lighten the burden on the highways.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, in order that the Members will not be confused I have only inserted a paragraph in this bill. The weights remain the same but because of the draftmanship we had to insert the new matter by amending section 2 which necessitated placing the weights in another position in the bill, but the weights are identically the same as in the original bill.

It is very difficult for me to follow the reasoning of the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood. If they already have the authority to do what they are doing then why the bill at all? Unless they simply want to be generous and give to the state additional money for doing what they lawfully have the right to do now, but for which they are paying no additional fee? Maybe that is the reason, for obviously there could be no other reason.

Let me read what I put in the bill in order to help the truckers and to be most generous with them, and I quote the only new paragraph in the amendment:

> Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this section, the permitted gross weights of the following types of vehicles heretofore provided for shall be as follows, during the continuance of the war in which the United States is now engaged and until the end of the next session of the General Assembly to convene after the cessation of hostilities:

If the truckers and those interested in this bill want to do a service to those of us who have a belief that this increased weight should not be allowed unless some rebates are given back to the small communities who must repair the streets, who must take care of the damage to the highways and the bridges, why don't they give it a trial, not only for the duration of the war but until the end of the next general session, which will convene after the war? In other words I am trying to do something here that which we can do. I am trying to bind the next regular session after the war in behalf of these truckers. If anybody can object to that, certainly there must be something behind this bill, which has not been given to us, and by that I do not mean that anyone has any ulterior motives. I do not make that accusation but I cannot see why anybody would object to this amendment, which is not only more than lenient but even goes beyond our power and gives the pledge of faith that this increase in weight will not be disturbed until the next general session following the cessation of hostilities.

This amendment will inure for the benefit not only of those who have the right now but to others who may not be fortunate enough to have war contracts. Those who have war contracts do not need this bill, as the gentleman from Montgomery well knows. But I believe in fairness to the man who perhaps is on the line carrying goods, using trucks that might be necessary later on, has to have this right too. There should not be a law whereby one man is favored because he has a contract or by virtue of the materials which he is hauling, and his trucks allowed to go through and the other man not allowed to go through. Let us make it general for all trucks. Let us say to them, if you prove by the time the war is over to the next General Assembly that you have not damaged the roads, then we will say to you this provision will be stricken out.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman from Montgomery to go along with this amendment and I feel sure that the entire membership of the House will vote for it.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BROWN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, if he cares to explain to the Members of the House what reasons he has, if any, for not making this act a permanent piece of legislation?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the first reason is that I believe those who oppose this act because of the fact that these trucks will do some damage to the highways and the roads off the main highways, have a case in point, and I believe before we write them permanently into the law and increase these weights, we ought to have some assurance that some of the rebates will go back into the communities that must carry this load.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny admit that there is a prospect that the trucks will use the highways for at least two more years, and even longer under his amendment?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, absolutely Mr. Speaker, I would say if there is anybody here has any reasonable information as to when the war will end, I will take the gentleman's word as well as anybody else's, and I will say that two years is as good a guess as anybody else could make.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that under the gentleman's amendment trucks would have the right under this amended to use the highways with these weight limits that have been provided for at least a minimum of two years

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, that is correct except this, whatever legislation we may pass before the next session of the General Assembly, the Governor would have the constitutional right, if he saw fit, to call a special session, and if he would proclaim in the call the matter concerning the increase in weights, and the Legislature should wish to increase or decrease they could do so. With that exception I answer the gentleman's question.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, is it the gentleman's feeling that the primary highways of the Commonwealth are not constructed strong enough to carry this weight?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that the primary highways might be strong enough. However, if the gentleman will allow me to qualify the answer, I would say that the primary highways are but the trucks do not travel entirely over the primary highways.

I may give the gentleman an example of some of the municipalities in my county, Turtle Creek, East Pittsburgh, Pitcairn, Wilmerding. As I understand, the primary highway for the trucks there is the Lincoln Highway. If the trucks would only use the Lincoln Highway, somebody would have to provide an elevator to let them down from the Highway into the plants of Westinghouse at East Pittsburgh or build a scaffold perhaps one thousand feet high. They must get off the main highway to get to those plants and in getting off the main highway they traverse the streets and highways of the municipalities and the subdivisions thereof.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Allegheny familiar with the percentage of motor truck travel that is conducted over the primary highway system of all the truck traffic that is carried in the Commonwealth?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am not, in terms of actual weight or mileage. I have only a casual observation in seeing these trucks going to and from those industrial plants and organizations.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Will the gentleman from Allegheny admit that the construction and maintenance has been more or less curtailed during the war?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, certainly I will admit that, and maybe that is a good reason why the bill ought not to pass at all. I may withdraw my amendment and vote against the bill. I did not have in mind that the gentleman would make a good argument as to why the bill should not be passed.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I find myself in an unusual position, in that I must disagree with my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Brown's, amendment. I sort of find myself in another unusual position, in that I am going to reverse my vote on this bill from that of the last session. During the last session I voted against any increase in weights for trucks, but as every Member of this House knows the facts that faced us at the last session do not face us today. We are in the midst of the greatest war in which this country has ever been, or any country. Perhaps the most single important phase of that war is transportation. We speak daily of going all out, and to go all out we must give the trucking industry, one of the greatest arms of our transportation field, all of the help we can give them.

As I understand the amendments offered by Mr. Brown, reduced to their simplest form, come to this: This Legislature says to the trucking industry, "We will give you a trial period in which you may increase the weights on your trucks, the weights carried by your trucks." That involves not alone a mere additional load on the trucks, it involves this: all of the trucking industry, the owners of individual trucks, single trucks, the owners of a fleet of trucks, if they are in the all out hauling of war materials, must increase the size of their trucks. It means that in most cases they must go out and buy additional axles, wheels, and tires. It means that they must buy larger trucks. Now, are we to say to the trucking industry, you shall have this trial for the duration of the war so that you can carry the life blood of our war effort, and at the same time hold over them the Sword of Damocles, in that, at the end of the war, after the next session of Legislature, they may find this tremendous outlay for the equipment to put on the fleet of trucks they will purchase, oversized axles and tires, will be rendered useless because we will once again want to return to the old weight standards.

I say, Mr. Speaker, in this state where we have always fostered manufacturers, industries, transportation, it is not for this Legislature to say now, we will give you a trial period and at the end of the trial period the equipment which you have purchased may be rendered illegal and useless.

It is argued, that we may tear up the highways with this additional weight, we may render them useless. My thought on that is this, at a time such as this, when we are spending flesh and blood and bone of our young men in an effort to win this war, we should not be thinking of concrete or steel or other things that are necessary to make up a road. I think we should say to the trucking industry, You are doing a very vital job, we want you to carry more loads, and we are going to make it legal for you to do it. We are not going to put a penalty on you in asking you to buy trucks which after the war may be rendered useless."

It is for that reason, Mr. Speaker, that I find I cannot vote for the amendment offered by my colleague.

Mr. BENTZEL. Mr. Speaker, I was not going to speak on this amendment tonight, but Mr. Brown smoked me out. The gentleman from Allegheny says there is no ulterior motive. I want the House to know that there was no ulterior motive in my interest in this bill as co-sponsor. Many years ago I was in the trucking industry. As a matter of fact, I was one of the pioneers in the trucking industry, I was the one who ran the first line between York and New York in 1916, and helped the war effort at that time. At that time in the United States we had 326,000 trucks on the highways of our states. At the beginning of this war we had 4,911,500 trucks. That is a few more than we had in 1917. I say to you that the reason I am interested in this bill is that I have a son on the battle front. He has been there for a year. Bottlenecks are assuredly with us, and we have had them for quite some time. We must give the trucking industry the credit which is due them. We admit that there is a small percentage of the trucks in the United States that are hauling war materials. We find that eighty-eight percent of the trucks in our country are operated by one truck concern. There are seven percent that have two trucks, two precent that have three trucks and about three percent that have more than three trucks in the entire United States. It is this category that we are trying to help carry more weight or load. Most of you will remember as Members of this House two years ago we did pass a trucking bill, passed by the House and Senate, but the Governor vetoed that bill. Then what happened? After the Governor vetoed the bill, we found on May 26, 1942, when he asked for law enforcement officials to desist from arresting to allow trucks to haul the weights asked for in this bill, we found that the law enforcement officials did not go along with Governor James' proclamation. The fact of the matter is that many arrests have been made since that time, and they are still making arrests. This is only a validating bill. All that we are asking for now is that we allow them to haul the weights that the Governor of Pennsylvania in 1942 asked that they be allowed to haul and were not allowed. These truckers are not asking to be allowed to do anything for nothing. The revenues from the increased weights and the increase of license fees for these trucks in this particular category would amount to $360,000 a year. The trucking industry today in Pennsylvania is paying twenty-five million dollars towards your roads. The question has been raised here as to what effect trucks have on the roads. I am very glad to answer that question. I am not an engineer but I do have some information here that I think will be valuable to the House. We find that Mr. Eastman in Public Aids to Transportation, Vol. IV Page 121, found that the weather and other natural forces, rather than the character and size of the motor vehicle, are responsible for nearly seventy-five percent of highway maintenance costs. He observed that

> "All pavement types are subject to weathering and kindred deteriorating influences not associated with traffic."

We further find that in our Pennsylvania system of Highways the assistant Director of Highways, had this to say at a meeting at Bedford regarding the trucking industry and other transportation.

> "In driving over a highway, it is more natural to assume that the maintenance of the road surface and base which carries the traffic loads would be most expensive to keep in satisfactory traffic carrying conditions. Such is not the case. The following figures show definitely that the general repairs of the berms, ditches, drainage, signs, traffic lines, markers, etc., with the exception of the roads and streets in boroughs and cities cost more than the maintenance of the base and surface."
> "The figures presented by Mr. Buckius reveal that on the state highway system the cost of base and surface maintenance was only 35% of the total cost of the maintenance of the highway system. It is reasonable to assume that at least a portion of this base and surface cost would have been incurred if no vehicles at all had used the highways and that therefore the cost incurred could be divided at least into three major categories:
> (1) maintenance due to the action of the elements
> (2) maintenance due to the use of passenger cars
> (3) maintenance due to use by commercial motor vehicles.
> "Assuming a division of approximately one third to each category, trucks would be charged directly with only about 12% of the maintenance cost of base and surface."

I have an expression of opinion by Commissioner Thomas H. MacDonald, of the United States Public Roads Administration, in an address before the American State Highway officials in October 1939. Mr. MacDonald has this to say:

> Poor highway foundations and weather conditions have been the major cause of highway damage in the opinion of Mr. MacDonald, the nation's foremost highway engineer. He recounts, "One of the complaints is that the roads are being ruined by the operation of heavy trucks or heavy buses over them. To illustrate the approach of the highway engineer to that problem—after studying his road, he decided that the trouble did not lie in deterioration in the road surfaces themselves but in the foundation under the road; so, perhaps twelve to fifteen years ago, the highway engineer started the study of soils as foundations.
> After all, the road is nothing but a thin ribbon laid over the supporting ground. Regardless of what material is on top, it cannot support the load except as the foundation underneath gives support to that thin ribbon on top. Over a period of ten or twelve years now, a control has been established over soil, so that it is definitely possible to say today that these soils can be controlled in such a way that thin surfaces can be built to carry the loads, heavy loads, if properly distributed on the axles and under pneumatic tires, with very little deterioration.

In that connection, Mr. Speaker, let me say that today we are building roads with a nine inch concrete surface. I challenge any man to say to me or anyone else that a roadbed of eight or nine inches of concrete can be broken down by any tractor-trailer or any motor bus or any vehicle propelled by gasoline. It cannot be done.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, in conclusion let me say that this measure to my way of thinking is a validating act, giving the truckers the right to haul just what they have been hauling without being interfered with by the various state officials, and mainly the constables. I ask the Members of the House to support the measure.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the amendments offered by Mr. Brown. As one who has served on a Committee on the Interstate Council of State Governments on truck legislation within the past year I went down to Washington and appeared before a Senate Committee that had a bill before them to give the Interstate Commerce Commission the right to regulate the weight of trucks in the different states throughout the United States. I went down and opposed that bill because I felt that the individual states themselves should regulate their own weights, and that the people of the states would be much better satisfied if we in the states regulated our own weights and measures.

My friends, I do not oppose the original bill, but I do feel that Mr. Brown's amendments are fair and will give an opportunity to the truckers who are paying an increase in their license fees on these weights, and I feel this amendment would give to the truckers the opportunity to prove to the people and to the state of Pennsylvania that the weight of these trucks will not destroy the highways of the state of Pennsylvania.

I want to say a word in regard to Mr. Bentley's remarks. I feel that these trucks that are now being used in the state of Pennsylvania are perfectly able to carry the loads asked of them. I do not believe it will be necessary for these truckers to go out and buy any new equipment. I think their trucks are capable of carrying these additional weights, and therefore, I do not see that there would be any hardships on the truckers whatsoever. I feel that the amendment offered by Mr. Brown is just, and I ask the Members of the House to support this amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Moran and Mr. Schuster and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

The amendment offered by Mr. Lloyd H. Wood was read as follows:

Amend section 2, page 12, lines 9 and 10 both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, the last amendment offered by him is identical with the amendment offered by the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood. Does the gentleman desire to withdraw that amendment?

Mr. BROWN. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, withdraws the last amendment offered by him.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third section was read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. BROWN offered the following amendment:

Amend the title, page 2, next to last line of title, by inserting after the word "and" the words "temporarily changing."

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tahl.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TAHL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, in reading House Bill 747, Printers' No. 244 I find that this bill takes away from the Auditor General and gives to the heads of various departments the right to certify that an employee is on the state payroll. I would like to know from the sponsor of this bill why this change is necessary.

Mr. TAHL. Because, Mr. Speaker, it serves duplication of effort. The head of the department must send in the name to the Auditor General, and the Auditor General then issues the certificate. It is in line with the practice of the federal government that only the heads of the department issue such certificates.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I should like to know from the gentleman from Philadelphia whether or not the Auditor General has a complete list of employes of the Commonwealth?

Mr. TAHL. He has, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I should like to know further, Mr. Speaker, from the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tahl, as to whether or not the Auditor General has a seal of office.

Mr. TAHL. The gentleman knows that he has, Mr. peaker. Why does he ask me that question?

Mr. CHUDOFF. I should like to know from the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tahl, on page 3, lines 20 nd 21 of this bill, starting with the words "head of the roper department, board or commission under the seal f his office," I should like to know from the gentleman om Philadelphia whether every department. board, or ommission of the Commonwealth has a seal of office?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, as far as that goes, it is my nderstanding that all the boards and commissions have a seal of their own.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I should like to know further, Mr. peaker, from the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tahl, as to whether or not he does not feel that it is better to have one central certifying agency rather than having a number of agencies certifying these employes?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I think that the present method pursued is in line with that pursued by the Federal Government. The head of each department must certify the names of his employes, and I do not see why we should have duplication. The Auditor General must at the present time get the names from the various departments and then certify them. Under this bill it merely follows the procedure of the federal government.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia to say that under the bill in its present form you have to duplicate? You have to ask both the head of the department and the Auditor General?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, as I tried to tell the gentleman, at the present time the Auditor General must get the list from the various departments and then certify them. This bill would do away with that duplication and merely require the head of the department to issue that certificate. That is just the thing being done now by the federal government. The name of the employee is certified from the department where the person is employed. That is actually what this bill does, and nothing else.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I should like to know, Mr. Speaker, whether it is compulsory for the Auditor General to approve every payroll of any board, commission or department of the Commonwealth, and as a result thereof he has this list, and it is not necessary for them to supply him with it.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, that has nothing to do with this. He has to approve the payroll. He must get the list from the departments of all the persons in public service as to the right of the person to vote. It doesn't have anything to do with the payroll at all; it only has to do with the right of the person to register and vote.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I should like to know of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tahl, whether or not under the present system any resident of Philadelphia has lost his right to vote, or any employee of the Commonwealth has lost his right to vote?

Mr. TAHL. Will the gentleman please repeat the question?

Mr. CHUDOFF. I should like the gentleman from Philadelphia to state whether under the present system, that is, under the Auditor General's certificate, any employee of the Commonwealth has lost his right to vote?

Mr. TAHL. I am not saying that, Mr. Speaker. This is to expedite matters; that is the intent of the bill.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. Speaker, I feel this is another bill that is before the members of the House that has no reason to be here. It is just the same as changing the name of the Pennsylvania Motor Police to the Pennsylvania State Police. Under the present system, if an employee of the Commonwealth is working in Harrisburg and he wishes to vote at home all that is necessary is that the Auditor General certify that he is an employee of the Commonwealth working in Harrisburg. No employee of the Commonwealth has ever lost his right to vote under the present law, and it is just a matter of spending a lot of money and also changing the right of the person making the present certification, therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask you to vote this bill down as an unnecessary measure.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I wonder where the gentleman was last week when we passed the companion bills to this measure. They were passed by the entire membership of the House. This is a good bill, and it doesn't cost the state more money; it costs it less money, less bother, and less duplication. I ask the Members of the House, both the majority and the minority to vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 849, Printer's No. 256, be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of a public hearing.

(After a pause.)

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, temporarially I will withdraw the motion to recommit in order that debate upon the bill may have the widest latitude.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, withdraws his motion to recommit temporarily.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, tied up with House Bill 849 in my opinion is the message of the Governor at the opening of the present session of the Legislature. I would say that in order to get the full import of the Governor's language it might be well to read what the Governor said.

Mr. Speaker, I am ready and willing to go ahead with the debate, but I am not going to be unnecessarily interrupted by a great number of the gentlemen on the other side getting up and walking out.

If all the gentlemen on that side have left who intend to leave, then I am going to continue. I might say that this is the first bill relative to the Governor's program concerning the war. If we are going to debate serious bills we are going to do it without interruption, and I am certainly entitled to that courtesy.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker would inform the gentleman that the Chair has endeavored to keep order, and asks that each member respect the gentleman who has the floor. The gentleman will please continue.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, as I said the full import of the Governor's message to this Legislature can best be described by reading the record, and in the Governor's message opening the session in his extraneous remarks following his main speech he said:

> Members of the General Assembly and fellow Americans: I would like in a most confidential way to speak to you just a little further. I have great confidence in the American people, and at the close when I leave, if the newspapermen will meet me in my office we will determine what is best to give to the public in the remarks that I am now about to make.
> I feel that the American people are entitled to know as far as possible our objectives, our aims and how we intend to attain them.
> America is now in two great wars. One is to defeat the most ruthless enemy in the history of civilization; the other is to retain our American way of life. The first can be accomplished by all of us unselfishly doing everything we can to win this war. War, however, is eventually won by the boys on the front line. Regardless of restrictions on food, on transportation, on clothing, on pleasures, our contribution here on the home front is so insignificant compared to what they contribute, that there is no comparison. Here on the home front we must do everything to make the lives of our boys on the fighting front, and those who are to go to the fighting front, as easy as possible. That can be done by writing them cheerful letters telling them how greatly we appreciate the sacrifices they are making.

Then we must speed up production here at home. I would like to see it come to pass that every rifleman has a reserve of three or four rifles; that each tank company may have plenty of tanks if tanks become disabled; that our boys in the air have plenty of planes so that it will not be necessary for them to fly a plane under any condition that is not mechanically perfect. We must increase our building of ships."

Gentlemen, House Bill 849 in my humble opinion strikes at the very root of the Governor's—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, now restricted to debating upon the amendments, or may he debate this bill?

The SPEAKER. The amendments are agreed to. The gentleman may debate the bill. The question before the House is, will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, before the interruption I said that the bill before the House on third reading has a direct bearing on the Governor's remarks to this Legislature. It likewise, gentlemen, has a direct bearing on Pennsylvania's participation in the war effort. House Bill 849, authorizing certain state support for emergency child care centers, has been prepared and been introduced by the State Council of Defense in recognition of the need of a state supported child care program.

However, an examination of this bill can only raise serious questions concerning the evident policy of the Defense Council on this vital child care issue. We must assume when our official agencies introduce legislation that it reflects the considered policy of these agencies. As revealed in House Bill 849 and the continuing appropriation for child care in the proposed budget for child care, the only conclusion is that here is represented an official policy on a vital war question, a policy which we can without hesitation say, will cause a slowdown of vital production because of a hostility to possible federal cooperation because of a "save-the-pennies-but-risk-losing-the-war" approach.

Let us understand the importance of the establishment of a child care program. We must clearly understand that child care is primarily a war question, not a social question. It is a war production question, not a welfare question. The rapid establishment of a child care program will be one of the most determining factors in our ability to maintain production schedules. It is incontrovertible that we have reached the limit of the usual labor reserve, yet we have production schedules that require constant addition to the labor force, not only to replace men going into the armed service, but a real increase in production force. This production has to be stepped up by opening up jobs to negroes and women. Much of this new labor force, the majority of it, according to the Federal census figures of October, 1942, will be women.

Whether you like the idea or not, gentlemen, women are in industry and will have to go into industry more rapidly. Anything which slows down their recruitment into industry or their performance once they are working actually hurts the war effort. Further, whether we like the idea or not, Federal census figures of October, 1942, in their special report on labor reserves show that most of the available women are unmarried women and women with older children, and the only reserve left is young women with young children.

The plain facts then demonstrate that these women will have to go into industry if we are not to endanger production. How many women workers have we added to production in Pennsylvania? There are at the present time, gentlemen, according to the United States employment figures, three hundred thousand new women war workers, and a certainty according to the Man-Power Commission and the United States Employment figures that by the end of the year the number must be six hundred thousand. This, gentlemen, is the number referring to Pennsylvania alone. Three-fourths of those will be mothers with young children. This has been established on the basis of Federal census reports and the State Council of Defense in its own statement.

Then, gentlemen, anything which delays the building of this female labor force disrupts production schedules, hurts the war effort and will be registered in American lives on far-flung battlefields a few months hence. What has been proven in England and the United States to be the chief cause for the delay of the entrance of women into industry is what House Bill 849 aims to prevent. It is a fact that women with children do not enter industry unless they have a means of providing care for their youngsters. It is a fact that makeshift methods of letting the children stop at grandmother's to visit or at an aunt's are either so unsatisfactory that won't use it, or if she does, it is so unsatisfactory that she concludes that taking days off to meet emergencies concerning her children is necessary. It is a fact, gentlemen, demonstrated by the British experience that the only way these women can be gotten into industry and kept there with uninterrupted performance is by providing a decent, legitimate and honest child care program.

Now, how does the administration through the Defense Council propose to solve this urgent war problem? Do they meet it by offering a program adequate to the war needs? Do they meet it by providing the legislation of financial scope and necessary type to provide for children of six hundred thousand new women war workers?

The kind of program they should offer is outlined in House Bills 41 and 42, which provide child care day centers to be paid by mothers, by the local community with state and federal aid. These centers would care for young school age children, and after school an additional community evening recreational program would be provided.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Crawford will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, as I understand, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, is now debating certain bills which he introduced. As I understand it, this debate should only be on House Bill 849, therefore, I believe the gentleman is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine himself to House Bill 849, Printer's No. 256.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's objection, I want to say that I only made reference to the two bills that have been lodged with the committee since the beginning of the session, more of which the gentleman will hear about later, but suffice it to say the Council of Civilian Defense offers nothing. They accompany their authorizing measure House Bill 849 with an appropriation of one hundred and eighty-seven thousand dollars in their proposed budget. According to representation of this council, including Director Ralph Hutchinson in his speech in Harrisburg two weeks ago, he said that $187,000 is to be used for equipping 187 child care centers. Gentlemen, notice the amazingly small number of centers provided for, 187 centers for the entire state of Pennsylvania for children of 900 thousand women.

On the basis of the figures, 600,000 war working women by December of this year—the State Council of Defense and apparently the administration supporting it will provide care for only 10,000 children when the facts show that there will be an increase in industry of over 597,000 mothers alone. There, gentlemen, we are faced with cold figures, and I assert tonight that these figures are correct, and I defy the sponsor of the bill to refute them.

My conclusion, gentlemen, is therefore that the proponents of this bill who know the facts have, in order to save a few dollars on a child care program, preferred to risk endangering accomplishment of our production schedules. Furthermore, as a result of statemnets by the Defense Council officials this $187,000 is to be used only for the original equipment of child care centers. The only reason for such a limitation is that the forces behind this bill wish to prevent any state commitments for continued maintenance of these centers.

These officials, who apparently are the geniuses behind this beautiful piece of legislation have also stated in a speech, two weeks ago by Dr. Hutchinson, Director of the State Defense Council, that state contribution would be given for original equipment only when the local community was unable to pay in whole or in part. Therefore, a community has to be virtually without local resources for a child care program in order to secure state aid, and after having received this for initial equipment it will receive no aid for maintenance. I repeat gentlemen of the House, it will receive no aid for maintenance. I am actually forced to ask by virtue of statements made by Defense Council officials whether the local community actually will be prevented from seeking federal funds for maintenance in addition to being prevented from receiving state funds?

I want to interpose for a moment, gentleman, and announce to the House tonight that from a very conscientious and far-thinking friend I have secured from the Office of Civlian Defense their secret report to the Governor, the report that created House Bill 849. What does the Office of Civilian Defense say to the Governor on federal aid?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Crawford will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, if there is any secret information between the Office of Civilian Defense and the Governor, would the gentleman have the right to divulge anything such as that on the floor of the House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Crawford, even though the Chair is a member of the Council of Defense, he has no knowledge of any of these secrets. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, am I permitted to proceed?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already so stated. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. LEVY. Pardon me, Mr. Speaker.

I want to bring to the attention of the Members of the House that when the Office of Civilian Defense sponsors House Bill 849 it does so under a cloud. I notice from House Bill 849 that there is no restriction in the bill to accept Federal aid, but there is a trick in the outpourings of the Office of Civilian Defense, because in a report to the Governor which was never made public, and which created House Bill 849 they said

> "And eventually something should be provided by the State in order to deflect our communities from turning to the Federal Government and bringing in Federal aid."
> "The danger," says the report, "in Federal aid is that it will be used for the maintenance of these centers and then will be dropped into the lap of the state at some later time."

I ask you gentlemen of the House tonight, is this the language of a conscientious bureau of a State Department in war time? Is this the answer of the Office of Civilian Defense to the crying need all over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the care of the little tots while their mothers proceed to go into the factories of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

I wonder why the Office of Civilian Defense did not make this public? I think I know the reason why. Most of you gentlemen probably are aware that in the United States Congress, passed by both Democrats and Republicans, is the Lantham Act, begging the state and local communities to take Federal moneys. They changed the wording of the act, sensing the emergency, from fifty percent of contribution to one hundred percent of contribution, and this bureau, this legitimate Office of State Defense, sets itself up as the criterion as to whether or not the local communities throughout the state should delve into the problem of accepting Federal aid for small children.

I say to you, gentlemen, if House Bill 849 is the creation of a bureau by such an agency, I say it is a fraud on the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I say we as a Legislature, heard tonight a bill passed on second reading where the sponsor of the bill, a Republican, was asked if the bill carried Federal contributions, and he said yes, Federal contributions for highways, Federal contributions apparently for roads in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but the Republican party stands condemned tonight in its report by its own Office of Civilian Defense in begging the Governor to refuse, absolutely refuse, one penny of Federal funds for tiny children. Mr. Speaker, not only in financial provision but in scope this bill reflects the same narrow, short-sighted approach to the war effort, and in Pennsylvania's cooperation with the Federal government, as the reekings of the Governor of Pennsylvania when he said we must stop accepting Federal moneys.

This bill limits child care of children to war workers only. The gentlemen will recall in the House when this bill was on second reading, I asked the sponsor of the bill whether a young mother whose husband is deceased and who works in an industry probably not closely associated with the war effort, but germane to the war effort, whether she would come under the classification of war worker. He said he would say she did, but I will say to you gentlemen that the courts would say she did not. Proper fulfillment of production schedules is directly dependent upon successful replacement at this time. Children of these women would be excluded in this bill. This limitation would be to a great degree an exclusion of negro children from such added child care centers, since so many negro mothers are engaged in domestic work, so in addition to doing nothing as a State to stop discrimination by employers which prevent so many negro women from entering industry, we now have an officially sponsored proposal which will exclude the mass of their children from child care centers.

Gentlemen, I want an answer to that charge. I saw that bills which set up conditions which slap our negro citizens doubly hurt the war effort. All of us are much concerned, I presume, as to the winning of this war with the least cost of lives and in the shortest possible time. On questions that have been vital to war production, however, we can recall how not too recently selfish interests delayed complete conversion from civilian to war production many, many months, so I say, gentlemen, just as short-sightedness in industry during the conversion period delayed our production schedules, so this short-sighted child care policy of the State Defense Council is a threat to production schedules in the immediate future. It is therefore urgent that this policy be changed immediately. It is essential that there be an opportunity for more adequate legislative discussion of a child care program. Our great industrial communities, their war workers and their organization which because of their close ties with production and to the people engaged in production have a proper understanding of wartime child care needs, particularly must be given an opportunity in a public hearing to state the problem and the solution as they see it. Let us insure now first by recommitting this bill 849 for further study and by calling for a hearing on child care that we establish a child care program which will be an aid to Victory.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. LEVY. I move, Mr. Speaker, that House Bill 849, Printers' No. 256 be recommitted to the Committee on Education for proper study and for the purpose of a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia has brought out many of these statements before on debate for recommittal on first and second reading of this bill, so therefore I am not going to answer them any more than I have answered them before, that the committee which reported this bill out gave it proper study and reported it out, and I believe it is up to the membership of this House to decide whether they want this bill enacted into law or not.

There is nothing further that this committee can do with relation to this bill on recommittal. However, I do want to answer one objection which the gentleman brought out, and that is that the bill does not provide for negro children.

So that there would be no doubt relative to the acceptance of negro children because of race, creed or color, Mr. Brown and I formulated an amendment which was presented and agreed to, which provided that no child shall be excluded from one of these centers by reason of race, color or creed. When Mr. Levy states that a great number of negroes are employed as domestics and not many proportionately in war industry, I wonder whether the gentleman knows the figures on that. Of course I haven't any definite figures, but I do know from observation that a great many negro people are engaged in war industry. It was our privilege to visit the Middletown Air Depot the other day, and we saw negro women engaged there, doing a splendid work for defense and any of these women who have children at home could now take them, if this bill were enacted into law and these centers put up, could be taken to these centers and their children provided for adequately, and their conduct taken care of, and they would be just as safe as any white child or a child of any other color.

I think the gentleman is trying to bring in something that is not there, by saying that I or the State Council of Defense or anyone else that had any connection with this bill tried to provide that the negro children would not be adequately taken care of.

I can tell him and vouchsafe that no such idea was considered at all, and so far as the color of the people doing domestic work is concerned, I can tell him that in my section of the country there are more white people doing domestic work than colored people, so that I think his objection is not well founded.

I do not see, how anything more can be brought out than has been brought out by the able arguments of the gentleman from Philadelphia on the floor of the House and I do not see how the committee can bring out anything further relative to the objections of the gentleman from Philadelphia. So I ask the members of the House to vote against the motion to recommit.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in furtherance of my motion to recommit, I want to inform the House tonight that the argument of Mr. Mahany against the motion is the soundest argument for the motion. As you will recall gentlemen, House Bill 849 was introduced on March 1 House Bill 849 was reported from the Committee o State Government March 23, three whole legislative days after the bill was introduced. In addition, gentlemen let me point out that House Bill 849 was reported ou of Committee and on the floor of this House before th bill was in print and available to the membership this House, whether Democratic or Republican.

And again, Mr. Speaker, if that is the attitude th sponsor of this bill is going to take on wartime legisla tion, when I recall only a few weeks ago we debated fo two hours the proposition of whether or not we were going to permit a drug association to sell books to its members in war times, then I say, gentlemen, the words of Governor Martin were meaningless. The words of Governor Martin—

The SPEAKER. The Chair insists that the gentleman confine his argument to the question on the motion to recommit the bill.

Mr. LEVY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

In addition, Mr. Speaker, one other argument for the recommittal of this bill. The Chairman of the Committee on Young People in War Time in Philadelphia, Associate Professor of Philosophy and Psychology at the University of Pennsylvania made a statement to the Philadelphia Inquirer last Saturday in which he denounced House Bill 849 as an inadequate and ambiguous piece of legislation, and in furtherance he sent the following letter to the Governor of the Commonwealth—Gentlemen, I regret that I do not have that letter, but I do have the answer from the Governor to him, I beg your pardon. The answer of the Governor to Dr. Pearson was this, and I quote:

> Dear Dr. Pearson, your wire of March 31 relative to House Bills 41 and 42 relating to child care—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman please confine his remarks to the question before the House which is on the motion to recommit.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, the Governor says in this letter:

> All of these matters of child care are having my most careful attention. If you will contact either of the chairmen of the House that have precedence over these child care bills I am sure your request for a public hearing will be granted. Very sincerely yours, Edward Martin, Governor of the Commonwealth.

Gentlemen of the majority, that is the attitude of your Governor on child care. Are you going to adopt a poor substitute? You are going to adopt a compromise with victory if you pass House Bill 849. I ask that we recommit it to the Committee on Education for a public hearing and proper study?

Mr. CULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I think this is a very good reason I am going to offer for the recommittal of the bill. We have two organizations in my district who request that any time child welfare comes before the body that a public hearing be granted, so they can present their side, and if for no other reason I think that is a good, legitimate reason for recommitting the bill.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, this is a very important bill. It affects every mother, father and the children of those mothers and fathers who are giving their every effort to win this war. The least that we could do, as Members of this Legislature, in my opinion, is to get their reaction to the intent and purpose of this bill. They are the people who will be supervised by it if it becomes law. If we want their cooperation, which we will need, doesn't it sound logical that they should have at least an opportunity to express themselves? I am asking the House to support the motion for a public hearing.

Mr. SAMUEL ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to the debate on this bill and I have listened to Mr. Levy's motion to recommit the bill. I listened with extreme interest to his reading of the letter from Governor Martin. I recall when we started this session—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman please confine his remarks to the motion to recommit the bill?

Mr. SAMUEL ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I am discussing the motion to recommit, and giving a reason why I think this bill should be recommitted to committee.

As I said, Mr. Speaker, when this session commenced Governor Martin, I think, aroused the cooperation of every Member of this House when he said that he was interested in putting over a win-the-war program. I sat here through many sessions since this session commenced, and I have seen very few bills come out that would attain that particular end. However, in his child care program we have finally gotten something that will go a long way toward helping produce the planes, tanks, and ships that are necessary to bring this terrible war to an end pretty soon. Governor Martin, who I am sure every Member of the House feels is interested in bringing this war to a successful conclusion soon, has indicated in this letter to Professor Pearson that this bill should be referred back to committee, or he has indicated indirectly at least that it should be referred back for a public hearing, I think that all the Members of the House should cooperate with the Governor and vote to recommit the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Levy and Mr. Cullen and were as follows:

Vol. 27. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 6, 1943. No. 37.

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 6, 1943.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D.D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty and ever-merciful God, we stand in Thy presence with bowed heads and pray for worshipful hearts. Unless our hearts be right our devout attitude will mean nothing.

Help us to have a true conception of God, and what should be our relation to Him. We can see Thy power in the physical world. The fact of Thy power in our lives is just as evident. May we bring ourselves into harmony with that power. Only thus can we become co-workers with God.

We believe that all who are doing their best in any department of the world's activity are Thy co-workers. Help us to win a place beside Thee by our service to the Commonwealth. May all laws here enacted be consistent with God's eternal law of right.

May the divine blessing rest upon the Senators and their families, and upon all our executives and administrators, civil and military.

In the name of the glorified Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

RESOLUTION RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 135, PRINTER'S No. 51, FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROWE, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 6, 1943.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 135, Printer's No. 51, be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise on a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, has there been reported today Senate Bill No. 246 from the Committee on County Government?

The PRESIDENT. Has there been, did the gentleman say?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes, sir.

The PRESIDENT. Yes, there has.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I desire to inquire from the Chairman of that Committee when the Committee met and acted on that bill?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Chairman of the Committee answer the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia? Who reported the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Senator Thomas.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Shapiro, Senator Thomas is not present, so, your question will have to go unanswered for the present.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the record, I should like to state that I am told by three members on this side who are members of that Committee—I am not a member of the Committee—that they had never received any notice of a meeting of that Committee.

I notice from my Calendar, and that is what directed my attention to it, on the notice of committee meetings received by me, that the Committee Chairman has not notified any one of the men on that committee, that they never had a meeting yesterday nor last week, and I notice that this bill comes out apparently today, and I have been told by the three members to whom I have just referred that they know nothing of a meeting and that they never attended a meeting and that is the reason for my inquiry.

Mr. President, I notice that the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor, has just entered the room. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Senator Taylor.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TAYLOR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Dauphin state when the Committee on County Government had its last meeting.

Mr. TAYLOR. Why does the gentleman from Philadelphia ask the question?

Mr. SHAPIRO. To find out when they had a meeting.

Mr. TAYLOR. In connection with Senate Bill No. 246, the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, asked me if it would be possible to have that bill reported from Committee and I suggested that he poll the committee and advised the gentleman from Cumberland that if a majority of the Committee reported favorably on the bill, it would be satisfactory to me. The gentleman from Cumberland polled the Committee and advised me that a majority of the members of the Committee were agreeable to reporting the bill out.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask the gentleman from Dauphin to state whether he knows that the three Democratic members on this side of the Senate who are members of that Committee were not told and knew nothing about the fact that the bill was to be reported out. I am asking whether the gentleman from Dauphin knows that to be a fact.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I accepted the word of the gentleman from Cumberland, as I shall always be glad to accept his word.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I am not questioning that, Mr. President, but as a matter of fact, the gentleman from Dauphin does not know that the members were polled.

Mr. TAYLOR. I am sure they were polled, Mr. President, as the Senator from Cumberland told me.

Mr. SHAPIRO. All right; I will let them speak for themselves.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McGINNIS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in our Caucus this afternoon there were some bitter complaints about the conduct of committees during this session. There were complaints that bills came on this floor from committees that have never held meetings, bills have been turned down in committee which suddenly appeared on this floor. Every bill that appears on this floor should have two studies, it should have study in committee and it should have study here. If a bill is thrown out of committee without a meeting, or, after a bill is voted down in committee, that is not according to the rules, it is not fair to the people back home, it is not fair to this Senate, it is not an orderly or correct way to have bills reported out and passed in this Senate, and from now on that practice should be stopped.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 17, entitled:

An Act creating a Municipal Employes' Retirement System for the payment of retirement allowances to officers and employes of political subdivisions, and providing for the administration of the same by a board composed of certain state officers and others appointed by the Governor; imposing certain duties on the State Employes' Retirement Board, and the actuary thereof; providing the procedure whereby political subdivisions may join such system, and imposing certain liabilities and obligations on such political subdivisions in connection therewith, and as to certain existing retirement and pension systems and upon officers and employes of such political sub-divisions; providing certain exemptions from taxation, execution, attachment, levy and sale; and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, last week I offered amendments to Senate Bill No. 17 which would eliminate the political sub-divisions from the administrative expense section of the bill and I neglected to amend three sections which contained the same provision.

I now ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments to take care of that omission.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 3, page 5, lines 13, 14 and 15, by striking out the following: "to be payable from municipal contributions for administrative expenses". Amend section 3, page 5, lines 21 to 23 both inclusive, by striking out of all said lines. Amend section 6, page 8, lines 3 and 4, by striking out the following: "including costs of administration."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing on final passage.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 18, on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to parole; abolishing the Pennsylvania Board of Parole; reestablishing the jurisdiction, powers and duties of the courts and of the Board of Pardons with respect to parole; and authorizing the employment by the Attorney General of a Supervisor of Paroles and field agents go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I object. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. HEYBURN. Yes indeed, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. I would like to ask the Senator from Delaware his reason for requesting that Senate Bill No. 18 go over in its order.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, there are further studies being made for a plan for parole after this bill is passed, if it is passed—in any event, as to such amendments either to the present act or to the old act, as the necessity may be.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, in answer to the answer of the Senator from Delaware to my interrogation, after a very careful study of this ripper, it is apparent to me that it would be impossible to amend it. If there are any defects in the Parole Act, and I presume that there are defects in the Parole Act, those defects should be taken care of in an entirely different manner and on the basis of other bills containing amendments which could be offered to the Parole Act.

This act, which we call a parole ripper, is a symbol of a deliberate attack on the whole theory of parole supervision and the granting of paroles. It has been a focal point for the interest not only of the members of this Senate but of all the people of Pennsylvania, and I think that we who believe in supervision of parole who believe in the non-political granting of paroles, should have a right to decide this bill on the merits which it might have or not have, without there being any interjection of any other subject matter to becloud the issue, because the issue, when this bill comes up, is unquestionably only a question of whether you believe in a proper parole act or whether you do not.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Cox, that the requests to have this bill go over in its order that have been made during the last week or ten days have been largely instigated by a sub-committee from the Committee on Judiciary General, which committee had the bill originally, and this sub-committee is still studying the subject.

As the gentleman from Allegheny well knows, one of the best ways to endeavor to obtain crystallization of opinion of any legislative act is to have a fair, open discussion of all the proposed pieces of legislation.

When this bill came out of committee and appeared on the Calendar, it was as a result of two hearings that had been held by the committee and the accumulation of a large amount of data furnished to the committee, not only by the Parole Board but by a number of other institutions and associations and federations that were interested in the subject matter contained in the Parole Bill of 1941.

The members of this sub-committee have discussed this matter individually with quite a number of the members of the Senate, and there are a number of Senators whose opinions are still being weighed minutely and they are desirous of having additional time and additional information. Several suggestions have been made to the subcommittee which have seriously interested members of the committee in their attitude toward Senate Bill No. 18, and in preparation of the data and in an effort to determine a righteous conclusion on this bill.

Because I know my colleague from Allegheny, Senator Cox, is seriously interested in this vital subject, I am willing to assure him, and so are the members of the sub-committee that we are trying to earnestly solve this problem, but we do not want this bill acted on until we can have the opportunity to thoroughly and exhaustively benefit by research and every investigation possible in order to lay all the information available before the members of the Senate before the roll is called.

Therefore I suggest to the gentleman from Allegheny, in all seriousness and in an amicable spirit, that he withdraw his objection to the request that this bill go over in order, because we seek his cooperation in arriving at a righteous conclusion on this bill, just as he seeks ours.

Mr. COX. I know that my colleague from Allegheny, Senator Walker, at least I believe the Senator to be in accord with my position on this ripper bill and for that reason, because I am satisfied that he and his sub-committe mean well for the principle for which I have fought ever since the question of parole was first presented on the floor of this Senate, I am willing to accede to the request that Senate Bill No. 18 go over in its order.

I would like, however, to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Surely, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Would the gentleman from Allegheny give the members of the Senate the names of the sub-committee of the Committee of Judiciary General who are studying the bill.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would be glad to submit the names of the sub-committee to the gentleman from Allegheny. However, it has been repeatedly suggested to me not to divulge the names because of the pressure that would be put upon them by interested active groups, and out of deference to the stress and the strain of trying to solve this problem, without being harassed by these pressure groups, I would much rather not divulge the names.

I will say to the gentleman, and give him my frank word, that there is a sub-committee working on this matter—I am not trying to avoid any issue—but I know that he appreciates the gravity of the situation and I would cheerfully furnish to him with the names of the members of the sub-committee excepting that I do not want them subjected to these pressure groups during this time of stress such a the Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General has to take every twenty-four hours because of this bill.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I further desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Would the gentleman from Allegheny tell me when the members of this cub-committee were appointed.

Mr. WALKER. It has been suggested by my Floor Leader, for whom I have the highest respect, not only for his ability but also his sagacity, to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Cox, that the committee can not rightly be called a committee from the Committee on Judiciary General; it is a committee from the Republican Caucus. I am sorry. There are so many on it from the Committee on Judiciary General I thought that it was a sub-committee of the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. COX. Do I understand my colleague from Allegheny to say that it is not a sub-committee of the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. WALKER. I have just been so advised. I thought it was from the Committee of Judiciary General, but I discover it is a committee from the Caucus, and I accept that amendment and I am sorry my statement that it was a sub-committee from the Committee of Judiciary General has misled the gentleman.

Mr. COX. I think spectators should not render unfair assistance to the Senator in refreshing his memory as to where the committee came from.

I would also like to say to the Senator, due to the peculiar circumstances within the last several weeks, that people with whom I have had dealings have been so unwilling to have names recalled—several weeks ago when the Senator was interrogated and asked to name the persons on the payroll of the City of Pittsburgh who had been removed from their employment—the names of the protesting persons—the Senator advised me at that time that he thought, in order to protect them and give them additional job security, he should not divulge their names.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, that involved an entirely different subject. We have sitting in this Senate the Democratic County Chairman from Allegheny County and the Secretary of the Democratic County Committee from Allegheny County, and we also have a number of earnest statesmen from Allegheny County who are followers of the Democratic faith, and its political philosophy, and to divulge those names, as suggested by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Cox, is something I would not do.

However, Mr. President, that has nothing to do with the parole bill. I have tried to tell the gentleman a couple of times I know how he feels about the parole bill and if I had him now in the back of the Senate chamber, where we could speak confidentially, I would say "Johnny, just stay away from this thing a couple of days and we might get it worked out."

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objectin to the request that Senate Bill No. 18 go over in its order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not object to this bill going over in its order, but now that I have heard about this sub-committee studying this bill, I think that it might be well for me, and I think I should have the right to make a few remarks—while I know it is out of order on a request that this bill go over in its order—but otherwise it would make it necessary for me to object and thereafter discuss the matter, so if there will be no objection I can say the same things now as I would say on objection to a motion to the bill going over in order.

I should like to point out a few things that are important—

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair point out to the Senator from Philadelphia that when this bill comes before the Senate, the Senator from Philadelphia will have ample opportunity to express his opinion at that time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That may be so, Mr. President, but the Chair has learned, and so have the rest of the Senators, that there is a sub-committee consisting of Republicans who are going to study this bill.

I too have studied this bill and I think I am entitled to speak, as a member of this Senate, hoping my opinion on the matter would be considered before the sub-committee comes to a conclusion. There is no point in my discussing this matter after the committee has reached a conclusion without some information which I think would be important to the committee.

I had hoped that this was a sub-committee of the Committee on Judiciary General and therefore I could go before them, but since this is a committee from the Republican Caucus—and since 1936 I am not permitted to go into that Caucus any more—therefore I should like to point out a few facts.

It might interest this group to know that we on this side, and I say it seriously, in all kindness, we on this side feel that the so-called cooperation between both sides of the Senate, in the interest of the war, does not exist, and we feel, I personally feel, that on this particular matter, if there was a sub-committee appointed, that there ought to be somebody from our side on that committee.

We have expressed our feeling about the matter, and I disclose no secrets by saying that there was a resolution at our Caucus today appointing a committee of Democratic members from the Senate and Democratic members from the House to call upon the Governor and find out from him what he means and what is meant by this so-called cooperation—maybe after that we will get some co-operation.

In the interest of and for the benefit of this sub-committee studying this bill, I should like to make a few remarks and furnish them some information. I am afraid that this whole system of parole is being approached without a complete knowledge of the facts.

I do not hope to give, nor will I take the time now to give a complete knowledge of the facts, but in order to understand this, I would like to bring to the attention of the members of this committee some facts that I have gained from my own experience. I was fortunate enough to have been appointed an Assistant District Attorney in 1932, and I can give you first hand experience of the workings of parole and sentences at that time.

You know the parole system deals with two subjects, first the sentence and then the probation after sentence. During the time I was assistant district attorney I kept and have in my possession now, as I was fortunate enough to find a diary of 1932, which records every case that I tried in Room 653, which is the criminal court in the City of Philadelphia, and I was in the habit at that time, because of what was going on, to note what occurred in that court, and so I have in this diary a list of every case that I tried, the time which it took to try the cases, the amount of time that was spent in producing the evidence, the amount of time spent in presenting the facts to the jury by both counsels, the amount of time spent by the court in charging the jury, and the amount of time that was spent in sentencing, and I think that is one of the interesting things that those gentlemen who are now considering this parole law should know, because a great deal has been said here about judges being the proper persons to parole and sentence.

My experience of one year and this record proves the fact that the judges, with all due respect to them, are the last persons in the world, in my opinion, to either sentence or parole.

At the end of each week I made a summary of the work, and I would like to read to you the first week's summary, because I think that will make the picture plain of what I am trying to present to you.

There were some 70 cases tried. There were 54 convictions. The trials, convictions, and sentences of those 54 defendants took 32 hours and 22 minutes, which was divided as follows: those 32 hours of court room work were divided—and I am hoping that the Chairman of this sub-committee will listen to this because I know this and I am not making this statement for my own information; I am making it for the information of Senator Walker, who seems to have control—the arraignment of prisoners—Mr. President, I cannot compete with Republicans, either with their votes or with their voices; they have louder voices and more votes than I have.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no voices.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the Senate is not in order; there is a conference being held here on the floor when a member of the Senate has the floor. He should be accorded the courtesy of at least listening to him.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the Senate is in order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there were 32 hours, as I said, and 22 minutes in the disposition of those cases.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HENRY I. WILSON. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Jefferson will state his point of order.

Mr. HENRY I. WILSON. I raise the question that the gentleman from Philadelphia is not in order because he is not debating a question that is now before the Senate.

There is only one question before this body and that is whether this bill shall go over in its order. Day after day we have patiently listened to the people on the other side raising these questions as to whether the Governor is sincere, and as to whether the leader of the Senate is sincere, or whether the State Chairman is sincere, and hour after hour we come here at one o'clock—

Mr. COX. Mr. President—

Mr. HENRY I. WILSON. And, Mr. President, we sit here all day.

ORDER OF THE DAY CALLED

Mr. HENRY I. WILSON. I call for the order of the day.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair sustains the question raised by the gentleman from Jefferson.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to Senate Bill No. 18 going over in its order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to this bill going over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, has the right to so object.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 18, Printer's No. 110, go over in its order.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. When the Chair was about to put the motion, I tried to attract the attention of the Chair for the purpose of speaking on the motion. I am sure the Chair did not hear me, but I think in view of that circumstance, I am entitled to talk on the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, Senator Shapiro, has ruled that the motion was carried.

If the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, wants to ask leave of the Senate, why, naturally, if the Senate has no objection the gentleman from Philadelphia will be permitted to state anything he desires.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is not the point.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has already ruled that the motion that Senate Bill No. 18 go over in its order was carried.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Do I understand the Chair to say he did not hear me request the privilege of the floor?

The PRESIDENT. Senator Shapiro, your ears are very good. You heard the Chair rule on the motion and you heard the Chair answer your question.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as a member of this Senate, on personal privilege, I hope that I have not seen the time arrive in this Senate when a Senator asks for the floor on a motion which is being put, that the motion will be put in such haste, in spite of a member of the Senate requesting permission to talk, that he will be precluded from talking.

In view of the fact that I was about to ask for the right to talk when the Chair was putting the question, on personal privilege, I now desire to give my reasons why I would have been opposed to the motion that this bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules the Senator from Philadelphia is out of order and wants to reply to his statement. The gentleman from Philadelphia knows, and I think every member of the Senate, including both Republicans and Democrats alike know, that the Chair has recognized every member who has attempted to speak throughout this whole session. As far as the Chair is concerned, anybody who wishes to speak, when he is in order and when he addresses himself to the question involved, will always be permitted to speak. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, has spoken a number of times on matters which had nothing to do with the question involved, but in spite of that, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, and every other member of the Senate, regardless of which side, have always been given that treatment.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now suggest to you that I have called the attention of the Chair to the fact that I was asking for the floor and that because of the fact that I was not recognized, I am asking now to speak on personal privilege to give my reasons. I think the Chair in fairness, of course, will allow me to state my reasons.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair certainly will have no objection if the Senate has none. The gentleman from Philadelphia may proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I may say that I am convinced that most of the members of the Senate, on both sides of the house, are interested in what I shall say. I am sure this bill is of sufficient importance—I was about to say, and then I was so kindly interrupted—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Schuylkill will state his point of order.

Mr. WATKINS. Speaking on personal privilege does not include the right to debate a bill, and I submit that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, is now debating a bill that is already over in order. That is my point of order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Schuylkill is correct and the Chair sustains his point of order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. DENT. Under the rules of procedure of any parliamentary body, when a member of any parliamentary group asks the right of personal privilege, and he is granted that right of personal privilege, if he feels any subject that he covers directly deals with his personal feelings on that subject, I take it, Mr. President, on this question of personal privilege, in this or any other deliberative body, a question of order is entirely wrong, and I take the position that after having once been granted permission to address this body on the order of personal privilege, objection cannot be raised until that person has stated his question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland is incorrect. It is not a question of what a Senator thinks is a question of personal privilege. The Chair decides that question and the Chair has certainly given every imaginable leeway to any Senator on either side who desires to speak on any matter whatsoever.

Mr. MUNDY. I plead guilty to the fact that I have not attended sessions probably as well as I have in the past. I feel, however, having come here on several occasions, that I could better fit myself into co-operation in preparation for war work, by taking care of my business at home, and taking care of people, because of the dearth of physicians. I do come here occasionally during sessions, and I expect when I come here to be able to express to this Senate my opinion of what my people in my district want. I do not want to feel that because of technical rules of the Senate that the right to speak my mind and say my thoughts on this floor should be abrogated.

I want to say that I believe, sincerely believe, and I hope I am not wrong, that the majority of the gentlemen on the other side agree with me in that opinion, and when the time comes, Mr. President, that I can not come here and express my opinion, then I shall tender to the Chair my resignation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to state my reasons why I would have voted "no" on the motion to allow Senate Bill No. 18 to go over in order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none? The gentleman from Philadelphia may proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think all of the Senators will be interested in getting these facts. This is not a speech I am making, but a statement of some facts, basic facts gained from experience. I would like the gentleman from Jefferson, Senator Wilson, to listen, because I am quite sure he will be interested in this, in helping him to vote on this bill.

You will remember, there were eight days of trial that I was referring to and there were some 32 hours in disposing of 54 cases, and this is how the time was divided:

Arraignments, that is, taking pleas, took 2 hours and 32 minutes; the calling of juries took 57 minutes, because we use the same jury over and over again in these cases; presentation of evidence took 15 hours and 14 minutes; the district attorney's speech—and I say modestly, not like those in the Senate—took only 43 minutes; the judges' charges took two hours and nine minutes; the writs that were disposed of took twelve minutes; writs concerning liquor cases took two hours. The total time for the disposition of the pleas and the sentences and the convictions in those 54 cases took 6 hours and 31 minutes. That is less than seven minutes for the disposition of any case.

This is not, members of the Senate, an isolated instance, because, if you turn to any sheet in this book, you will find that a case was started thirty minutes after ten and was finished at thirty-seven minutes after ten. I have cases here where people were convicted of serious offenses, tried and convicted within 15 minutes.

I would like to sort of follow that up with regard to that kind of treatment of cases.

Here is a man who was sentenced on September 16, 1935—I shall not give names—for entering and stealing six packages of cigarettes. He was put on probation for ten years. There is not a word on his card during all that period of time about where the boy was or what happened to him until some two years later. I saw his card in the office of Mr. Hackney on Friday of last week. Two years later, without any supervision of this boy, he was arrested, charged with robbery at the point of a gun, holding up a butcher shop and taking $200. He pleaded guilty and he was sentenced to from ten to twenty years. At that time, it appears on his card, that he had two previous arrests, both in 1933. That boy was 17 years old at the time of the commission of his first offense, nothing was done about him during those two years, nothing that would correct him or show him the error of his ways.

In another case a man was sentenced to 15 to 30 years by Judge Gordon for assault and battery and attempt to rob and hold up. At that time he was 28 years old. He was sentenced, and his minimum sentence was to expire in 1943. In October of 1939 the Pardon Board commuted his sentence and he was placed in charge of the Department of Justice Parole Board, and he was paroled by them two months later, in December. Less than one and a half years later, in April of 1941, he was arrested, charged with robbery of several persons at the point of a gun, and sentenced to from 10 to 20 years by Judge McDevitt. His record at the time of commutation by the Parole Board showed four arrests in 1918 for larceny, sentenced three times from then on to 1920 for crimes ranging from robbery to the selling—not the use but the selling—of drugs. He was sentenced to from two to three years by Judge Stern and five to seven years by Judge Ferguson. In 1928 he was sentenced by Judge Gordon, and in 1939 he was paroled by the Parole Board. Since his parole he has committed additional crimes.

This case is the one that has been referred to—I will not use the name—but it is one that has been referred to. In 1929 this boy was sent to the Huntingdon Reformatory by Judge Gordon for operating an automobile without a license and without the consent of the owner. I am wrong about that—in May Judge Gordon sent him to Huntingdon for larceny. In 1933 he was convicted of operating an automobile without the owner's consent. Sentence was suspended by Judge Bonniwell. In July of 1933, just a month later, he was sentenced to from 4 to 10 years by Judge Kun, for the larceny of seven boxes of cigars from a cigar store. His minimum sentence expired in 1937. He could have been released by Judge Kun before that, but by virtue of the Act of 1923, he had to be released when his minimum sentence expired in 1937, so he got out in 1937, some time in July. One month later, in August, he was arrested for breaking into a store. He plead guilty and was sentenced to from one to five years by Judge Flood. In August of 1937, Judge Kun revoked his automatic parole—the 1937 parole—he would have had to serve then six more years plus the one year from Judge Flood—but in 1939 Judge Kun paroled him after he had served the one year minimum and eighteen additional months of the remaining six years. The parole was granted because the mother came to see Judge Kun.

Mr. Hackney's connection with this arose out of the fact that he filed the petition at the suggestion of Judge Kun, which is no reflection on him, as it is the usual procedure when paroles are requested by relatives and they have no lawyers, so that Mr. Hackney deserves no criticism for that act.

Notwithstanding what has been said to the contrary, because I examined this record and I know what it is, during all this period of time this defendant was visited only twice and during this period of time while he was on parole, in 1940, he was convicted and served a sentence of one year in Erie, Pennsylvania. The Probation Department had no record of that or knew nothing about it.

In 1943 he was found and rearrested on a series of robberies, with three other people, during the period going back from 1943 and since his release in 1937.

I cite these cases to you and say to you that the trouble, the vice in our system is two-fold, first, that judges sentence and parole without sufficient knowledge of the facts. You can not properly dispose of a man's future in the five minutes time that is devoted to sentencing him and you can not get sufficient information about that man to make a proper sentence when you do not have a unified system of parole with a proper amount of aid to do the work properly.

Let us not shut our eyes to these facts, which are neither political nor personal; they are actual. Zeke Hackney will say to you as he said to me, "Certainly I did not watch this boy; I could not watch him because the man who had charge of his case had 650 people to watch."

The total of parole cases in Philadelphia today is 10,000, of which they hope to send 3,000 to the State Parole Board. They have fifteen people now on their payroll, of whom four are clerical assistants in the office; nine of them are supposed to guide and watch 10,000 parolees.

When you are discussing in this sub-committee whether or not you should destroy a new system that has been set up, I want you to take into consideration the fact that the system that existed for the last twenty-five years has been a terrible system, the system both of sentencing and of parole watching, and the system can only be corrected by information which will enable those who have to act, to act decently, honestly and capably, and the only way you can set up such a system is to destroy the old system and set up a new one that will work along those lines.

This Parole Board has not gotten started yet; it has not had a chance; it is set up along systems which are not new, which are known; the method they have followed is the New York system, which has been in effect for many years and has worked out well.

When I went to the New York Parole Board to examine their records I found that the moment a man was committed to their care, from that moment on he became their record and their charge. You will find in their records a history of every prisoner, even before his time for parole arrives, you will find the story about his family, you will find the story about his background, you will find the story about the people with whom he associated and you will find reports periodically, very frequent reports, after he is paroled as to what he has done, what has been done for him, where he works, who obtained work for him, and a really intelligent system to take care of that prisoner.

It seems to me that under the circumstances, before you destroy this thing which has only just begun, you should have in mind the facts which give rise to the necessity for resetting the whole system of parole and I brought you these facts, which were not prepared for this argument but which are historical from my own experience—and I hope you will pardon the personal allusion but it is the only way I can bring to you the answer to the statement that any one will hear, that judges are the ones to sentence and parole, and I tell you that you can not try eighteen or twenty-five cases a day in criminal court, when neither the judge nor the district attorney nor anybody having anything to do with the case knows anything about it, without destroying the future possibility of rehabilitation of any of those people.

That is why I say to you, I would love to have stated this in argument against the bill when it came up, but since this bill is not going to be acted on before the subcommittee reports, I suggest that it consider these facts.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 48, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" as variously amended suspending certain provisions of Section one thousand and twelve thereof for the duration of the war and six (6) months thereafter

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1012 of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2329) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damage caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" as amended is hereby further amended by adding thereto a new clause in the heading and after subsection (f) a new subsection as follows

Section 1012 Signals on Starting Stopping or Turning Suspension of Requirements

* * * * *

(g) The provisions of this section insofar as they require the installation or operation of mechanical or electrical signal devices are suspended and rendered ineffective for the duration of the war and a period of six (6) months thereafter

Section 2 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to call the attention of the members of the Senate to this bill, and just by reading the bill you can see what is being done here. When I read the act this morning, I picked out this section and I found that the section which is being repealed provides that when a man is driving a motor propelled vehicle and he is about to stop or make a turn to the left or right, he either puts out his hand or arm, or of the car is so constructed or so loaded that his hand or arm can not be seen that then his mechanical device should indicate that fact, such device to be approved by the Secretary of Highways.

If you repeal this provision and if the driver of a motor propelled motor vehicle has no means of giving notice to someone in back of him, he could stop or turn to the left or to the right with impunity.

As it is now, a violation of this act would give rise to that charge that this was prima facie negligence if anyone got hurt in any way.

If you enact this into law, remove this section, a person can get injured or probably killed with impunity.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

(f) It shall be unlawful for any person to transport on a motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer operated for the carriage of passengers for hire a load of twenty-five (25) per centum in excess of the registered seating capacity or for any person to cause or permit any such operation Provided however That a child under the age of six years shall not be counted as a person when computing load on any such vehicle And provided further That nothing contained in this subsection shall make unlawful the transportation of a load of more than twenty-five (25%) per centum in excess of the registered seating capacity when such load is carried by a vehicle for not more than ten consecutive miles

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as I understand this bill, the present act allows a twenty-five per cent overload for a ten mile stretch haul in buses. As I understand this bill, under the guise of being a war measure, it repeals that feature of the present law and allows an overload for unlimited distances.

I suggest that this is an increased hazard in these days of inferior equipment, inability to get repair parts or proper parts, weak tires and so forth, and we may be endangering the lives of many school children and other persons by the passage of this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS RECOMMITTED

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 294 on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes," by specifically exempting from county personal property tax liability, certain shares of stock in foreign insurance companies liable to a tax on their gross premiums under section twenty-four of the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (P. L. 420), as amended.

be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for the purpose of further study.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 304, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend Sections 1604, 1605, 1606, 1607 and 1608 of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," by further regulating the payment of primary and election expenses, the making of contributions therefor and the filing of expense accounts.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. DENT. I usually attend sessions and I am here today, and this bill is on the Calendar and when it comes up for final action I desire to say some things about the bill and vote against it, and I therefore request that the Senator who is responsible for calling the bill up will not call it up when I might not be here.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I can not assure the gentleman from Westmoreland that he will always be here—I wish I could.

Mr. DENT. I am usually here, as often as any other member, and I do not like the idea of bills going over in order when it is known that there is opposition to them and then calling them up when Senators are not here who are opposed. That is my objection.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree that Senate Bill No. 304 go over in order?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained permission to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the next bill for consideration is Senate Bill No. 305. I happen to be a member of the Committee on Elections. We discussed Senate Bill No. 305 in the Committee on Elections and it was agreed in that committee that the bill would lay over for further study, so this is another one of the creatures we find on the Calendar.

In other words, the wishes of the committee were not carried out. Senate Bill No. 304, the bill which just went over in order, was never discussed in the Committee on Elections. I do not think the people of Pennsylvania care for this type of legislation that they are getting as far as this committee action in the Senate is concerned.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 305 is a registration bill.

The PRESIDENT. Senate Bill No. 305 is not before the Senate for action.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, on Senate Bill No. 305, it is a registration bill, and the committee was polled on that bill and eleven out of fifteen members of the Election Committee consented to that bill coming out on the floor. I gave the bill to the Committee and told them to read it over and I told them that I would like to get their poll on it in about three days and I left it go for several days more and then polled the committee and there were eleven out of fifteen members that agreed that this bill should come out on the floor.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think when a bill is up before a committee and is laid over for further study that is the correct procedure. If you do not have the nerve to vote in committee but you can run around the fellows' desks and they do not know what it is and they say o. k., out of good fellowship, that is another thing.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 305, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the thirtieth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 115) entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the first class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens parties bodies of electors registration commissions commissioners registrars inspectors of registration and other appointees of registration commission election officers municipal officers departments and bureaus police officers courts judges prothonotaries sheriffs county commissioners peace officers county treasurers county controllers registrars of vital statsitics real estate brokers rental agents certain public service companies persons firms and corporations operating vehicles for moving furniture and household goods and boards of school directors and imposing penalties" by changing certain provisions of said act relating to removal notices and eliminating electors" rights to file removal notices in certain cases.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION THAT BILL BE RECOMMITTED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 305, Printer's No. 171, be recommitted to the Committee on Elections for further study, as was agreed in the committee when the committee met.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I object and ask for a roll call on the motion to recommit.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FARRELL and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 305 on third reading, go over in order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 311

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 311, entitled:

An Act relating to appointments, reclassifications and promotions under any civil service system of this Commonwealth, since March sixteenth one thousand nine hundred forty-two until a period after the cessation of hostilities; making such appointments of war duration; providing for examinations at the end of such period; abolishing the State Civil Service Commission during such period; providing for the appointment of members at the end thereof; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Superintendent of Public Instruction; suspending inconsistent laws; and prohibiting the establishment of civil service systems by rule or regulation for a limited period pass second reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. COX. Mr. President and members of the Senate, when this bill was born it had two horns, a long tail and cloven hoofs—at least that was the opinion that a great majority of the people who live in Pennsylvania had of the bill, because it would have had the effect of ripping out Civil Service.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, as this legislative baby grew there were certain changes in its physiogonomy, which made it more like a human being, and I might say at the present time the bill is getting very close to the point when it will be an excellent bill.

It just so happens that Senator Wade and I both have amendments to submit on this bill and we are not very far apart—as a matter of fact we are close together—and I hope after I explain the purpose of my amendments. and their significance, the gentleman from Cumberland will agree with me and perhaps write his name on my amendments.

By way of explanation I might say that I am speaking not only for myself but for the other members of my party who sit on the left. I am expressing their attitude toward this bill.

Last week when this bill was on second reading, the gentleman from Cumberland made a very impassioned speech in which he called the attention of the members of this Senate to the fact that we are fighting a war and there were thousands of the youths and the young ladies of our country out of the country who could not compete for employment in the State government, and he suggested that perhaps if we were not careful and considerate of those people, when they came back they might have something to say about it. So, I wish to place myself and the Democratic members of the Senate on this side in the position that when these young men and women come back they will feel that we, like the gentleman from Cumberland, are trying to be eminently fair. My amendments would accomplish this purpose.

These amendments provide that in the case of all appointments after March 16, the appointments will come from the civil service lists and will be protected by civil service. They provide that after the war is over, individuals who are appointed after March 16, 1942 must take civil service examinations in open competition with all other persons who wish to take these civil service examinations.

The effect of these amendments would be that we would accomplish the very laudable purpose suggested by the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, in affording opportunity for all persons in the armed forces of the United States to compete for positions under the civil service system.

At the same time, we would safeguard the principal which we find in legislation previously enacted in this Senate, and, of course, I refer to civil service legislation, legislation which believes that it is possible to get better employes, have happier employes, if we give them the protection of civil service.

Senate Wade, I hope that you are convinced and that you are going to sign my amendments with me.

So Mr. President, unless I hear acceptance of my invitation from the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, I shall offer the following amendments.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The first section was read.

On the question will the Senate agree to the Section.

Mr. COX offered the following amendments: Amend sec. 1, page 2, lines 11 to 24, both inclusive, by striking out the words "appointments, reclassifications and promotions to" in line 11, and all of lines 12 to 24 and inserting in lieu thereof "persons appointed, reclassified or promoted to any position in any department or agency of the State Government that is now subject to civil service requirements under any law of this Commonwealth, or under any ruling or regulation of any department or agency of the State Government, since the sixteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-two, and until appropriate eligible lists can be established as hereinafter provided, shall continue in such appointment, reclassification or promotion, under and subject to all the provisions of the applicable law, ruling or regulation until one year after the cessation of all hostilities of the war or wars in which the United States is now engaged. Thereafter all such positions shall be deemed to be vacant, and all persons then holding any of them shall continue in their respective position as provisional employes until permanent appointments, reclassifications or promotions can be made from employment and promotion lists established as the result of examination given by the board or person required by law, rule or regulation, in each case to give civil service examinations as hereinafter provided, in the manner and subject to the provisions of the applicable civil service act.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COX and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—16

Barr,
Coleman,
Cox.
Dent,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section as read?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, one of the members of the Senate whom I have great confidence suggested to me that inasmuch as the gentleman from Cumberland has amendments to offer and I have amendments, it might be a much better plan to afford all the members of the Senate opportunity to study them before we vote on them, and if it is possible to do this, I would suggest that the gentleman from Cumberland offer his amendments and then we will let the matter go over in order until tomorrow and then the members of the Senate can accept either my amendments or the amendments offered by the Senator from Cumberland.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will resume consideration of the second section.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the second section?

Mr. COX offered the following amendment: Amend sec. 2, page 2, lines 25 to 29, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines; amend sec. 2, page 3, lines 1 to 11, both inclusive, by striking out all of lines 1 to 10, and the words "other applicable law, rule or regulation" in line 11.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The PRESIDENT. Unless there is objection a voice vote will be taken on the amendments presented by Senator Cox to Section 2.

Whereupon, the Chair declared the amendments failed of passage.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as read?

It was agreed to.

The third section was read.

Mr. COX offered the following amendment to Section 3: Amend sec. 3, page 3, line 24, by striking out the figure "3" and inserting in lieu thereof "2".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the third section?

It was agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. COX offered the following amendment: Amend sec. 4, page 4, lines 4 to 26, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be called.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to section 4.

Mr. WADE offered the following amendment: Amend Section 4, page 4, by striking out lines 4 to 26 inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The powers and duties of the Personnel Director of the State Civil Service Commission are hereby suspended for the duration of the war and until six months after the cessation of all hostilities but the State Civil Service Commission may exercise such powers and duties of the Director as are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act".

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fifth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, in order to save time I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments to sections 5, 6, 7 and the title and ask that they be voted on in their entirety.

MOTION THAT AMENDMENTS AND BILL BE RETURNED TO COMMITTEE .

Mr. DENT. I move that the amendments that have now been presented by both gentlemen and the bill be returned to a proper committee for study. I do that in the interest of saving time and trying to get something done. I do not know how the clerks can follow this procedure at the present time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any seconder to the motion of the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is that the bill and amendments be returned to committee. To which committee does the gentleman from Westmoreland suggest that the amendments and bill be returned.

Mr. DENT. I do not think it makes very much difference—they control all the committees.

The PRESIDENT. Would the Senator from Westmoreland include that in his motion so that the Chair can present the motion to the Senate.

Mr. DENT. I said a proper committee and I would suggest that the President of the Senate should know which is a proper committee—State Government I believe it came from.

The PRESIDENT. There is a motion that this bill and the amendments should be returned to the Committee on Judiciary General, which has been duly made and seconded.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cumberland.

Mr. WADE. On the motion to recommit may I submit to this body that there has been considerable criticism here today of the action of committees. Now you have before you a bill which apparently has been considered carefully here in the body of the Senate but there is now a motion to send it back to one of these committees which you have been so critical of today. I say to you, Mr. President, and members of the Senate, that here is the place to decide this.

The PRESIDENT. There is a motion now before the Senate by the gentleman from Westmoreland to recommit Senate Bill No. 311 to the Committee on Judiciary General, together with amendments offered by the Senator from Cumberland and also by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox.

Unless otherwise requested a voice vote will be taken.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I proposed these amendments and they were in the process of being voted on and I see no reason at this stage of the game that this bill should be sent back to committee.

Mr. DENT. I am sorry but the only other alternative is that you read the sections in full on the amendments so that we can understand them. If you do not want it to go back to committee we will listen to the bill.

The PRESIDENT. We will now vote on the motion introduced by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, to return the bill and amendments to committee.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14.

Barr,
Coleman,

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the fifth section?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendments: Amend Section 5, page 4, by striking out lines 27 and 28; amend Section 5, page 5, by striking out lines 1 to 12 inclusive.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. COX. Having offered amendments which have not been accepted, naturally I do not intend to offer them again. Once this bill has been amended, I do not think there is any question it will pass second reading and then come up for third reading and at that time it will be necessary for every member of the Senate to vote on the bill.

The amendments offered by the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, give civil service protection to all persons employed prior to March 16, 1942. After the passage of this bill, any person employed will not be a civil service employe and will not have civil service protection.

On the basis of my explanation previously, I think every member of the Senate can understand that my objection to these amendments is the fact that civil service protection is not given, for the duration of the war, to all persons who are employed and who ordinarily would be given civil service protection had there been no war.

I am heartily in accord with the desire of the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, to make available civil service protection to all persons employed prior to March 16, 1942, but, unfortunately, that provision is tied in with other provisions of the bill, and for that reason I will be compelled on third reading, to vote against the bill.

I wish to thank the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Wade, for his courtesy today in permitting me to offer my amendments at the time he did, and I regret very much the confusion, which is probably my fault, in that

I did not have the opportunity to explain to the gentleman on this side of the Senate the amendments of Senator Wade as contrasted with my own amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments to the fifth section?

They were agreed to.

The sixth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendment: Amend Section 6, page 5, line 13 by striking out the figure "6" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "5";

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The seventh section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendment: Amend Section 7, page 6, line 8, by striking out the figure "7" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "6"

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendment: Amend the title, page 1, lines 8 to 13 inclusive by striking out all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "suspending powers of the Personnel Director of the State Civil Service Commission and conferring powers on the State Civil Service Commission"

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to explain my vote on the bill that just passed.

In case any of these gentlemen in the Senate are interested in a borough or township, I think they will find now that they are going to be overrun with taxpayers, who, during the W.P.A. program paid money to have their sidewalks and so forth repaired by the W.P.A., and I think if you are going to pass bills such as these, we are going to ruin the financial structure of many boroughs and townships in this state.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 694, entitled:

An Act to amend sections, one, five, seven, nine and twelve, and to repeal section six of the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P.
